[BY MARCONI CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 10.—The German reply to President Wilson's note was drafted after a conference of Prince Maximilian, the Imperial German Chancellor; Vice-Chancellor von Payer, foreign minister and military representatives. This information is contained in a dispatch received here from Berlin.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 10. — The official Wolff Bureau statement has made public Chancellor's reply to the two proposals of Prince Max, the Imperial German Chancellor, with the following appended:

"The exact text of the reply is not published, but the reply gives no further declaration of German government necessary. To this no consideration is necessary.

"A reply to the President's note has been given by the government in the Reichstag on October 5 by President Ebert, who, in the name of the German nation, declared approves the peace offer and makes it its own."

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Viscount Grey, the former Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the first speech he has made in two years and in which he thought peace was in sight, but not within reach, lauded the wisdom of President Wilson's reply to the German note.

Viscount Grey spoke at Westminster at a "League of Nations" meeting.

Pershing's Infantry Smashes its Way Through Foe in Argonne Forest.

Aerial Observers Report Huns Withdrawing Artillery from Front.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 10, (7:10 p.m.)—Its way blazed over a wide area by aerial bombers, the American army again moved slightly forward today in the territory held by the Germans. The aviators who participated in the brilliant offensive that began late yesterday flew over the enemy lines this afternoon and reported dozens of towns still smoldering and a significant quiet in extended areas, which until now have been the scenes of enemy activity.

The aerial operations for the past twenty-four hours have been far the greatest ever attempted. They included a bombing expedition of over 250 planes. The towns bombed included those from the point farthest east in the Franco-American positions beyond the Meuse to Metz. This expedition was carried out with the loss of only one man.

Observers told the officers at headquarters tonight that they had been unable to see any movement on the roads, where ordinarily German transports are moving, and in towns where their presence had not even been reported otherwise, American troops had been seen bivouacking. Here and there an enemy battery was observed, but all reports are agreed that in the greater part of what had been the Germans advanced area, the guns had been moved back.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 10 (noon.)—Gen. Pershing's infantry today again went into action on the left wing of the Argonne Forest front after a violent artillery bombardment lasting all night.

The Germans are throwing in reserves on their left flank, which now has been exposed in the Argonne pocket. The enemy also is endeavoring to withdraw his troops

DEFEATED ENEMY FACING RHINE.

Onrushing Allied Forces See Only Backs of the Fleeing Germans; France Rapidly Being Cleared of the Invaders; Huns Breaking Everywhere.

[RESUME BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The men of the once formidable German armies holding the Hindenburg line north of Cambrai to St. Quentin are facing eastward, defeated and in retreat. Their backs are the targets for the British, American and French troops, who bitterly fought them, step by step, out of supposedly impregnable defenses, and are now harrowing them across the open country toward the German border. Nowhere is the enemy attempting a stand in force.

True, the German border is yet a long distance away; but the past two days of chase have materially decreased the width of the area separating the invaders from their own Rhine line.

Le Cateau, the important junction point twelve miles southeast of Cambrai, represented Thursday night the point of deepest penetration by the Allied troops. The British were the masters of it.

All along the front, however, the British, American and French have been steadily pressing forward their infantry forces, taking numerous towns and villages, while far in advance of them the hoof beats of the cavalry horses intermingled with the roars of the whippet tanks and the staccato barking of the machine guns inside the moving forts. So fast has been the retreat of the enemy that at various points the Allied forces afoot lost contact with him.

The retreat, which is over a front of about thirty-five miles, from the south of Douai to the region east of St. Quentin, has left in the hands of the Allies, in addition to the towns taken, valuable lines of communication and strategic positions of high importance and driven in a wedge that seemingly will force the Germans everywhere from the North Sea to the vicinity of Verdun to fall back.

Southeast of Douai, one of the remaining strong points in the German line in the north, the British are standing in Etrun, twelve miles southwest of Valenciennes, the pivotal point in the enemy's known next defense line, and ten miles to the south the city is outflanked at Solesmes.

Meantime the French and American armies on the part of the line running from northwest of Rheims to the Meuse River are still pressing forward in the converging movement with the armies in the west and gradually are forming the entire war theater into a huge sack.

The Americans continue slowly to advance up the eastern side of the Meuse, while west of the river, in conjunction with the operations of the French, they have all but obliterated the great Argonne Forest as an enemy defense position. To the west of the forest in the Aisne Valley and still farther westward the French also have made further gains. Throughout this entire region the Germans still are offering stubborn resistance, mainly with machine guns, realising the importance of holding back their foes while their armies in Belgium and farther south make good their retrograde movement.

Both in the Macedonian theater and in Palestine the Allied forces are pressing the enemy hard. Albania is fast being cleared of the Austro-Hungarian troops, while in Serbia the enemy is nearing Nish, harassed by the Serbians. At last accounts Gen. Allenby was still driving the Ottoman troops northward in Palestine.

So lightning-like are the maneuvers of the Allies' armies on the various battle fronts—from the North Sea to Verdun, in Macedonia and in Palestine—that except to the war expert with his military maps constantly before him, it is almost impossible to visualize the situation and realize the swift strides the Allies are making in defeating the common enemy. In France and Belgium in three weeks five important cities which had been in German hands for four years, have been recaptured. Dixmude, Armentieres, Lens, Cambrai and St. Quentin are now in Allied hands, while Lille, Douai and Valenciennes seemingly are all but captured. Serbia shortly is to be fully reclaimed and the Turks soon will know the Holy Land no more.

Vigorously pressing the advantage gained by the breaking of the German line between Cambrai and St. Quentin, the British, French and American armies have widened the great wedge in this area to such an extent that the entire German front from Rheims northward seems to be collapsing.

The distintegration of this line is being hastened by the vigorous strokes delivered by the French along the Aisne, while further east the German left flank in the active battle area is being hammered hard by other French forces and the American First Army, in the Champagne, Argonne and Verdun regions.

The taking of Le Cateau, cuts the last of the lateral railway lines connecting the German northern front with the great salient of Laon and apparently makes inevitable the evacuation of the entire Laon area.

The wedge driven from Cambrai east is affecting the front north to Lens. The British First Army is moving forward in the direction of Douai, which seems the next great town marked for capture by the Allies along the British section of the line.

The American First Army under Gen. Pershing is not being outdone by the other Allied forces in the delivery of hard blows upon the trembling German defensive system. The thrust east of the Meuse in the Verdun area is being followed up by further attacks which have resulted in the advance of the line here well up toward that won by the offensive west of the river.

In the Argonne where a junction has been effected with the French at Lancon, new attacks were launched this morning. All the recent gains of Gen. Pershing's men have been held, nothwithstanding the throwing in of German reserves.

WORKMEN IN GERMANY SACRIFICING BONDS.

PANIC SEEMS IMMINENT AMONG SMALL HOLDERS, WHO UNLOAD AT LOW PRICES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BASEL (Switzerland) Oct. 10.—There are persistent rumors among the working classes in Germany, according to advices received here, that Germany's imperial bonds may become valueless.

The rumors have their basis in the repeated Entente victories. The people of numerous towns are said to be unloading their war loans at extraordinarily low prices, and a panic seems imminent.

The German newspapers are publishing long appeals in endeavors to tranquillize public feeling. It is recommended above all other methods that persons who desire to sell government bonds do so through banks, which are ready always to advance cash upon bonds in the usual way.

The public is further advised to remember that the German empire guarantees the loans.

Peasants and small business people, says the appeal, should be the last to dispose of their bonds, because at the moment of demobilization they will be able to buy useful articles of all sorts. When that time comes buyers paying with national bonds will be given preference.

The document on which the appeals are based calls upon the Germans to show their patriotism and also their opposition to the propaganda of rumors about war bonds, which are causing great injury to the empire.

GERMAN LOAN DOUBTED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 10.—It would seem that the German public is beginning to doubt whether the ninth German war loan is a safe investment. The German papers publish as an impetus to the loan the statement that an official declaration will soon be issued announcing that the imperial government and the Reichstag will assume full responsibility for the absolute safety of the war loans.

RAIN OF STEEL POURS ON HUNS.

British Hurl Ten Thousand Tons of Shells Daily for Fifteen Days.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10 (British Wireless Service.) — During fifteen successive days recently, the British artillery hurled more than 10,000 tons of shells a day upon the enemy, according to a statement by Winston Spencer Churchill, the Minister of Munitions.

Mr. Churchill showed the expenditure of such a vast mount of munitions was possible through the intense industial organization of the country, which had contributed a generous supply of shells.

The great scope of this organization was revealed by the Minister through his statement that between 2,000,000 and 3,00,000 persons were engaged in the making of munitions in Great Britain.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 10.—Scores of American sailors were killed or wounded by shrapnel fired by a German submarine after it had torpedoed the steamship Ticonderoga, 1700 miles off the Atlantic Coast, according to the story told by twenty survivors, who arrived here today aboard a British freighter.

There were 250 men aboard the Ticonderoga, an American steamship of 5130 tons, and all but the twenty who arrived here today are believed to have perished. The survivors got away in the only boat which was not demolished by the shell fire from the submarine, they said. Seventeen of the men who reached port were members of a detachment of soldiers detailed to care for horses which were being transported.

The Ticonderoga was attacked, presumably, on October 2, when she WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Word of the first great American air raid against the German camps north of Verdun sent a thrill through War Department officials today, although no official report had been received to furnish details of the exploit. So far as could be learned, however, the participation of 350 machines in this one enterprise marks it as the greatest air offensive yet undertaken on the western front in point of the air forces. No record could be discovered here tonight showing either Allied or German bombing raids on anything like a similar scale.

The most significant feature of the first great American raid outside of its possible place in the great strategic game that is being played on the western front, is the fact that it indicates that the United States has taken its full place be-

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. — The wholly unexpected extent of the German collapse between St. Quentin and Cambrai, which leaves, as the enemy stands today, a great gap torn in the center of the lines that were already struggling to extricate themselves and get back to a shorter front, has given rise to the belief here that there is even the possibility of a crushing and immediate military victory for the Allies.

Should the French to the south or the British to the north also succeed in breaking through before the Germans can complete an extensive retirement, the capture or destruction of a whole enemy army group might be realized. In this opinion of observers here the situation today has almost limitless possibilities and Marshal Foch is virtually enabled to concentrate every ounce of power

BRITISH CRUSH FOE'S RESISTANCE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN FORCES ON THE CAMBRAI-ST. QUENTIN FRONT, Oct. 10, 4 p.m.—The British armies continued their rapid movement eastward today, despite desperate resistance, which they encountered at times from strong enemy rear guards, who were trying to protect the main bodies of troops now in flight.

WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN FORCES SOUTHEAST OF CAMBRAI, Oct. 10, noon.—Between Fresnoy and Bohain, where German machine gunners had concentrated in force, there was the stiffest kind of fighting today. British tanks helped to clear the machine-gun nests.

Allied troops are in force a thousand yards south of the Le Cateau road, and have captured the towns of Estoumel and Igniel les Frissettes on the highway. The British are still reported to be progressing. Six pontoon bridges and two infantry bridges over the Scheldt River have been blown up by the enemy.

British cavalry east of Cambrai seems to be working forward. Late last night they signaled from Beaumont, and they were said to be making good progress.

It was Tennessee and North and South Carolina troops who captured Busigny after overcoming only slight opposition. Then they went forward. This morning the British were well to the east of Honnechy and Troisviller.

Northeast of Cambrai additional important gains have been made. The Germans in this section are offering hard opposition with their rear guards. But this may break at any time, as it did to the southeast of Cambrai.

There are signs that the Germans are preparing for a general retreat, as they must do now that such wide gains have been made to the southeast of Cambrai, and cavalry and patrols are working far forward.

Airplanes report increased confusion on the roads to the east and northeast of La Cateau. The British guns have again been moved up, and are pounding the fleeing Germans heavily. Low-flying British airplanes are out in great numbers despite the bad flying weather, bombing and machine-gunning bodies of troops and fleeing transports. They are doing tremendous damage to the terrified Germans.

The drive, in addition to menacing the Germans, north of Cambrai, is rapidly leaving their entire positions southeast of the river Suippe in a pocket. If the British go much farther east and the French and Americans drive up, the Germans undoubtedly will be obliged to evacuate all this vast stretch of territory.

WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN FORCES SOUTHEAST OF CAMBRAI, Oct. 10 (morning.)—British and American forces continued to advance rapidly and are driving the demoralized Germans before them, according to all available reports on this front.

The whole battle is on a field that was aflame throughout the night. The many fires have completely destroyed towns and farm houses.

The powerful mines which the Germans had placed under Cambrai seem to have been set with a time fuse, the idea being to complete the destruction started by fire and kill as great a number of the Allied soldiers as was possible.

The explosion went off with a roar under the center of the town after it had been occupied by the British. The crash and detonation were seen and heard for miles.

Great damage, the extent of which has not yet been determined, was done in Cambrai.

More French civilians have been freed from the Germans, Some of the inhabitants of the town rushed out to meet the marching British and greeted them with cheers and tears.

Few German prisoners are coming in, for the bulk of the Teutons, even machine gunners, fled as the British and Americans approached. As the Allies advanced the opposition diminished, and finally died away at many parts of the front.

BRITISH TAKE LE CATEAU.

Stubborn Resistance of Germans Overcome and Rail Head Captured.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Oct. 10.—British troops captured Le Cateau this morning. The Germans offered stubborn resistance at various positions, while at other points they gave up without the semblance of a fight.

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—The attack east of the Meuse begun Tuesday by the French supported by Americans had one main result in view. That was to restore the battle line west of the Meuse to the place where it was when the Germans began their attck against Verdun in 1916. The plan also was to clear the right bank of the Meuse of enemy guns which had been causing considerable trouble and also to secure from the enemy certain valuable observation points.

The operation was very successful. The enemy seemingly was taken by surprise. He had massed his troops and guns further east in strongly fortified positions, leaving the Austro-Hungarians to hold the point where the main attack was delivered.

There was no artillary preparation, despite the fact that a normally sustained artillery fire had been necessary to reduce the mass of wire which the enemy had built in front of and between his lines virtually in the Bois de Caures.

The nature of the terrain forbade the use of tanks. Therefore, the attack was unique, because it broke through strongly wired permanent positions solely by the element of surprise and dash. The German batteries to the east, which might have hindered the advance, were smothered by the American artillery at the moment the forward movement began.

The advance of the French and Americans was made behind a rolling barrage. It was so sudden and fierce that many of the Austro-Hungarians were taken in their shelters. Their officers said in the absence of preliminary artillery preparations they did not expect an attack and had no idea that the Franco-Americans were coming until they were among them.

This operation itself was secondary to the larger events that were transpiring on other sectors. It, however, has added largely in further releasing Verdun from the enemy menace. About 4000 prisoners were taken. Today the Germans rushed up reinforcements and delivered counter-attacks. These were unsuccessful.

BUY MORE BONDS, WILSON PLEA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—President Wilson today issued this statement on the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign:

"Recent events have enhanced, not lessened, the importance of this loan and I hope that my fellow-countrymen will let me say this to them very frankly. The best thing that could happen would be that the loan should not only be fully subscribed, but very greatly oversubscribed.

"We are in the midst of the greatest exercise of the power of this country that has ever been witnessed or forecast and a single day of relaxation in that effort would be of tragical damage alike to ourselves and to the rest of the world.

"Nothing has happened which makes it safe or possible to do anything but push our effort to the utmost. The time is critical, and the response must be complete.

[Signed] "WOODROW WILSON."

Where Yanks and British Tore Through

The shaded area in the map between the two lines shows the distance the Allies have penetrated the Hindenburg line. The line as marked indicates the advanced position of the British and Americans, as indicated by last night's dispatches. The Allied cavalry and tanks, however, are going like a house on fire. The Germans, to the south of St. Quentin are in great peril of being cut off. One whole field army is in imminent danger of capture or annihilation.

LANSING TALKS ON PEACE IDEAS.

Says Treaty Ought to be Based on Strict Justice.

First Prussian Militarism Should be Crushed.

Document Must not be Written in Anger or Revenge.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AUBURN (N. Y.) Oct. 10.—"If another world war is to be prevented, strict justice and the common good must be the underlying motives warring nations," said Mr. Lansing, "have been clearly stated by President Wilson. These principles of justice must guide those charged with the negotiations of the great treaty of peace, and must find expression in that momentous document which will lay the foundation for a world transformed.

"Thoughtful men must know that the peace which is to come will not be a lasting peace if its terms are written in anger, or if revenge rather than the desire for strict justice and the common good is the underlying motive of those who are charged with the grave responsibility of drafting the greatest treaty which the world has ever known.

A JUST PEACE.

"I think that it is sufficient in these days of toil and struggle, while the beast controlling the peoples of the Central Powers is still at large, to assert that the peace which will come when the world is safe will be a peace founded on justice and righteousness. Let us not forget that, while stern justice without mercy is un-Christian, mercy which destroys justice is equally un-Christian. When the time comes to balance the account—and it seems to be drawing near as the vassals of Germany seek refuge from the day of wrath—the authors of the frightful wrongs committed against mankind should not be forgotten.

"The period of readjustment and restoration which will follow the disorganization and destruction caused of those who are charged with the responsibility of drafting the peace treaty after Prussian militarism is crushed," Secretary of State Lansing said tonight in an address here. He was speaking at the celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of Auburn Theological Seminary.

"The principles upon which a general peace will be made between the by the war will tax human wisdom to the uttermost.

"In a conflict so universal as to involve the whole earth, new impulses of human action have been set in motion, not only in the political, industrial and commercial spheres, but in the structure of society and in the spiritual life of mankind. Many of the fundamental principles of the present social order will be threatened; some will be changed; some discarded, while novel and possibly extravagant and dangerous doctrines will find sincere and earnest advocates. With all this we must reckon.

"The American people ought not, after the war is won, cherish a pitiless hate for all those who have served the military dictators of Central Europe. We should discriminate between the ignorant and the intelligent, between the responsible and the irresponsible, between the master and the serf.

A CHRISTIAN ERA.

"The new era born in blood and fire on the battlefields of Europe must be a Christian era in reality and not alone in name. The years to come must be years of fraternity and common purpose. International injustice must cease. All men must be free from the oppression of arbitrary power. Unreasoning class hatreds and class tyrannies must come to an end. Society must be organized on principles of justice and liberty. The world must be ruled by the dominant will to do that which is right.

"There is no time to be lost if this nation is to be made ready to enter with the right spirit and the right principles upon the task of readjustment and reconstruction. There is no time to be lost, because the day is drawing near when the spirit of liberty will stand triumphant above the spirit of militarism of which the Central Empires are possessed. The hour of triumph is drawing near. The day of the war lords is almost over.

"To those noble Americans, our friends and brothers, to those who have made the supreme sacrifice and to those who have dedicated their lives to the cause of their country, to the brave men of the Allied nations who have so gallantly died that liberty might live, we owe a debt which imposes on us the obligation of making certain that their service and sacrifices have not been in vain. They fought and are fighting for a better world. It lies with us to do our part to make it better."

WOUNDED THIRD TIME BATTLING IN FRANCE.

SANTA MONICA MOTHER HEARS OF SON'S CASUALTY; LOS ANGELES OFFICER KILLED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA BEACH, Oct. 10.—A cablegram today apprised Mrs. Catherine Clarke, No. 918 Second street, of the wounding for the third time of her son, Sedley Blanchard Clarke of the Fourteenth Royal Mounted Rifles of Montreal.

He was wounded in August, 1916 and he was given a medal for bravery. About a year later he was again wounded and later was mentioned for distinguished bravery and permitted to affix a bar to his medal. And now comes his third trip to a British hospital.

REDLANDS, Oct. 9.—Albert C. Simonds, whose name appeared in the casualty list, was the son of A. G. Simonds, prominent orange grower and packer here and former resident of Los Angeles where he was connected with the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. Young Simonds was killed on September 15. He enlisted from Los Angeles and won a commission as second lieutenant.

Carl M. Tumlinson is another Redlands boy who has given his life for his country, while fighting overseas. He was a private in the field artillery, which he entered in June 1917. Young Tumlinson was the son of W. J. Tumlinson of 314 Herald street.

Private Patrick F. O'Connor of "The Little Black Devils," the Ninety-first Canadian regiment, was wounded in the right arm by gunshot according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Mary J. O'Connor of No. 837 West Eighty-fourth street, Los Angeles. He enlisted in Chicago and went overseas with Company D, of the Twenty-seventh Battalion, and has been in the trenches nearly a year. Two brothers, James and Hugh, live, respectively, at No. 414½ and No. 416½ South Pacific street, Huntington Park.

Aravy Devean, Los Angeles man named on the Canadian casualty list among the gassed, was 19 years old when he enlisted December 12. A brother, Rora R. Devean, enlisted on November 21, and another brother, rejected for service, is living with the mother, Mrs. Bessie Devean at No. 1199 West Thirty-fifth street. Aravy Devean was born in Toronto, Can.

ROME LAUDS WILSON REPLY TO GERMANY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—President Wilson's reply to the proposal of the imperial German Chancellor, Prince Maximilian of Baden, for an armistice and the beginning of peace negotiations, reached Rome while Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page was giving a luncheon in honor of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The President's reply was received with applause. Ambassador Page said:

"The answer is the natural, straight-forward expression of the honest democracy of America, which, with the other democracies of the Entente, is facing the issue of the world. I ask those present to toast the victorious champion of liberty."

Leonida Bissolit', Minister of Military Aid and War Pensions, made an address toasting President Wilson, "who is not only President of the United States, but is our President, whose name Ambassador Page well coupled with that of the king who is the personification of all liberties."

MOSLEMS CONTINUE MASSACRE OF ARMENIANS UNTIL DRIVEN OFF BY BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Mesopotamian dispatches received here record the arrival inside the British lines of 47,000 Assyrian, Armenian and Russian refugees from Urumiah, Persian Armenia, who broke through the Turkish front and made their escape.

Another 10,000 refugees, according to the dispatches, are distributed in Kurdistan towns or are wandering in the hills. The Turks pursued them, but were driven back by British cavalry.

Later the Turks entered Urumiah and massacred 200 persons, mostly old men.

It is reported that 600 Christian women have been distributed among the Turkish troops and the Moslem inhabitants of Urumiah.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Marcos Silvan and Andreas Andreos were found guilty today by a jury in the court of United States District Judge Dooling of violation of the Espionage Act.

It was charged that the men conspired last February to ship 4150 rifle cartridges and a number of rifles from San Francisco to Mexico.

The men alleged the rifles and ammunition were intended for a friend on the Mexican coast who purposed to shoot sharks.

The men will be sentenced tomorrow.

RAIN GENERAL IN TEXAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANGELO (Tex.) Oct. 10.—West Texas, from the Red River to the Rio Grande, last night and today received the most general rain since early last May, when the two years drought was partly relieved. Before noon, 1.45 inches had been received here and all streams were rising.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 10.—There is a persistent rumor here that Emperor William has abdicated.

BERLIN, Oct. 10 (via Basel, Switzerland.)—A postal sack containing 70,000,000 marks of the securities and treasury bonds addressed by the postoffice to the imperial chateau was stolen the day before yesterday.

LANSING COMMENTS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

AUBURN (N. Y.) Oct. 10.—Secretary of State Robert Lansing, who is here attending the centennial of the Auburn Theological Seminary, in discussing the rumor which came from Stockholm today that Emperor William had abdicated said:

"That has been current for some time. Unless we know in whose favor the Kaiser is abdicating, the story has no significance whatever. If it is simply setting up one of his sons in his place the situation would not be changed in the least; but if he should abdicate in favor of a democratic Germany it would mean something."

The Secretary also warned against a let up in the Liberty Loan drive. He said:

FOOD BOARD ORDERS ALL CREAM DILUTED

NOT MORE THAN TWENTY PER CENT. BUTTER FAT ALLOWABLE IN PRODUCT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—All licensed distributors of sweet cream or milk are prohibited from selling cream containing more than 20 per cent. butter fat, Ralph P. Merritt, Federal Food Administrator for California, announced here today. The rule is effective immediately.

Producers who do not distribute their product are not included in cream made for butter making is exempt.

The ruling was made to lower the present price of cream to the housewife and to release a great quantity of butter fat for butter making.

Through the order hotels, restaurants, eating places, clubs and boarding houses will be denied the use of whipping cream or "double cream."

The order followed indications of a serious shortage in the butter market, due to the high price of feeds and labor and the heavy demands for army, navy and export uses.

TREASURY CONDEMNS WAR-STAMP PREMIUM

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The practice of some merchants of giving War Savings stamps as premiums with purchases is severely condemned by the treasury.

"The War Savings movement was created to help the people of the United States win the war," a treasury official in a statement today. "When a retail dealer gives away a War Savings Stamp he does so that he can sell a war thing the man does not need, for which the War Industries Board cannot spare the facilities and labor to manufacture. Thus the whole action precisely defeats the War Savings movement."

Boche Cornered Now, Don't Let Him Wiggle Out, Is Army's Plea.

TROOPS OPPOSE ANY ARMISTICE.

Demand for Evacuation of All Invaded Lands Approved.

Officers Object to Giving the Enemy Time to Rest.

Much may be Accomplished in Next Five Weeks.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY, Oct. 9.—President Wilson's reply to the Central Powers' peace note in which he declines a military armistice and advises the Germans to get out of France and Belgium if they mean business," meets the approval of all American fighting men.

It may now be said that America's fighting men would have regarded it as most unfortunate if the Germans had been given any respite in military operations at this time. While there remains the slightest chance of the resumption of hostilities.

The view is that since last July the tide of war turned, the army has been wearing down the army until the point is reached where the German command has small and rapidly-diminishing force of reserves with which to meet new attacks. The American Army in the attack between the Meuse and Meuse has worn down fifteen Boche divisions and drawn the Boche will have great difficulty in getting the next division in this sector. Every time the front the Allies' attack have been using up the German reserves rapidly.

The situation may be pictured by the fact that at this time the Germans have against two divisions which have had a brief rest while when the series of attacks which if they had eighty-two divisions which had rested four weeks each. Therefore the German reserve supply is nearing the bottom of the bucket.

Then, counting about five weeks of rainy weather. Those five weeks hold glorious prospects for the allied armies and dire prospects for the Germans. We have the power superiority and the German power is divided as between fronts at most points, must be at the open where man power is really the deciding factor.

What would the cessation of hostilities mean for the Germans? It would mean not only that the German command would have time to withdraw, perhaps seventy-five divisions in the next four weeks, but it would then probably be too late for big operations. It would start right away the task of reorganizing the military machine and doing which would be increasingly difficult after five years on the dwindling resources. The Americans are ready they have the men and want him, that they have about reached the point where they have been 18 and that the Germans given no respite are to quit.

As for the cowboy, his attitude is simple. Keep the German out of the front. This attitude with the armistice. The Boche cornered. He'll wiggle out now."

at other points so as to restore the line.

The American artillery on the right wing was active all night. The bombardment met with little reaction on the part of the Germans.

In the center the Americans are holding all the advanced positions which they gained yesterday, and are meeting with little enemy activity except for a barrage.

Early this morning the Germans laid down a harassing fire in the areas to the rear of the American positions. During the night patrols operated preparatory to further infantry action, and this morning the entire front continued to be fairly active.

Fires have been seen burning on the east bank of the Meuse towards Haraumont, northeast of Villosnes-sur-Meuse. West of the river conflagrations have been reported in the towns of Ancreville, Dun and Banthevillle.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Penetration of the German main line of resistance west of the Meuse by the Americans, against fresh enemy divisions, is reported in Gen. Pershing's communique for Wednesday.

East of the Meuse further gains were made during the day, in spite of violent counter-attacks, while in the Argonne Forest, the American forces captured important heights south of Marcq and joined hands with the French at Lancon. More than 2000 additional prisoners are reported.

MUST WORK FULL WEEK TO OBTAIN OVERTIME.

WAR LABOR BOARD RULES THAT MEN LAYING OFF CAN NOT EXACT EXTRA PAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—In announcing awards in three labor controversies today, the War Labor Board laid down the rule that no worker shall draw overtime or extra time pay unless he works forty-eight regular hours a week, except where illness or some other just cause prevents.

This policy meets complaints that have come from many war industries that some employees make a practice of laying off during the week to work overtime on Sundays for higher rates of pay. Today's ruling puts this practice under the ban, and at the same time provides that excessive overtime neither shall be permitted nor exacted.

In order to keep overtime within reasonable limits it is ordered that where more than two hours in excess of eight hours work in one day is required, overtime shall be paid for that day, regardless of whether the worker shall have worked the regular schedule that week.

The awards were in controversies between the employees and managements of the American Locomotive Company of Schenectady, N. Y., the Mason Machinery Company of Taunton, Mass., and the United Engineering Company of Youngstown, O.

In each case the standard eight hour day, with time and a half for overtime and double time for Sundays and holidays was prescribed.

CANADIANS TAKE CAMBRAI.

Capture of Pivotal City Crowns Achievements of Maple Leaf Forces.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Wednesday, Oct. 9. (By the Canadian Press.)—The Canadian troops which penetrated Cambrai early this morning, now are in complete possession of the city. Thus is fulfilled the ambition of the Canadian corps, for the achievement of which it has been fighting ever since it stormed the Canal du Nord and took Bourlon Wood on September 27.

Even if the imperial troops, who yesterday advanced so gallantly south of Cambrai, had had the good fortune to capture the city, its fall must still have been attributed to the sledge hammer strokes of the Canadian corps, before which the defense of the enemy crumbled.

The capture of Cambrai fittingly crowns the brilliant record of the corps since August 8. Cambrai fell to a night attack. The Canadians kicked off at half past one. The morning was pitchy dark, but the careful preparations resulted in all the troops getting to their destinations without a hitch. The Third Division had the honor of crossing the canal and penetrating into the city.

The element of surprise assisted in overwhelming the enemy defense in the streets. Once the Place d'Armes was reached the Canadians spread out over the entire area and by daylight had passed through the city to the southeast well out on the Avenue d'Valenciennes, while on the southwest they had established themselves at the corner of the Boulevard de Liberte and the Porte de Paris. Some enemy elements apparently were caught between the city and the imperial forces further south.

Canadian troops began at once to try to save the city from the fires that broke out at various points. The Allies have not fired a single shell into Cambrai and these fires must have been of incendiary origin.

Meantime the Third Division swept out due east to the line of the Scheldt canal, securing all the bridgeheads as far as Eswars and capturing Ramillies, Elicourt and Cuvilliers. Their victory was complete and glorious.

Troops originally recruited as Canadian mounted rifles first entered Cambrai. The Canadian engineers established a pontoon bridge over the canal at 6 a.m., aided by an effective barrage upon enemy gun positions. The Germans held the city with their rear guards, which the sudden onslaught of the Canadians rapidly brushed aside.

In pushing out east of Cambrai after the capture, very brilliant work was done in effecting the first crossing of the canal at the demolished railway bridge. Two men swam across the canal, bombed the enemy out of his bridgehead, and then, linked arm in arm, the leading men of the company scrambled over the wreck of the bridge. In a short time a practicable crossing was connected.

The enemy began its evacuation of the city at midnight. The Canadian occupation was completed at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Cambrai tonight is a smoking ruin. The Germans have probably never perpetrated a more ruthless nor more premeditated vandalism than this destruction of Cambrai.

"France can never forget nor forgive this," remarked a French officer. "Torch in hand, the enemy comes offering us peace."

When the Canadians entered Cambrai the great public square of the Place d'Armes was virtually intact. Now it is a mass of ruins. The explosions began at 9 o'clock and have continued ever since. All day, in every part of the town, there were explosions of incendiary bombs with time fuses attached and these were followed immediately by outbursts of fire. In one short street a dozen houses simultaneously burst in flames.

The Town Hall, the bishop's palace and other buildings were blown to pieces. The cathedral still stands, but only with its ruined chancel. Fire is lapping the base of the great belfry tower.

As the hours went by the universal character of holocaust developed. The sun was obscured partly and it seemed like a fiery ball in the smoke and thick dust of falling walls.

The Canadian Engineers sought to pen in the conflagration by dynamiting the buildings, but the flames broke out at the backs of the soldiers.

There remains in the city Father Thies, a priest of the church of St. Druon. Two days ago he was ordered by the Germans to leave the city. He refused because he had to attend to a dying woman. The Germans threatened to shoot him, but he persevered and today he is caring for civilians who had hidden for ten days in the cellars.

AMERICANS LEAD ADVANCE

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Oct. 9.—The honor of the brilliant advance of the American troops fighting in the Champagne with the Fourth French army belongs to the Second American division. The battle line shows that the point of farthest advance of the Allied forces in the Champagne was made by this division, which yesterday drove three kilometers north to St. Pierre Arnes. Three days ago this division occupied St. Etienne. The next day it was driven out by an attack of superior numbers of Germans. It counter-attacked and regained possession of the town, taking 100 Boches.

It was the second division which stopped the German drive June 1, toward Paris, when it took possession of Chateau Thierry on the Paris-Metz road and held the Germans back two days without artillery. This is the division which captured and held Belleau wood. The ranks of the American crack division are composed of the fifth and sixth marines, the Ninth and Twenty-third Infantry and the Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth Artillery regiments.

The Americans continued the attack on the German position in the Argonne forest. We are advancing upward from the north end of the Bois Apeoment and westward from the line before Cerny. Machine gun fighting was very heavy. Our troops went forward this morning in a heavy fog which proved a big help. Day by day reports show how we are chewing bit by bit into the German position in the northern end of the Argonne forest. The fighting is as bloody and difficult as any the war has seen. It should put an end to all the present talk about German morale. Their machine gunners fight generally until killed and they effect a formidable barrier to any advance. The nature of the terrain gives excellent positions for machine gun defense.

Despite the protection of ravines, hills and woods being to their advantage the German losses have in two days in the Argonne been terrific. The losses in dead are particularly high, and the situation makes it difficult for the Germans to get out their wounded. Three or four German divisions in the vicinity of the Aire Valley, when our attack started on the 26th, have had to be withdrawn, and two of the other divisions put in have been chewed up. There are now about seven German divisions holding the front between the Argonne and the Meuse.

There is also rather heavy fighting today in the center of the first army sector. The Boche is concentrating troops in the region of Cunel. Numerous fires were seen today back of the Hun lines, notably at Duna and Fontaine, east of the Meuse, where elements of the first army made a brilliant advance yesterday.

ASSAULT HUN LINE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN Wednesday, Oct. 9.—American forces operating west of the Meuse River returned to the attack against the formidable Kriemhild line today. This assault was made just south of Romagne and a brilliant, speedy advance forced the Germans back through the positions prepared so long by the Germans.

Further to the right the Americans forced their way through Cunel wood, which was bristling with machine guns. This success made it easier to storm the Mamelle trench of the Kriemhild Stellung line by sweeping away the flanking fire which had previously rendered its capture so difficult.

ALLIES URGE RETRIBUTION.

Demand Hamburg, Frankfort be Held to Ransom Ruined French Towns.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The demand for something more than unconditional surrender from Germany is becoming intensified in the newspapers here.

Viscount Midleton, former Secretary of State for India, asks that the Allies make a declaration that peace shall not be made until retribution is exacted from German towns for vandalism in France.

The Times says that German towns like Hamburg and Frankfort must be marked down for ransom in return for French and Belgian towns wantonly destroyed.

Indications that Germany is becoming anxious in consequence of the threats of reprisals for the destruction of towns in France are afforded by a telegram from the semi-official Wolff Bureau, received in Stockholm, saying that Douai was burning "as the result of continuous British bombardment."

The reports that the Germans had set fire to a town they were still occupying was characterized by the agency as ridiculous.

The Germans, according to a Reuter dispatch from Stockholm, also deny having fired Roulers, Thourout and Lichtervelde.

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—An official "eyewitness," who has visited the neighborhood of Lens since the Germans withdrew from that city, reports that railways and tramways are torn up and are converted into huge piles of twisted rails. Mayor Basly of Lens says that the city has been virtually leveled.

The population of 35,000 people is entirely gone and the city is dead.

Water fills the galleries of the coal mines, which used to turn out 3,000,000 tons of coal a year.

LOST BATTALION WOULDN'T QUIT.

"Go to Hell," is Reply to Surrender Summons.

Troops Surrounded by Enemy Fight Four Days.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—The brightest spot in the heroic and amazing story of the now famous "lost battalion" which belonged to the Seventy-seventh Division was the climax to the fourth day of the troops' beleaguerment in the Argonne Forest.

When the men were long foodless and almost wholly without ammunition and when many were weak from exhaustion, but not one despairing, an American who had been taken prisoner by the Germans suddenly appeared at the little camp surrounded in the valley.

The man had been sent blindfolded from the German headquarters with a typewritten note to Maj. Whittlesey, reading:

"Americans, you are surrounded on all sides. Surrender in the name of humanity. You will be well treated."

Maj. Whittlesey did not hesitate a fraction of a second.

"Go to hell!" he almost shouted. Then he read the note to those around him and his men cheered so loudly that the Germans heard them from their observation posts.

A composite story gleaned from a dozen recitals reveals that the battalion when ordered to advance last Friday pushed its way rapidly ahead through the forest and, in its eagerness to catch up with the retreating Germans, gradually spread out and widened its ranks. This allowed the Germans to infiltrate unseen behind the Americans and they fell directly into a cunning trap which the Germans had set for them.

The enemy had planned to catch the Americans in a hollow surrounded on all four sides by heights, the greatest of which was a steep hill directly ahead. The Americans, who were not accustomed to forest fighting and were filled with eagerness, dashed into this hollow without stopping to think that the enemy might be awaiting them. The members of the battalion were at first checked by their own artillery barrage which had worked steadily forward. Nevertheless, it had not worked as fast as the troops themselves and the battalion proceeded half way up the hill and there they waited for the barrage to pass in front of them. Then they discovered that the Germans on both sides had jointly flanked them and had closed in upon their rear.

Sheltered only in shallow and hastily constructed trenches, the men were subjected to a grilling sniping machine-gun fire as well as a trench-mortar bombardment every time they showed themselves. Only with the greatest difficulty and with extreme caution could they move from place to place and keep guard against surprise attacks.

EXHAUST RATIONS.

The battalion had started with meager rations, expecting more to reach them later. These, of course, could no longer be transported to them. It was the greatest good fortune that they were fairly well supplied with water.

Nightly and daily, too, they sent back volunteer scouting parties, but if these reached the positions in the rear without being captured or killed they could not tell, for none ever returned.

Daily American aviators searching vainly for them flew overhead, but no outcry the men could make brought anything but a volley of shouts and laughter from the Germans in front and behind and to the right and left of them.

The beleaguered men discovered there were German machine-gun nests all around them every fifteen feet or so and a man to show himself ever so briefly was the signal for a sweeping rain of bullets. If a man made an unusual noise trench mortars pounded the vicinity viciously.

Just for diversion the enemy made a practice of sweeping the whole terrain—the hillside where the improvised trenches were located and the valley in which the men crawled to get leaves and water—regularly and then irregularly with machine guns.

Snipers were constantly on watch. German 77's pounded the locality and hand grenades also were hourly in evidence. The Americans had no rockets or other signals and they were powerless to attract the attention of any one but the Germans.

As the days passed, the Americans grew more and more emaciated and more and more bearded, but they never gave up hope. There was nothing but a grim determination to hold out until the last man was finished. There was not a man in the battalion, wounded or otherwise, hungry or starved but scouted the idea of surrender. Their ammunition was depleted to a point where the few machine guns in the outfit had but one belt of cartridges apiece and the rifle ammunition was running so short that they had received orders not to fire at anyone attacking until within such short range that his death or serious injury was almost inevitable.

Maj. Whittlesey, who is a well-known New Yorker, had his entire battalion behind him to a man. Capt. Leo Stromee of San Bernardino, Cal., told the Associated Press. His men jeered at the idea of surrender and the men who came out of the four days siege are united in declaring that they never would have given up.

WOUNDED MARINE IS ROBBED OF SAVINGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Hold-up men in pursuing their trade, selected as their victim in a New York street one of Pershing's wounded marines, Sergt. William Foger, who, unable to put up a fair fight because of a shattered arm and a wounded side, was robbed of $700 worth of Liberty Bonds and $200 in cash.

Announcement of the assault on Sergt. Foger was made today by the Camp Community Service authorities.

Foger, speaking at a Liberty Loan rally yesterday, told his audiences he had invested $700 of his $900 in back pay in war bonds. The attack took place later as he was transferring his baggage from a hotel to one of the war camp's hospitality houses. Today Foger is in a naval hospital recovering from his fresh injuries.

TRADING IN BUTTER ONLY ONCE A WEEK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—By mutual agreement with the California Food Administration, the San Francisco and Los Angeles dairy produce exchanges will trade in butter only once a week beginning next Monday, Federal Food Commissioner Ralph P. Merritt said tonight. The new schedule is to be in effect thirty days.

The experiment, he said, was being made in an effort to stabilize butter prices during the present scarcity of dairy products and to stabilize the price for each week in order that the retailer who is allowed a margin of 5 and 6 cents a pound may sell butter at a stable price and thereby avoid uncertainties and fluctuations.

ALL HE COULD DO TO KEEP GOING

Culp Had Suffered So He Was Getting Desperate.

Los Angeles Man Suffered Three Years—Without Relief.

Tanlac Ends Troubles and He Now Feels Fine.

"It's a positive fact that I hadn't used up more than half my first bottle of Tanlac before I felt it was getting at the seat of my trouble, and it sure had fixed me up all right," said J. W. Culp, an employee of the Wiley B. Allen Piano Co., at 414½ South Broadway, Los Angeles, the other day.

"About three years ago," he continued, "my stomach went back on me and started me down hill. I lost my appetite, everything I forced down soured on my stomach, and the gas that formed from my undigested food puffed me up something awful. I had an acid stomach and suffered so much from heartburn that I was miserable night and day. I was too nervous and restless at night to get any refreshing sleep, and during the day I was so sluggish and droopy that I had no life nor energy, and felt so tired and worn out that it was all I could do to keep going. I never was able to find anything that would help me in any way, and I was getting desperate about the time I began to read about the way Tanlac was relieving so many other sufferers.

"I decided right then and there to try this new medicine, and got me a bottle. It wasn't long before I knew from the way I was improving that at last I had found the right medicine for my case. My appetite is simply fine, I can eat anything I want at any time and enjoy every mouthful. There is not a thing wrong with my stomach or digestion now, no gas nor heartburn nor acid taste in my mouth at all. I sleep like a log and get up in the morning feeling greatly rested and refreshed. I am gaining in weight every day, good, solid flesh, too, and I just can't tell you how thankful I am for the wonderful relief Tanlac has given me since I started taking it."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Co., under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—[Advertisement.

FIVE FARM ADVISERS TO AID DRAFT BOARDS.

EXPERTS, NAMED BY WASHINGTON, WILL SUPPLY INFORMATION AS NEEDED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Department of Agriculture announces the appointment of the following men to act with the district draft boards of California as advisers regarding agricultural needs:

P. F. Cogswell, El Monte, agricultural adviser to southern district board, division No. 1, headquarters room F, Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles.

A. W. Foster, San Rafael, agricultural adviser to northern district board, division No. 1, headquarters room 400, City Hall, San Francisco.

Sheridan Baker, Santa Rosa, agricultural adviser to northern district board, division No. 2, headquarters No. 704 Fourth street, San Rafael.

P. F. McKevitt, Sacramento, agricultural adviser to northern district board, division No. 3, headquarters State Capitol Building, Sacramento.

W. F. Chandler, Fresno, agricultural adviser to southern district board, division No. 2, headquarters, Courthouse, Bakersfield.

The agricultural advisers are not to be members of the district boards, but are to furnish the boards facts relative to farm labor requirements not only of their own districts, but of the entire country. Such information will be supplied to the advisers by the Department of Agriculture.

The advisers also may concern themselves with individual cases before the district board. County agents of the Department of Agriculture have been supplied with questionnaires to be sent out for the purpose of securing facts about the farm labor needs in the counties.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT ANGELENO AS WARDEN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

STOCKTON, Oct. 10.—C. E. Hartwell of Los Angeles was elected this morning by the delegates to the grand encampment of Odd Fellows in session here to the office of grand junior warden after three ballots and a spirited contest. This office is the stepping stone to the highest honors within the gift of the order and four candidates sought the office.

On the first ballot there was no election. On the second ballot F. O. Roll of Santa Clara and R. J. McDowell of Arcadia withdrew. On the third ballot Hartwell won, over R. C. Black of Chico, by nine votes.

The official roster of officers will read as follows:

Grand patriarch, J. E. Streightff, Berkely; grand high priest, G. W. Hunt, McCloud; grand senior warden, R. E. Rancus, Taft; grand junior warden, C. E. Hartwell, Los Angeles; grand representative, John R. Cronin, Stockton; grand scribe, William H. Barnes, San Francisco; grand treasurer, C. E. Benedict, San Francisco; grand trustees, H. W. Brown, Los Angeles; F. A. Weck, San Francisco, and J. I. Ralph, San Francisco.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING LAW IS PASSED BY SENATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The daylight saving law would remain in effect until rescinded by Congress under a bill passed today by the Senate. The measure, which was indorsed by Chairman Baruch of the War Industries Board, in the interest of fuel economy, now goes to the House.

Under the present law the clocks would be turned back an hour on October 27.

HALF BILLION A DAY NEEDED.

Fourth Liberty Loan One-third Subscribed.

President Appeals to Make Total go Over Demand.

Great Efforts Necessary to Obtain Amount Required.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Oversubscription of the $6,000,000,000 Liberty Loan was declared tonight by President Wilson to be a matter of world importance at this critical time.

"Recent events have enhanced, not lessened, the importance of this loan," said the President's statement. "The best thing that could happen would be that the loan should not only be fully subscribed, but very greatly oversubscribed."

Accordingly, instructions will go forth tomorrow to Liberty Loan committees everywhere to do even more than in the last eleven days to get every man, woman and youth in America to hold up the hands of the government by buying bonds, and more bonds than they have already engaged. Americans in the next nine days ending Saturday, October 19, must participate in the biggest outpourings of individual resources ever recorded in any nation.

Two billions already have been raised—one-third of the minimum now sought. To barely touch the $6,000,000,000 mark, new subscriptions at the average rate of $500,000,000 a day are needed. An excess over that will be required to fulfill President Wilson's appeal for oversubscription.

In the results hereafter will be read the nation's answer.

Today's reports added $233,000,000 to the national total, which stood tonight at $3,024,037,050, or 33.7 per cent. of the quota. The St. Louis district continued to lead in the percentage raise, and today passed the two-thirds post. Detroit, Louisville, Hartford, Ct., Fall River, Mass., and Duluth achieved their quotas, and announced their intention of going ahead without slackening speed.

Detroit is the first city of more than 500,000 population to join the 100 per cent. class.

Sales by districts were reported by the Treasury Department tonight as follows:

District—	Subscriptions	Per centage
St. Louis	$174,286,300	71
Minneapolis	107,000,000	71
Boston	285,477,000	47
San Francisco	170,033,450	42
Dallas	74,000,000	37
Chicago	295,294,000	37
Cleveland	180,200,750	37
Richmond	93,000,000	37
Philadelphia	153,704,900	35
New York	445,000,000	33
Atlanta	44,350,000	29
Kansas City	58,400,500	27

Managers of the loan campaign are counting strongly on the harvest of pledges next Saturday, Liberty Day, to swell the total. Secretary McAdoo today decided to go to Chicago to address a meeting there Saturday evening in the interest of the loan.

New England continues its desperate fight against the influenza epidemic and reported a $21,030,000 gain today. Two hundred and fifty-four communities have obtained their quotas.

A $15,000,000 gain was reported in the Philadelphia district.

GOTHAM WAY BEHIND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—With virtually two-thirds of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign gone and $445,124,750 of the New York Federal Reserve District's quota of $1,000,000,000 subscribed, the Central Liberty Loan Committee tonight issued a solemn call to the people of the district, not to fail the nation "in this greatest of all moments in the world's history."

New York City's total subscription tonight was reported as $308,921,850, or 33.2 per cent. of its quota.

Among today's larger subscriptions were $5,000,000 by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, $3,000,000 by the Chatham and Phoenix National Bank, $2,050,000 by Wilcox, Peck and Hughes and allied interests, and $1,500,000 by the Savage Arms Company and employees.

DETROIT 100 PER CENT. CITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. — Only $10,000,000 worth of Liberty Bonds were sold in Chicago today, leaving the city still $132,000,000 short of its quota and with only eight more days in which to make up this deficit. Chicago's quota is $252,360,000.

Detroit, it was announced, has completed its quota and is the first real big city of the United States to obtain its allotment. Up to noon yesterday the city had secured subscriptions of more than its allotment of $73,312,000, with the drive still on with prospects of a big oversubscription. The notable feature of the campaign in Detroit was the fact that the entire quota was raised without banks taking a dollar's worth. Factory towns and cities in Michigan especially are going strong, many industrial concerns reporting 100 per cent. subscriptions among their employees.

Wisconsin has secured subscriptions of upwards of $60,000,000.

DOUBLE SUBSCRIPTION, M'ADOO PLEADS TO ALL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Secretary McAdoo today appealed to every citizen to double his loan subscription to match the achievements of the Allied armies in France.

"The brilliant victories of our British, American and French forces yesterday," said the Secretary, "should impel every patriotic American immediately to double his subscriptions to Liberty Bonds. That is the way to put the Fourth Liberty Loan over quickly and that is the best way to strengthen the fighting power of these brave men who are moving with such irresistible dash and success against the Huns.

"Let every one double his subscription today and let everyone who has not subscribed make his subscription today. Don't put it off. Let our boys and their comrades in the battle line know that we are fighting with the same enthusiasm and determination here as they are over there, and more than all that we appreciate, as well as glory in what they are doing, not by words, but by deeds."

LE CATEAU CAPTURE REPORTED BY HAIG.

BRITISH SWEEP FORWARD MORE THAN TEN MILES BEYOND CAMBRAI.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Le Cateau has been captured by the British, Field Marshal Haig announces in his report tonight.

The British now hold the line of the Selle River from St. Souplet to Solesmes, which represents an advance of about ten miles east of Cambrai. Many civilians have been found in the captured towns and villages, 2500 being liberated in Caudry alone. The text of the statement reads:

"At dawn this morning our advance was resumed along the whole battle front. At all points rapid progress was made in spite of the efforts of the enemy's rear guards to hold up the advance.

"Our troops, approaching the large woods east of Bohain, have entered Vaux-Andigny. North of that place we have reached the general line of the Selle River from St. Souplet to the neighborhood of Solesmes and have captured Le Cateau.

"West of Solesmes we captured Avesnes and Rieux, and then St. Martin.

"West of the Scheldt Canal we have taken Etrun.

"Southeast of Lens, our troops have made further progress and have captured Rouvroy."

The attack of the Anglo-American forces in the breach between St. Quentin and Cambrai resulted yesterday evening in continued advances, according to Field Marshal Haig's earlier report today. The British were then within two miles of Le Cateau.

Further progress was made by the British last night toward the northern part of the present battle front to the east of Cambrai. Fighting is going on southeast of Cambrai, on both sides of Caudry.

Between Lens and the Scarpe the British were advancing and were in touch with the Germans to the west of the line of Vitry-en-Artois, Aselies-Equerchin and Rouvroy.

The text of the statement reads:

"We continued to advance yesterday and yesterday evening in the face of increasing resistance and early in the night advanced detachments established themselves across the Cambrai-Le Cateau road within two miles of Le Cateau.

"Fighting is taking place south of the main road on both sides of Caudry, and also east of Cambrai, where we have made progress. We have gained possession of Saulaumines and Noyelles."

The capture of Saulaumines and Noyelles represents a British advance in the district east of Lens.

ASKS PRISONERS' AID TO REBUILD FRANCE.

AMERICAN EDUCATOR DECLARES GERMANS SHOULD UNDO HARM DONE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

TOURS (France) Oct. 10.—William Oxley Thompson, president of Ohio State University, and chairman of the United States Agricultural Commission in France, advocates the employment of German prisoners in the work of reconstruction after the war. He said today:

"German prisoners should be used for work on the farms and to finish the work of reconstruction after the war, for the battlefields are filled with unexploded shells. The military authorities should supervise the work. You can charge indemnities, but you cannot get the land ready to plow without great risk. The Germans should be compelled to take this risk as part of the price for their wanton destruction.

"If German prisoners are allowed to return home, it will reinforce Germany and leave France on its back. Even after suffering a military defeat, Germany could win an economic victory if German prisoners were allowed to return."

TAXING OF POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS URGED

SENATOR PROPOSES TO CONFISCATE ALL PARTY DONATIONS OVER $500.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Political campaign contributions would be taxed under an amendment to the war revenue bill introduced today by Senator Thomas of Colorado, and referred to the Senate Finance Committee, which is revising the House draft of the measure. The amendment provides that all contributions exceeding $500 shall be taxed 100 per cent., while lesser amounts would be subjected to lower rates.

The Finance Committee made but little progress today in its revision of the House draft. The provision for a supertax of 10 per cent. on platinum used in the manufacture of jewelry was stricken from the bill. Jewelers appearing before the committee argued that the value of platinum used by them was not sufficient to warrant an additional tax of 10 per cent. and that the government did not demand the metal they are using.

LOWER IMMIGRATION BARS FOR FIGHTERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Waiving of immigration laws to permit the re-admission, regardless of physical condition, within two years after peace is declared, of aliens who enlisted or were drafted in the military service of the United States or any of its co-belligerents is authorized in a jurisdiction resolution adopted today by the Senate.

The House already had adopted the measure.

ARMY FLYER INJURED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, Oct. 10.—Lieut. Clifford C. Nutt, pilot of the battle plane from Ellington Field, Houston, Tex., suffered injuries from which Nutt's injuries consist chiefly of wire cuts across the face and throat, he having been thrown violently against the supporting wires of his machine when the plane struck a tree. Lieut. R. L. Grantz, his companion in the trip from Houston to Denis expected he will recover shortly, when his plane was wrecked at City Park today, as it was starting on its trip to Kansas City. Lieut. Nutt, jumped in time to avoid being caught in the wreckage of the plane and escaped uninjured.

AIR MAIL FLEET AFTER THE WAR

Capt. Lipaner Says Kipling Dream Soon to be True.

Planes will Carry Five Tons, Displacing Trains.

Wireless on Machine; Speed 125 Miles an Hour.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. — Kipling's dream of the "Flight of the Night Mail," great planes racing from the Atlantic Coast to the Pacific and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, heedless of storms, guided at night by searchlights and in the day by giant landing places will be a reality within three years, Capt. E. B. Lipaner, in charge of the government's aerial mail service, predicted today.

A sunrise to sunset air mail service between New York and San Francisco, using the airplane equipment of the army, now in service in France, or being built, with Chicago as the hub of the system, is being projected now, he declared.

The elimination of the railways as carriers of first-class mail will take place soon after the end of the war, he added.

Capt. Lipaner arrived in Chicago to complete plans for the opening of the aerial mail between New York and Chicago on November 1. "All of the cities along the route have already established landing fields and are building hangars," he said.

Commenting on what has already been accomplished in the East, he said:

"Last month we had a perfect score in mail delivery between New York, Philadelphia and Washington, with no accidents or casualties.

"The speed averaged was more than 125 miles an hour, and I believe this can be maintained on all routes. Night flying will soon be a regular thing in the aerial mail service and the planes we are using and building will be able to fly in any kind of weather. While our present weight carrying limit is 700 pounds, I believe we can soon raise it to five tons. The Caproni planes will carry as much mail as an average mail train. At a speed of 125 miles an hour, it will cost not more than $50 an hour to operate a mail plane.

"All our planes will carry wireless, and we will have, eventually, machines large enough to carry three and four men in addition to their mail pouches. There are twenty-five machines in the service now and more are to be added from time to time. We will soon be making the run from New York to Chicago in ten hours or less.

"It has been decided by the government, that when the war has been won, all the airplane equipment used by the army will be turned over to the mail service, and it is easily seen that, with the great number of men being trained for the air service by the army, there will be plenty of pilots for the A.M.S."

MASONIC GRAND LODGE SEES OFFICER WEDDED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—In the presence of the California Grand Lodge of Masons and attended by its Grand officers, Theodore J. Milliken of Sacramento, Grand Pursuivant, was married here today to Mrs. Lida O'Brien of Sacramento, the ceremony being performed by Judge Albert G. Burnett of Santa Rosa, Past Grand Master. This was said to be the first marriage ceremony witnessed by a grand lodge in California.

John Wicher, Grand Secretary, announced today the California Grand Lodge would purchase $11,000 of Liberty Bonds tomorrow.

Resolutions were adopted pledging the grand lodge to purchase $35,000 of the bonds.

Charters were granted the Yorba Linda Lodge of Orange county, the Lincoln Lodge of San Francisco and the Delta Lodge of Stockton.

FLYERS GIVEN CHANCE TO WIN LIBERTY BOND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—To promote competition and thus increase efficiency among aviators of the army, navy and Marine Corps, the Aero Club of America announced today, trophies and Liberty Bonds totalling $6000 will be given for excellence in the various phases of aerial work, under rules to be formulated by the United States aviation authorities.

The gift is made under the terms of the will of Samuel Valentine, late member of the board of governors of the Aero Club, who left $10,000 to be spent in the development of aviation.

SAXON KING, CABINET CALL DIET MEETING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, executive officer of the State Industrial Welfare Commission, has been named as representative of the Navy Department to oversee labor contracts in California, the commission officer announced here today. Mrs. Edson is in Washington to attend conferences of the Federal War Labor Policies Board.

American Gets Cross of Italy.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Oct. 10.—The Italian government has conferred upon Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, the title of grand officer of the crown of Italy. This is the highest honor that Italy can confer upon a foreign civilian, and Mr. Davison is the first American to receive it.

DESPERATION IN TURKEY

Direct Appeal to Allies for Peace at Any Price is Expected.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Porte has been advised that Bulgaria is expected to send troops against Turkey in an expedition planned by the entente Allies, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam, quoting advices from Constantinople. The dispatch says it is thought probable the Bulgarian Minister to Turkey will be handed passports within twenty-four hours.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The nonappearance of the Turkish peace note, reported to have been sent simultaneously with that of Germany to Austria, and the report from London and Paris of impending and far reaching events in Constantinople have strengthened the view here that the situation in Turkey is desperate.

It is believed by officials in touch with Turkish affairs that the pro-German government faces utter collapse, if indeed, that has not already taken place, and that the new government will make a direct appeal to the Allies for peace at any price.

The State Department has heard unofficially that representatives of the various factions in Turkey already have appealed to officials of the Allied government at Saloniki, promising to accept unconditional terms.

ALLIED FLEET IN BEIRUT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—French and British warships which entered Beirut, the chief seaport of Syria, on Sunday, found that the town had been evacuated by the Turks, says an official statement issued today by the British War Office.

Beirut was occupied by detachments of British Indian infantry Tuesday.

Prisoners taken by the Egyptian expeditionary force, exclusive of those taken by the Arabs, have risen to more than 75,000. It is estimated that of the entire strength of the Turkish Fourth, Seventh and Eighth armies, not more than 17,000 escaped, this figure including effective rifles.

Many of the prisoners were in a lamentable state of exhaustion. They are receiving treatment and attention as far as possible.

The new Turkish War Minister, Izzet Pasha, former commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces operating to advices received by the Morning News. He is bitterly opposed to the defunct pro-German party.

ALLIES NEAR MONASTIR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Serbian troops operating in Serbia and pursuing towards the Monastir sector, according to the Central News Agency. The Serbian army has reached a line between Prilep and Krivolak, eighteen miles south of Monastir.

Serbian troops pursuing the defeated Ninth Austrian army on Monday entered Leskovac, which is two miles south of Nish, the Agency dispatches, according to an official statement issued today.

The Serbians took several thousand prisoners and captured a large quantity of material.

ENEMY HOSTS IN FLIGHT

Fifteen-Mile Lunge by the Allies Starts Great German Retreat.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Oct. 10. — A quarter of a million Germans now are in full retreat between Cambrai and St. Quentin, with the Allies hot at their heels, according to the battle front reports today. At some points the advance has exceeded fifteen miles in the last two days.

This forward movement of the Allies is regarded as the first step in the great general retreat of the Germans, which now seems inevitable, for it is doubtful whether Gen. Ludendorff has such fortified positions on the Upper Oise and Cambrai Canal as to permit him effectively to resist the exploitation of the victory of the last two days, on the Allied side.

The success in the Cambrai-St. Quentin section of the front was in a large measure made possible by the splendid achievements of Gen. Gouraud's men and the Americans from Rheims to the Meuse. Because a break in that part of the front would have much worse consequences for the enemy than anywhere else, the Germans concentrated most of their reserves there. Gen. Gouraud not only succeeded in holding them there—in itself a valuable service—but notwithstanding the difficult country and the powerful artificial defenses, he has made and is continuing to make wonderful progress.

Yesterday Gen. Gouraud's forces advanced still farther toward the important junction of Vouziers, while the Americans pushed forward and joined the French, south of Grandpre, thus completing the conquest of the Argonne Forest.

The result of Marshal Foch's skillful strategy is that the region of Laon and the St. Gobain massif has become so dangerous that the evacuation of this vast and important pocket seems imperative.

French troops last night pursued the retreating Germans in the region east of St. Quentin. The War Office announced today that they have passed Fontaine Notre Dame and Beautreux.

In fighting north of the Aisne the French pressure resulted in capturing the Plateau de Craonne and the ridge from the Germans, while to the east a crossing of the Aisne was effected in the region of Berry-en-Prayeres.

Attacking vigorously in the Champagne, the French captured two miles west of Monthois.

The Germans also paid visits to Reims and Soissons.

AMERICAN FLYERS TO CARRY OXYGEN TANKS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Aviators' tanks containing sufficient oxygen for six to eight hours breathing will be carried hereafter by every American aviator going over the German lines in combat or bombing raids, it was announced today by pilots and observers returned from the nuisance planes going higher than 15,000 feet.

The War Department announced today that the tanks now being turned out in sufficient quantity for the United States.

To Pay Deceased Soldiers' Bonus.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Senate today passed a bill by Senator Lodge providing for payment bill authorizing the secretary of war to reimburse estates of deceased soldiers to whom American Liberty Bonds have been awarded as a bonus. Senator Lodge said his regret was that the President had not gone further on the subject. Senator Lodge read from the President's speech delivered last December 27, in which the President said there can be no peace by negotiation and that Germany's armies and people have shown that they are beaten and that Germany's armies and would destroy confidence in their word if they should attempt to use their present military power to secure peace by negotiation.

Lodge had ... which the Presi- ... speech delivered last ... it, in which the Presi- ... be no peace by ... that Germany's ... that they are ... statement Senator Lodge said he was still with the President, but he could not approve the "note of inquiry."

"Believing, as I did, that the reply to the Chancellor would be in the same high tone," he added, "I was astonished when I read, not a reply, but three queries."

Senator Lodge said he could not conceive that the Chancellor represented anything but the executive constitutional authority under which he was appointed, because he can not represent anything else.

PERSONAL OPINIONS.

"Peace negotiations, however proposed," he said, "are entirely different from the constitutional viewpoint from the conduct of war. The President in the conduct of war is the commander-in-chief and it is my duty to support him whether I agree entirely with him or not. In the question of making peace, the President is not the commander-in-chief. The power to negotiate is wholly his but it can not be final without the advice and consent of the Senate. The responsibility of the Senate in dealing with any question of peace is as great as that of the President."

Discussing the President's inquiry as to the German Chancellor's attitude toward the fourteen articles which Senator Lodge described as "broad principles and not terms," the Senator continued:

"The fact is that the President's questions have given rise to questions of the interpretation from one end of the country to the other. Was it a crime for me to wish that he had sent an answer that needed no explanation or interpretation?"

NOTE TO AUSTRIA.

Referring to President Wilson's last note to Austria, Senator Lodge pointed out that he was the first to approve it in the Senate and that he preferred a similar reply to Germany.

"What the Chancellor will say I do not know," Senator Lodge continued, "but it gives him a chance to say many things. In one instance the President laid down the principle that the wrong done France in 1870 should be righted. The detail is how it shall be righted. France thinks it can be righted in only one way and that is with the return of the lost provinces without condition or without any German arrangement for autonomy or for a buffer state.

"I hope I will not say anything to border on treason, but France's view on that is my view."

Referring to the statement on the President's reply made in Rome by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, that there must be unconditional surrender, Senator Lodge said:

"All I say is what Mr. Gompers says and they will be very slow to accuse Mr. Gompers of hostility to the President. I believe Mr. Gompers correctly interprets the will and wish of the American people.

"The Senator from Nevada undertook to give a party complexion to the matter. If there is any party advantage in it, I say to you that I would forfeit any advantage either to myself or my party if the President would only have written a note like his Baltimore speech and others he has made instead of a series of queries."

Senator Poindexter of Washington, another Republican, praised Senator Lodge's declaration for an "unqualified victory."

"If the Senator from Nevada is correct, then I take my stand by the Senator from Massachusetts and not by the President," continued Senator Poindexter, who declared the President's action had been most unfortunate.

AIR NAVY DROPS TONS OF BOMBS.

side the Allies in the air as well as on land and sea.

The language of the account of the raid permitted to pass by the American military censor is taken here to indicate that the operation was a joint enterprise with French, and possibly British forces aiding in the protection of the Americans. The reference to fifty triplanes as included in this great air fleet found no explanation here. If they were operated by American pilots they are French-built machines and no details of the equipment obtained abroad by Gen. Pershing have been released for publication.

The fact that only thirty-two tons of bombs were dropped by such a force struck some air services officers as surprising. The ordinary bomb capacity of a fleet of the kind described for such a short trip probably would be ten times that weight of explosives, it was said.

The bombing squadrons which made up this air fleet probably represent the first definite American unit of major importance in the independent air forces which are being built up by the Entente Powers. The British and French governments now officially describe their bombing operations as the work of this independent air force.

What is meant is that the navy of the air is to be expanded until no part of Germany shall be safe from the rain of bombs. It is a thing apart from the fighting, observation and bombing squadrons attached to the various army corps which work in close co-operation with the troops on attack or defense. The work of the independent force is bombing munition work, factories, cities and other important centers far behind the German lines. It has been specifically promised that eventually Berlin itself will know what an air raid means, and the whole great project is a direct answer to the German air attacks upon helpless and unfortified British, French and Belgian towns.

Another striking point about the size of the American raiding fleet is the fact that it is only the first American blow from the air in this campaign. The very size of that force is a warrant for the overwhelming character of the American air fleets that will come in time.

AIR NAVY AT WORK.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 10, 12:30 p.m.—An American bombing expedition, consisting of more than 350 machines, dropped thirty-two tons of explosives on German cantonments in the area between Wavrille and Damvilliers, about twelve miles north of Verdun.

The American bombing exploit marks one of the high spots in the air fleet operations of the war. In the expedition were more than 200 bombing airplanes, 100 pursuit machines and fifty triplanes.

The bombing machines were given splendid protection during the aerial battle which took place during the operation. Twelve enemy machines were destroyed. Only one Entente plane failed to return.

In addition, American airplanes yesterday destroyed or brought down five German machines and one balloon. They also took a great number of photographs and dropped newspapers to the American troops.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—There was intense aerial activity over the whole of the American front today. Lieuts. Irwin and Easterbrook, while on a liaison mission, encountered a Boche plane near Exermont and forced it to retire. A few minutes later they met a German biplane and a monoplane over Varennes, and they drove the biplane down out of control.

The Americans next encountered two biplanes and forced them to retire. Starting onward again they encountered a biplane which they engaged and crashed. The Americans then finished their mission of locating a certain unit. Returning home they fought a big Haberstadt, but without result.

FRENCH ACTIVITIES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—The official report on aerial operations tonight says:

"On October 8 unfavorable atmospheric conditions for flying permitted us to carry out only restricted work. Three enemy planes were brought down and two captive balloons were burned.

"During the night the weather improved and our bombing squadrons took to the air. They dropped more than twenty-six tons of projectiles on the stations at Marle, Mont Cornet, Rethel, Asfeld-La Ville Juntiville and Chatelet-Sur-Retourne and on the railroads between the stations. Fires and explosions were caused at various points."

LONDON, Oct. 10.—British aviators last night bombed railways at Mezieres, Metz-Sablons and Thionville and airdromes at Frescaty and Morhange, according to the statement issued by the Air Ministry tonight. Metz-Sablons was attacked today.

OVER THE RHINE THE NEXT MOVE.

at his command in an effort to execute a final coup.

The smashing victory of the Anglo-American forces north of St. Quentin may be paving the way for early invasion of Germany itself. Striking hints of a wholly new enterprise directed at the upper Rhine Valley have come from unofficial quarters in France and they follow repeated reports from Switzerland that the civil populations of the Rhine Valley towns were being removed by the German authorities.

Some officers here regard these reports as highly significant. They give them particular weight because it now appears certain that the enemy will be forced far back all along the front in Northern France and Belgium within the next few days. While the constant hammering is kept up in the north to pin the German armies there, it might be possible, it was said, to deliver a new stroke on the Alsace-Lorraine front that might swiftly develop into an invasion of Germany itself by way of the Rhine Valley.

RHINE DRIVE POSSIBLE.

It does not appear likely, however, that the Rhine drive plans, if there are such plans, will develop until the situation clears in the north. Should the German armies escape the triple trap between Verdun and the North Sea, however, and establish a line on the Meuse front, many officers are confident that the result of attack will swing suddenly to a drive into Germany itself by the shortest route, the Rhine Valley.

For the moment attention is concentrated on the startling forward rush of the Anglo-American forces which have broken through the great St. Quentin-Cambrai defensive zone. To the south it is known that the enemy is training every effort to hold up the French along the Suippe River. All but one of the twenty-four good German divisions on this front, it has been reported, are now in the front lines.

Should the French reach and pass the Aisne, as they threaten to do, the enemy forces in the Laon pocket apparently would be in desperate straits.

Still farther east to the Meuse and beyond, French and American forces are striking fiercely ahead, carrying an even wider menace, and to the north of Lille, Belgian, French and British troops have driven forward another grim threat. To no part of the line, apparently, can the hard-pressed center turn for reinforcements and relief on a scale that would more than delay the advance at any point.

The spearhead of the British advance was reported at Le Cateau today. That would mean that the Anglo-American effort has forged ahead until the northern end of the great railway system behind the Germans is only fifteen miles distant.

This lateral trunk line passes through Valenciettes, Avesnes and Hirson, reaches the Meuse at Charleville and runs thence through Sedan and on to the southeast.

Gen. March, Chief of Staff, indicated last Saturday that the cutting of this greatest single communication system of the enemy was the main objective of the American thrust west of the Meuse. The Americans are within less than eighteen miles of the road now at a point nearly 100 miles in an airline from the point where the British threaten it on the north. It may be a race to cut the road, but the strategic effect would be different in each case.

Should this line be broken by the Americans now moving forward on both sides of the Meuse, it would cut the German front in half. Such a move might be considered vitally necessary to the launching of a blow at the Rhine Valley. The German troops in the north could offer little help if that lateral rail system that has stood like a wall behind the whole German front in France be lost to them.

CAMBRAI EVACUATION ADMITTED BY BERLIN.

GERMAN WAR OFFICE EXPLAINS RETREAT OF FORCES BEFORE THE AMERICANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct 10 (via London.)—Between the Argonne Forest and the Ornes ridge American troops yesterday advanced to attack on the eastern bank of the Meuse River, says the official statement issued today by the German War Office. On the border of the Argonne Forest the attacks failed, with heavy losses.

The town of Cornay, which was penetrated by the Americans, was recaptured, the statement says, and the towns of Sommerance and Romagne were held by the Germans after fluctuating fighting.

British and American troops followed the retiring Germans on both sides of the Roman road in the direction of Le Cateau, says the official statement issued today by the German army General Staff. The Germans retreated step by step to new positions, fighting all the way.

"On the battle front between Cambrai and St. Quentin," the statement adds, "we occupied positions

REDS LOSE GUNS, SUPPLIES.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

TOKIO (Thursday) Oct. 3.—The Japanese War Office today announced that the booty captured by the Allied forces in the Amur district of Siberia between last September 18 and last September 22 included five steamships, thirty cars, five automobiles, 512 rifles, one machine gun, seventeen cases of ammunition and thousands of bayonets and lances.

TOKIO, Wednesday, Oct. 2.—Reporting military operations in Siberia, an official statement issued today by the Japanese War Office says:

"Cavalry and infantry pursuing the enemy from Zeya in the direction of Banbuki captured Iorakai and Joldmin, September 27. A detachment of the Third Division from Tchita reached Wefnevinsk September 29.

"The Zeya River has been cleared by mine sweepers."

BRUGES RISES IN REVOLT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 10.—A revolt has broken out in Bruges, Belgium, the populace having risen against attempts of the Germans to deport the civilians, according to Les Nouvelles. German troops used their guns and killed or wounded numerous Belgians.

Throughout Flanders, the newspaper says, the roads are incumbered with cattle, horses and pigs, which are being transported to Germany.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Belgium's quota of loans from the United States was increased to $171,020,000 today by a new credit of $5,000,000. This made the aggregate credit to Allied governments $7,220,476,666.

CRASH THROUGH HUN LINE.

Battle Front for Twenty Miles is Rolled Rapidly Eastward.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY ON THE CAMBRAI-ST. QUENTIN FRONT, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—By last night the British and Americans had reached a point where it was certain that the German lines, with probably one hard blow, could be cracked. As a matter of fact, cavalry might have gone through the German lines last night in considerable numbers. Only patrols were sent out, however, while the main bodies were held just back of the line.

After a night of heavy firing from the British guns, the Third and Fourth armies again attacked this morning from Cambrai south to the front held by the French. At the same time the Canadian and English troops, after a "crash" barrage, launched a powerful attack extending some miles north from Cambrai.

For miles the front suddenly sprang into action. The Canadians had hard going at one place just north of Cambrai, but with great gallantry swept on after annihilating the Germans who tried to bar their way. From there on, the resistance weakened and the Canadians, with the English, hurried eastward smothering the usual screen of German machine gunners as they went on.

ATTACKING FORCES MEET.

Canadian and British troops met in the center of Cambrai, which was entered from both north and south, and quickly mopped up. Many Germans had escaped, but many hundreds, who had been held there to launch a counter-attack, were either killed or captured. Some of the enemy troops are still in deep cellars, two stories underground, and in the tunnels the Germans dug during their occupation of the city. These are being routed out and sent back to the cages.

Although many fires were started by the Germans, the town was found not to be as badly damaged as had been feared. The solid buildings withstood the flames well. It was quite evident, however, that it was no fault of the Germans that the city had not been razed.

South of the city the Third and Fourth armies rapidly overcame enemy opposition. The Germans started fleeing soon after the attack began, for they realized they were fighting a battle in which they could hope for no success.

FRONT MOVES EAST.

The front line for twenty miles began moving rapidly eastward. Then came reports from airplanes, with which the sky was literally crowded, that Wambaix had been taken. Soon the capture of Harcourt was reported. From then on tidings came in rapid succession of villages falling before the Allied advance.

Selvigny, Caullery, Lingy, Montigny and Maretz were quickly reached and passed, and soon the Allies were closing in on Caudry and Bertry.

At the same time from the north it was reported that Escaudoeuvres, east of Cambrai, had been taken, and that Inchy was being approached.

The Cambrai-Le Cateau road was crossed, and then the railway between St. Quentin and Bertry was cut. Seboncourt was then in sight, and Fontaine Notre Dame, further south, had been reached by the French. By that time it was clear the enemy was badly smashed, and that the British and Americans stood on the threshold of the wide-open country.

It was about that time that the cavalry, which had been waiting, poured through the wide breach in the now shattered Hindenburg system and streamed out into the country beyond. Fast "whippet" tanks and armored cars also crashed forward and came into action. They performed extremely valuable service in pursuing the fleeing Germans, killing many and rounding up a large number of prisoners. They smashed down strong points held by rear guards who had been waiting for the cavalry, knowing that it had come through the line.

HUN LINES TURNED.

Cavalry forces are now apparently well east of the towns reported captured. The Allies, having thus broken through, the Germans north and south for many miles are endangered, for their lines are being turned. Retreats on even a broader scale than that now in progress may be expected.

Officers directing the attack were distinctly satisfied as the news came back in reports from airplanes and by runners, but finally one came back that showed better than anything else how completely the enemy had been defeated. This was a report from an air patrol that British infantry had been seen marching as if on parade in a column of fours into and through the town of Bertry. The men were swinging along entirely unmolested by the enemy.

Another patrol brought word of the Germans fleeing in the greatest disorder as far east as Le Cateau. Enemy troops and transports were streaming along the roads and over the fields for, with the British cavalry galloping over the country and with "whippet" tanks and armored cars working, they realized that it was extremely dangerous for them to tarry anywhere.

ENEMY ON RUN.

Such a thing as troops who have just attacked marching through a town 10,000 yards from the place where they started is a thing that has not happened in this war for a long time. Such a thing could only happen now when the enemy is defeated, disorganized, disheartened and running for his very existence. The troops at Bertry did not tarry there but kept right on marching. Where the Germans will stop is of course impossible to tell. It is known that they have been working on a line running generally back of Le Cateau, but prisoners say that this line is in an embryo condition and can not offer much protection. Even if it did the British would not have much trouble in smashing it, considering their overwhelming preponderance of guns, munitions and men.

British cannon had been on the move eastward all day long. In many cases batteries would gallop over the rolling plains of Artois. They would stop, wheel about and fire for a while, then dash on and repeat the performance.

BRITISH DRIVE AHEAD.

There is no intention to let the Germans get a chance to regain their breath and organize their smashed forces. British troops are advancing eastward astride the road from Cambrai to Le Cateau and every hour has seen them farther east. The Escaut canal north of Cambrai was passed virtually along its entire length. It has been left far behind.

The British are absolutely confident they can break down any line the Germans may place in front of them. In the fighting south of Cambrai they have cleared the enemy from the last line of the Hindenburg system, which in this locality was extraordinarily strong. Trenches protected by a belt of wire fifty yards deep in which there were numerous concrete pill boxes were common obstacles.

The British broke through after smashing down the wire, repulsed counter-attacks and then swept down in the rear of the line and wiped out strong German garrisons.

GROUND BLOOD-SOAKED.

The ground in this locality is soaked with German blood and covered with German dead.

Many French civilians have been rescued from the towns that have been recaptured. Five hundred were brought back to freedom in one town alone. It was soon after the Germans broke and ran that fires began to break out in the whole district behind them and the ground rocked with terrific explosions as ammunition which they had had no time to save, was destroyed.

Everything combustible in the area around Caudry, Inchy, Le Cateau, St. Benin, St. Souplet, Vaux-Andigny and Bohain was fired and since then towns and farms well to the eastward have started burning.

Even this apparently did not satisfy the enemy, who seems to spread his carnival of destruction both north and south. More than ever it is evident that he intends to lay the country in absolute waste. Airmen have reported "explosions are occurring all over, one place after another."

Latest reports say that the advance continues rapidly.

DUAL MONARCHY BREAKING

Movement for Separation of Hungary and Austria Spreads.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A movement favoring a proclamation separating Hungary and Austria is making extremely rapid progress among the public in the dual monarchy, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich.

Count Theodore Batthyanyi, former Minister in the Hungarian Cabinet, speaking at Budapest, emphasized the urgency of bringing about a separation between Hungary and Austria.

Czech newspapers declare that preparations are under way for the regular working of a further Czech state and identical statements are being published regarding the Jugo-Slavs.

Telegrams from Warsaw announce that a proclamation is about to be issued for the union of all Polish territories into a Polish state.

The congress of German associations in Austria, advices say, have resolved to favor the creation of a German state in Austria.

It is reported from Vienna that the Austro-Hungarian Ministerial Council has decided to introduce national autonomy "in order to make President Wilson's stipulation an accomplished fact," says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

The Czech party did not take part in the deliberations, the advices add. It is holding an important meeting today.

PARIS, Oct. 10. (Havas.)—The German Minister of Foreign Affairs will shortly appoint a committee of officials, parliamentarians and jurists to frame a German plan for a league of nations, the semiofficial North German Gazette announces, according to a dispatch from Basel today.

BASEL (Switzerland) Oct. 10.—"Only military reasons could compel us to accept President Wilson's conditions," says the Cologne Gazette in commenting on the American reply to the German peace offer. "It is possible Germany may require counter guarantees, for example the evacuation of the colonies occupied by the Allies."

The newspaper continues:

"The political and military authorities of the empire now are going to debate these questions. It is probable the Chancellor will represent to the Reichstag the result of these deliberations. For the moment the hour is too grave to permit of suppositions."

BRITISH, ITALIAN AND FRENCH CHIEFS MEET.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Premier Lloyd George, Chancellor Bonar Law, Lord Robert Cecil and the Chief of the Imperial Staff returned tonight from Paris.

They had been in conference with the French Premier, M. Clemenceau, the Italian Premier, Signor Orlando, M. Pichon, Baron Sonnino and the naval and military advisers of the Allied governments.

U-BOAT SHELLS DEAD, DYING.

fell behind her convoy because of engine trouble.

According to the story of the survivors, the submarine was not sighted until she had sent a torpedo crashing into the ship. The torpedo did not strike a vital spot, however, and the captain crowded on full steam in an effort to escape, at the same time ordering the gun crews into action against the submarine, which appeared about a mile off.

"Our gun crews did not fire more than five or six shots," one of the survivors said. "The forward gun was shot away almost at once. The after gun and its crew was done for almost as quickly. Then the men went to the boats, but it was no use as the flying shrapnel was spraying the decks and men fell in scores, either killed or badly wounded."

Another survivor declared that all of the Ticonderoga's eight lifeboats, with the exception of one, were riddled with shrapnel before they could be launched. A number of men who tried to get into the eighth boat were killed by shrapnel, as they clambered over the side of the vessel, he said.

"Finally," this survivor continued, "one of our men in desperation, swam close to the submarine and hailed an officer, asking him in God's name to stop firing.

"The lieutenant who answered him did so with a loaded revolver, saying that if he did not swim back he would shoot him.

"When our boat had only twenty men in it, we were ordered alongside the submarine and made to tie up while the shelling of the dead and dying on the sinking ship continued.

"The leader of our boat was asked some questions, which he refused to answer, and suddenly the submarine submerged, and only the parting of the rope with which we were tied prevented our going down with it."

One of the survivors said the submarine was of the cruiser type and had the largest guns he ever had seen on a submarine. One of the engineer officers, he said, whose room was pierced by a shell from the submarine, declared that the shell was an eight-inch projectile. Heretofore only six-inch guns have been reported on submarines.

The survivors, who were adrift for four days before they were picked up, said that a raft with five wounded men on it had put off from the Ticonderoga and that they had attempted to tow it with them, but that it broke away during the night and disappeared.

WOMEN, CHILDREN PERISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

A BRITISH PORT, Monday, Oct. 7.—The Japanese steamship Hirano Maru of 7935 tons gross, has been torpedoed and sunk. It is feared that 300 lives were lost.

The Hirano Maru was outward bound for Japan and carried about 200 passengers. The vessel was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine early on Friday morning when about 300 miles south of Ireland.

The few survivors who were picked up by the American torpedo boat destroyer Sterret have been brought here. They declare that the torpedo struck the steamer in the forward engine room.

Nothing remained for those on board, including the women and children, but to plunge into the ocean. A large number, however, went down with the ship. The vessel disappeared completely within seven minutes after being struck by the torpedo.

CRIES HEARTRENDING.

The scene was indescribable. The weather was bad and rather hazy. The cries of the drowning were heartrending. Everybody had been supplied with life belts, but only the the strongest were able to stand the buffeting of the waves and the exposure.

Providentially, the commander of the American destroyer Sterret heard the explosion and steered his vessel for the point whence the sound came. He found the ship had disappeared and he saw a mass of people struggling in the water.

There were no small boats available, so the destroyer in the bad weather steamed about picking up those who were still alive. The American warship picked up thirty persons, one of whom died while being brought ashore.

FIRES ON DESTROYER.

While the American destroyer Sterret was engaged in the work of mercy and picking up the men and women struggling in the water, the German submarine fired two torpedoes at the warship. Both missiles happily missed their mark.

After making a thorough search for survivors, the Sterret headed for the submarine firing several shots and dropping depth charges.

Among the survivors were these passengers in the first cabin: A. A. Young, Louis Durmont, A. B. Asklaca, T. F. Butler, Fred J. Kasch.

About twenty-two members of the Japanese crew were rescued.

FOUR HUNDRED LOST.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Dublin mail boat Leinster has been torpedoed, according to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The steamer was making a trip from Dublin to Holyhead.

Four hundred persons perished, according to a report which has not yet been confirmed.

The reported torpedoing of the Leinster on her regular voyage from Dublin to Holyhead would indicate that the German U-boats have again succeeded in getting into St. George's Channel.

Nothing has been reported of U-boat operations in that water for a long time, and it was reported that extraordinary precautions had been taken with respect to this channel, as well as the English Channel.

The gross tonnage of the Leinster is 2646.

CAMP LEWIS ATHLETES IN LIBERTY DAY FETE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CAMP LEWIS (Tacoma) Oct. 10.—Liberty Day will be observed in Camp Lewis Saturday by programmes in three athletic fields in each of which it is estimated that at least 15,000 soldiers and citizens will be present.

The exercises will be given under the joint arrangement of the Y.M.C.A., the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Welfare League and the Y.W.C.A.

All drill will be suspended at 10 o'clock for the balance of the day and the programmes will start in the three fields selected at that time.

Two military bands will furnish music in each field. In Camp Lewis field, the cantonment's athletic ground, Rev. H. A. Matthews of Seattle will read the President's Liberty Day proclamation, and under the leadership of Robert Lloyd, camp singing director, a chorus of 4000 soldiers will sing.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC FOUND AT CROCKETT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 10. — Measures have been taken by the State Board of Health to curb an epidemic of smallpox discovered at Crockett, Dr. W. H. Kellogg, secretary of the State Board of Health, announced today. More than 2000 persons, including employees of a sugar refinery, some of whom had been exposed to the disease at the company hotel, have been vaccinated, Dr. Kellogg said.

There have been between forty and fifty cases in the town, but no deaths, he said, and between ten and twelve cases were under quarantine today.

NOTED WAR WORKER HERE.

Mrs. Henry P. Davison Arrives with a Message to Women.

To make known the objects of women's work in the United War Work Campaign, and to arouse women of the country to a realization of their war duties in behalf of the drive, Mrs. Henry P. Davison of New York City, chairman of the Women's Work Committee of the United War Work Campaign, and the wife of the chairman of the War Work Council of the American Red Cross, arrived at the Alexandria last evening. She will remain in the city only today.

She is here, she says, neither to organize women for work during the gigantic $175,000,000 war work campaign, which the seven organizations, the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board, American Library Association, Salvation Army and the War Camp Community Service, nor to make plans for it. Here is a message of propaganda, of making the women realize their national importance. She aims to present only to the representatives of the various women's organizations such as clubs, lodges and the various societies the knowledge of the benefits of the fund, and to arouse their interest in carrying on the drive.

According to Mrs. Davison, $115,000,000 are to be raised by the women's committee. It will be divided proportionately among some half dozen relief branches. The budget has been carefully audited by Raymond S. Fosdick, Mrs. Davison stated, and is a complete record of woman's work in the war.

"Women are gradually awakening to their importance," she stated on her arrival last night. "They are taking men's places, not only in industry, but in providing for their less fortunate sisters here at home. They must be depended upon to help the men in uniform, and to carry on this drive. This money will readily be raised if the women know what it is going for.

"The apportionment is as follows: $2,700,000 for recreation work in communities near camps; $1,000,000 for emergency housing; hostess houses in and near training camps: $2,400,000; work among colored girls affected by the war, $400,000; work among foreign-born women, $430,000; bureaus, $1,885,000; educational information service, $533,000; war work in other countries, $533,000, and $552,000 for administration purposes."

Mrs. Davison will breakfast with representatives of the United War Work organizations and of the Council of Defense and the local chapter of the American Red Cross this morning at the Alexandria. She will then be taken on a short motor trip through the city. Following a luncheon this noon at the Friday Morning Club she will address 300 women and 200 representatives of women's organizations in the Southland at 2 o'clock at the Ebell Club. Leaving at 6 o'clock for San Diego, she will continue her trip, making a tour of the principal cities of the Coast in the interest of the drive.

She started on her tour from New York two weeks ago, and has visited Atlanta, New Orleans, Dallas and El Paso. Influenza, she said, is raging everywhere in the East, and El Paso is almost totally in quarantine. Accompanying Mrs. Davison is Miss B. Griswold, a Y.W.C.A. secretary.

CONTROL OF EXPORTS PLAN IN AUSTRALIA.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MELBOURNE (Australia) Oct. 10.—Australia is about to put into effect the license system for the control of imports, it was announced today by W. A. Watt, the treasurer of the commonwealth. The Cabinet had approved the principle, he said, and the details were being framed.

The sugar production of the commonwealth during the present season has been reduced because of the unusual climatic conditions, to the actual requirements for consumption. The government, therefore, has decided to import 10,000 tons as a margin of safety.

Announcement was made by Treasurer Watt that it was probable arrangements would be made to permit the export to Great Britain of Australian sole leather of a limited quantity.

BECAME THIN AND WEAK FROM LACK OF BLOOD

Your blood is not fortified against the multitude of disease germs that surround us, you risk being a prey to them. You may not be able to put a good day's work without a continuing of exhaustion.

The experience of Mrs. George B. [illegible] No. 619 Parkwood Avenue, [illegible], Ohio, will interest many.

"I was pale and weak and my blood was impoverished. My appetite was poor, food distressed me and I had nervous spells. I was subject to dizziness when every thing would turn black before my eyes. My heart would beat very fast when I went up stairs. I could not sleep. At night I had a dry hacking cough and became so thin and weak that I had not strength to do any work.

"One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a paper and decided to give them a trial. After taking a few boxes I felt like a different person and kept the pills until I recovered. I am glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any person suffering with anemia."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood and have transformed thousands of sick, grouchy, irritable, tired and nervous people into active, energetic, stable, efficient men and women. They will help you too.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price 50 cents. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free book on the blood.

In this Time of Danger of Infection from Influenza

Remember that the mission of Kolynos Dental Cream is to secure

Cleanliness of the Teeth
Cleanliness of the Mouth
Cleanliness of the Throat

Kolynos was evolved under the influence of bacteriology, which among much else of vital importance had conclusively shown that pernicious microbes do not readily flourish in a sanitary environment.

It was determined to obtain such an environment in the most vulnerable part of the body — the mouth and the throat — through the ordinary process of making the toilet of the mouth.

To this end a truly scientific dentifrice was needed, and when at last it was created it was named Kolynos and the complete formula was immediately published that there might be nothing secret or mysterious about its properties.

Kolynos then, at once, met with such approval among dentists and physicians that through their influence it became increasingly known and used in all civilized lands. And now, as one of the results of the World War, which has so dramatically shown in the camp, the field and the hospitals, the importance of regular sanitation of the mouth and throat, Kolynos is fulfilling in yet larger measure its beneficent mission.

For general purposes use Kolynos three times daily, according to the directions enclosed with each tube.

After exposure to infection if the slightest irritation is felt in the nasal passages, put a bit of the cream in the entrance of the nostrils. Keep it there for some ten minutes, renewing from time to time until the irritation disappears. As Kolynos volatilizes it disinfects the air passages through the act of breathing.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP.

Coach Cromwell's best bet on the Trojan football team this year is a fellow by the name of Charles Toney. Toney is not built like a steam roller, but has great line-smashing abilities. He is a little heavier built than "Rabbit" Malette, last year's quarter. Malette only weighed about 140 pounds, but his reputation was State-wide. Manual Arts produced this fellow, and he has all the earmarks of a real comer. Toney is out for a position as tackle. Cromwell has three good men for every position on the line. Paul Beale and Roy Evans, two husky linemen, are fulfilling the promise they made on last year's team as right and left tackle. Woodward, Taylor and Galloway are trying out for the position as quarterback. Townshend, the 200-pounder from Salinas High, holds a guard position and makes a very effective stop for the would-be line-buckers. Keith Hunter is back on the team playing fullback. Rightmire, a Poly back, is showing up well at practice. The U.S.C. line averages 190 pounds.

As the only outsider who has seen the Sub Base football team in action, Bill Haney of Polytechnic High, whose fellows received the zero end of a 46 0 score with the sailor boys last Wednesday, says the harbor team is a wonder. It is made up of former college stars who have had three and four years' experience of varsity football. Tommy Tibarando was on the old St. Vincent's team in the days when Walter Hempel was coach, and later went north and played for Santa Clara. Tommy is now playing quarter for the Sub team. Art Lutz, who is coaching the eleven, also plays. Lutz was formerly at Pomona College and had three years with the Oregon Aggies. He holds the position of fullback. The two ends are Herb Hunter and Jordan. Hunter has a reputation as a left fielder for the Frisco nine and plays football better than he played baseball. Jordan was on the Sub team last year and holds the same position this year. Haney says anyone who can get around these two ends is a wizard. "Pep" Lucas is playing back. Pep will be remembered as the fellow who made the ninety-yard run for U.S.C. last season in the game with Arizona. The Submarine line is heavy and averages over 190 pounds.

In compliance with the order of Health Commissioner L. M. Powers forbidding public gatherings that might spread the Spanish influenza, all public football games and other sporting events must be postponed until the ban is lifted.

VENTURA EXPECTS A GOOD DUCK SEASON.

EXPECT LIGHTNING MATCH.

The world middleweight wrestling battle at the Los Angeles Athletic Club next Thursday night between Walter Miller and Ted Thye will in some measure be a test of military training and life, and civilian training, as to efficiency and results.

Thye, a grappler of the highest order, who is due here tonight or tomorrow morning, is an army man stationed at Camp Lewis, where he has necessarily gone through all the hard but excellent upbuilding work incident to the development of the soldier. Miller, the champion, is wrestling instructor of the Athletic Club, and his athletic training is altogether along civilian lines. The contrast is marked, and attracting considerable attention and interest aside from the superb qualifications of both men.

The challenger has, of course, had civilian athletic training throughout his career, until some months ago, but now has the full benefit of the military work, which his local admirers say will prove its effectiveness.

Walter Miller has never prepared more intensively for a match than he is now. The swift, powerful, scientific little mat wonder, who would view defeat as tantamount to death or disgrace, recognizes in Thye an adversary who might step to the head of the class if not opposed to the limit, and he is determined to be at his best next Thursday night. As a matter of fact, Miller is always in condition to meet all comers, but he looks upon Thye with especial respect. The challenger has met and defeated a large proportion of those men who have gone down before Miller, and the latter does not overlook the fact that in nearly every instance Thye did the trick in much less time than he was able to. And Miller is fast, as all who have seen him in action will concede. Which means that the coming battle will be of the lightning brand, and that the referee and spectators will have to keep their eyes open to get the full benefit of the clever work.

Miller is a scissors and wristlock expert, yet there are many who believe Thye has him beaten in the latter. The army man is considered the most dangerous wristlock artist on the mat today.

Added interest is given the finish tussle by the fact that Mike Yokel has already challenged the winner and will be taken on by the one who proves to be the champion. And that, too, will be some battle—probably at L.A.A.C. next month.

NORMAN ROSS WILL BE THE HEADLINER.

BEST SWIMMING TOURNEY OF YEAR PROMISED AT LIBERTY FAIR.

The greatest swimming meet of the year promises to be on the second day programme at the Liberty Fair, Exposition Park. Many champions have been entered in the events, and some great contests are sure to be the result.

Lieut. Norman Ross, who is entered from the Rockwell Flying Field at San Diego, is probably the best-known entrant. Ross holds many national championships in various events, and has proves that he is without doubt the greatest all-round swimmer in the world today. Ross swims the sprints, middle-distances, long-distances and also the breast and back stroke races in championship time and form. He has been putting in most of his time flying of late, but has an occasional few minutes to get a work-out in the bay at San Diego, near where he is quartered.

Miss Dorothy Burns, who has returned recently from an all-conquering tour of the East, where she met with great success in many big meets, will swim against time in her pet event, the back stroke. Miss Burns, although formerly a Southern California swimmer, has been registered recently in San Francisco and cannot compete in the only race for women of the day, as it is a Southern California championship event, not open to those registered in other sections of the country.

There will be twelve events on the programme, including swimming and diving for both men and women. As about half the events are to be Southern California championships, they will be especially hard-fought.

Entries are in from all the nearby military and naval camps and two from the San Diego Rowing Club. Jimmie McIntosh from the southern city will swim in the 550-yard race and William De Pons will try and take the breast stroke medals back with him. The meet is under the direct supervision of Les Henry.

FRED WARD SCORES ANOTHER WINNING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 10. — Fred Ward, the well-known Los Angeles horseman, made another winning this afternoon, when he drove Hemet Queen to first place in two out of three heats in the 2:14 pace. May Day Hal, driven by Stetson, won the third heat. The best time was 2:13 1-4 made by May Day Hal. In the 2:20 mixed matinee event Wilbur Direct won one heat and was beaten two straights by Electra. The best time was 2:20¼.

Desmond Fletcher of Riverside won the Riverside county half-mile bicycle championship, going the distance in 1:26. The two-mile open handicap was won by George Gerwin of Santa Ana, in 5:24. The half-mile open was won by Earl Thompson of Uewark, N. J. The time was 1:19 3-4. This is Thompson's first start in the State and he beat out Desmond Fletcher of Riverside and George Gerwin of Santa Ana.

The five-eighth running race was won by Oklahoma. The three-quarter run was won by Ponce de Leon.

HOLLYWOOD COACH FINDS NEW MEN.

Coach Fred Johnson of Hollywood High is developing three new men to take the place of the two Sentous boys and "Whity" Packman, who recently were declared ineligible by the C.I.F. Craig Nason will step into the shoes of Frankie Sentous, Eugene Hickman will take the place of Johnny Sentous in the line and Leonard Walker will play the position held by Packman.

Johnson's team is composed of men from last year's lightweight squad and new fellows. In the last few days several men are showing up particularly well. John Davis was put on at end at the beginning of practice, but later was changed to right half, where he is showing the real stuff in the football line. Pickett and William Baker are two others that the coach has his eye on and will use on the first team.

JIMMY FOX LIKELY TO MEET GRUNAN.

Jimmy Fox and Al Grunan are likely to be the head liners at the Vernon boxing show next Tuesday night. The boys are more evenly matched as to weight than were Grunan and Watson, who battled last Tuesday night. Fox is said to be quite classy and has a good record up San Francisco way.

NO RECOGNITION IS GIVEN CARMEN UNION.

STREET RAILWAY COMPANY DECLINES TO DEAL WITH OUTSIDE ORGANIZATION.

The yellow line street car employees have approached the Los Angeles Railway Company with a proposal looking toward recognition of their union and an immediate adjustment of wages and working conditions. A communication was forwarded to General Manager Kuhrts yesterday by a committee of local street car men headed by R. B. Dix. The men are supposedly acting as members of the Amalgamated Association of Electric and Street Railway Employees of America.

In response to their request for an early conference with company officials to consider an adjustment of proposed wage scales and working conditions, Mr. Khurts has forwarded to the committee a reply which reads, in part, as follows:

"There is now an organization among our employees comprising practically all of them in each department. It is empowered to take up with the company anything needing redress or adjustment which concerns or is in any way related to the business of the company, or is to the interests of its employees.

"This organization has been working for more than eighteen months, holding meetings monthly at each section headquarters for the purpose of receiving suggestions for changes or alterations of conditions, and none have been presented which have been received with indifference or inattention, or which have been denied, unless the facts were such that it should be done.

"Since our employees have had this opportunity for so long, we must naturally conclude that there is now nothing of vital importance needing redress, except that which has already been presented.

"There being absolutely no necessity for this outside organization among our employees, we decline to see you for the purposes mentioned, or as a committee from said organization."

GREY SAYS WAR WILL CONTINUE.

must give its united support to the government in the conduct of the war until peace was within reach.

A league of nations could not be a substitute for the successful termination of the war.

Never had he seen how it would be possible to form a league of nations before peace was concluded. Such a league must be founded at the peace conference; if delayed beyond a few days the chances that it would ever be formed were slight. A league of nations, he urged, must include Germany. There could be no thought of disarmament until Germany had been disarmed.

ROME, Oct. 10.—(Havas.)—The impression in Italian diplomatic circles is that one of the principal reasons for the German and Austrian movement in the direction of peace was to prevent Turkey from seeking a separate peace. Turkey was told, it is understood, that following the new German Chancellor's speech and armistice proposals that there would be formed in all Entente countries, and especially in America, peace parties.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 10.—The Frankfort Zeitung, in explaining to its readers the reason why Germany asked for peace, says:

"After Bulgaria's collapse, Austria-Hungary resolved to approach President Wilson with an offer for an armistice for the purpose of bringing about peace negotiations. At the same time a similar step was being prepared in Turkey. Germany thereupon decided to join the movement, and Chancellor Maximilian made his appeal to President Wilson."

PARIS, Oct. 10.—German newspapers received in Switzerland indicate with what feverish intensity Berlin awaited President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals of the Central Powers, says a dispatch from Berne to the Temps. Deep feeling was aroused and the German capital on October 7, when a rumor spread that President Wilson had rejected the German offer.

In other cities reports were circulated that an armistice had been agreed upon. The good news was posted immediately in public places, the advices say, and the crowds could not conceal their joy. A part of the German press rebuked the population for not awaiting receipt of the reply with proper dignity.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Feverish impatience is shown by the people of Vienna while awaiting President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals of the Central Powers, according to a dispatch from Zurich.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Overtures by the Germans to the Czech leaders are reported in dispatches today from a neutral country to the State Department. Only a vague account of the movement is given, but the Germans are said to be making conciliatory promises to the Czech leaders in an effort to align them with the Teutonic peace programme.

No word came to the State Department during the day, indicating that the President's note had reached the German Chancellor, but it was assumed that it was delivered through the Swiss Foreign Office probably some time yesterday. The fact that the Chancellor, Prince Maximilian, is to address the Reichstag Saturday led to the belief that the Prince would have his reply ready by that time.

Evidences that Turkey is crumbling and already is almost, if not quite, out of the war, continued to appear in reports to the department. There was no confirmation, however, of rumors that the Ottoman government had proposed surrender, nor any explanation of the delayed appearance of the Turkish note said to have been sent simultaneously with those of Germany and Austria.

COLUMBUS DAY SERVICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 10.—In celebration of Columbus Day, a beautiful service will be held Saturday, October 12, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. This will begin with the blessing of the service flag of the church at 9 o'clock, followed by a patriotic address by Joseph Ford, Grand Knight of the Council of Los Angeles. Included in the celebration will be the participation by the children of the Academy of the Holy Name, who will march into the church, garbed in white and carrying flags, and will be seated on either side of the service flag. They will join in singing the hymn for the soldiers and sailors. Solemn high mass will be sung after the preliminary service by Rev. Father Guadalupe, and the sermon will be preached by Rev. Charles Raley, chaplain of the United States Navy at San Pedro.

REDLANDS LOAN DRIVE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 10.—This city gave the big tank "Democracy" and its band of bond boosters the warmest reception they have yet received on their swing around the circle in behalf of the Fourth Liberty Loan. During yesterday afternoon and evening a total of $64,000 was secured from the tank, which establishes a record for the trip. Total subscriptions tabulated last night when loan headquarters closed were $258,250. This does not include all of that secured last evening however. The city's quota is $745,500.

PORRAS BECOMES HEAD OF PANAMA REPUBLIC.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PANAMA, Oct. 9.—Belisario Porras, first Vice-President of the republic, has arrived here and will assume the Presidency of the country for the period of six months while extensive improvements in the provinces are undertaken with the assistance of the United States.

In an address to his followers Dr. Porras referred to the great and unselfish part the United States is playing in Latin America. He predicted a great future for Panama under the assistance and guidance of the United States.

Credit Men Meet.

The monthly meeting of the Retail Credit Men's Association of Los Angeles was held last night at 6:30 o'clock at Christopher's, No. 741 South Broadway. Justice J. Walter Hanby was the principal speaker, talking on the Soldiers' and Sailors' Moratorium Act.

Rail Official Here.

Arthur T. Jackson, former district passenger agent for the Union Pacific here, now inspector of passenger equipment for the same road, with headquarters in Omaha, arrived here yesterday for a short visit. "There's no place like Los Angeles," said Mr. Jackson, who is probably the best-known man ever associated with the local Union Pacific office.

Britishers' Last Chance.

All Britishers who wish to enlist in the army of their home country must make application on or before tomorrow at the British and Canadian recruiting office, 224 San Fernando Building. They must be prepared to leave by Tuesday. A draft of thirty men will leave the recruiting office at 10 a.m., today on their way to Canada.

Empire Daughters.

The Princess Mary Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, will have charge of the British ambulance luncheon at the Westminster Hotel Saturday, October 12. The following are on the programme which will be given: Elza Robinson, violinist, accompanied on the piano by Dagmar Nielsen; Walter Olney, baritone; Mary Louise Hand, whistler, accompanied by Edith Hand.

For delivery at the different camps mentioned in the specifications, fresh beef, ham, shoulder and pork loins. For further information or any one wishing specifications on which to bid, call at above association, 223 Wilcox Building.

IN PATENT CASE.

Francis J. Heney and Kemper B. Campbell left for New York yesterday to defend the California Packing Corporation in a patent infringement suit brought in the Federal Court there by the S. P. Dunkley Company, of Kalamazoo, Mich. The case is similar to the one recently decided by United States District Judge Trippet here in favor of the Pasadena Canning Company and against the Dunkley Company.

SEEKS CHILD'S CUSTODY.

A petition was filed for probate yesterday by J. A. Barham, to become the legal guardian of Elsie Barham, 9 years old. According to the petition, the mother of the girl was murdered in San Francisco September 15, last. The child is now in the custody of her grandmother, Caroline Eldridge. The Barhams were divorced three years ago and the child was given into the custody of Mrs. Barham. Mrs. Barham died recently. The petition further asserts that the child is about to be taken to Tulare county by the grandmother.

RENT IS LOWERED ON FORMER SALOON.

TENANT WINS IN SUIT BROUGHT BY ESTATE TO COLLECT MONEY.

An illustration of the effect of the Gandier ordinance on the rental value of property that was used for saloon purposes before that law went into effect in this city, was given yesterday in Judge Houser's court, in the trial of the suit of the Security Trust and Savings Bank against H. M. Claussen. The bank, trustee for the Jenkins estate, which is the owner of the building at No. 507 Ceres avenue, sued for the rent of the premises at $150 a month under a five-year lease.

Mr. Claussen, who had conducted a saloon at No. 507 Ceres avenue for many years, stopped paying rent after April 1. He contended that, inasmuch as saloons were put out of business, he ought to have a reduction in the rent. He declared further that a clause in the lease provided that if the retail liquor business was abolished in the city, a change would be made in the rent.

It was argued by the plaintiff that the city was not dry, as liquor could be obtained in cafes and in family liquor stores. Robert M. Allen, who was called as an expert by Mr. Claussen, testified that the rental value of the building at No. 507 Ceres avenue does not now exceed $40 a month. Judge Houser so held in his judgment.

ARREST CONDUCTOR AS WAR OBJECTOR.

REVELATIONS CONCERNING RELIGIOUS CULT INVESTIGATED BY POLICE.

Stating that he was a conscientious objector and that he would not buy bonds, nor contribute to the Red Cross, and that he refused utterly to carry arms under any circumstances for the United States, the police say, Jewel D. Varney, 36 years old, a Pacific Electric conductor, was arrested last night by the police war squad and placed in the City Jail pending an investigation.

According to the police, Varney stated that he is a member of the Church of the Living God, Body of Christ, No. 745 East Forty-eighth street, an organization of twelve members, all of whom are also conscientious objectors.

On being questioned Varney made a signed statement, in which he set forth that under no circumstances, even though the United States were invaded by an armed foe, could he bear arms; that he considered the purchase of Liberty Bonds as great a crime as carrying a rifle against the Germans, and that contributions of any nature to Red Cross or kindred organizations is a similar crime.

REPUBLICANS CHOOSE LAW COMMITTEE HERE.

The appointment of a law committee of the Republican State Central Committee, Southern California division, was announced yesterday. This committee will have charge of all legal questions that may arise in connection with Republican party affairs in Southern California.

John G. Mott was chosen as chairman of the committee. Other members are: Kemper B. Campbell, Charles S. Crail, Bradner W. Lee, A. L. Bartlett, M. T. Owens, Walter F. McEntire, R. L. Wharton, Hugh MacBeth and Phillip S. Swing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Incorporation of "The Laura Spelman Rockefeller memorial," organized for charitable purposes in memory of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, who died March 12, 1915, was approved here today by the Supreme Court. The purposes of the corporation are "the application to charitable purposes of the income, and if the corporation so decided, of the principal, of such property as it may from time to time possess." The incorporators include John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Charles Evans Hughes and Starr J. Murphy.

HONEY DILUTER PENALIZED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—For selling honey diluted with corn syrup without designating the adulteration on its labels, the Standard Refining Company of this city has been penalized by suspension of its business license for four weeks beginning October 12, the Federal Food Board announced today. The company, it was stated, has contributed to the Red Cross $2919 representing the "excess in price by reason of adulteration."

INDUSTRIES BOARD CURTAILS ALL MANUFACTURING ON NONESSENTIALS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Additional curtailments in the manufacture of articles not essential to the prosecution of the war were announced today by the War Industries Board as a part of the general programme for the conservation of material, labor, fuel, transportation and capital.

During the six months' period from October 1, the manufacture of electric heating appliances, all stoves and sewing machines will be curtailed to 50 per cent, of six months' production during 1917; watches and watch cases to 70 per cent, and metal stamps, and stencils, rubber stamps, metal tags or badges for industrial purposes to 75 per cent. No road-making machinery can be manufactured except for the government, railroads, public utilities, or municipalities and counties.

The manufacture of all light and fancy harness or saddlery is prohibited, but production of heavy saddlery and harness used by the United States and its allies, or in agriculture or industry will not be curtailed.

Regulations governing the issuance of licenses for the exportation of raw cotton effective October 14, and designed to control foreign marketing of the commodity as to grade and quantity were announced today by the War Trade Board.

CHINESE ENVOY'S WIFE VICTIM OF INFLUENZA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. — Mrs. Wellington Koo, wife of the Chinese Minister, died today from pneumonia, which followed an attack of Spanish influenza. She had been ill about a week.

Mrs. Koo's body will be sent to China for burial, but arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Mrs. Koo was the daughter of Tong Shao Yi, former Prime Minister of China. She came to Washington in December, 1915, when Dr. Koo arrived as Minister. Besides her husband, she is survived by one child, born at the legation here.

THREE OFFICERS HURT AS AUTO TURNS OVER.

ATTEMPT TO AVOID STRIKING PEDESTRIAN FAILS; CAR IS WRECKED.

In an effort to avoid running down a pedestrian at Third and Main street last night, three police officers were slightly injured and the machine in which they were riding was wrecked. Gust Lallas, whom the officer driving tried to avoid striking, was taken to the Receiving Hospital in a serious condition with several broken bones as the result of his having been run over by the automobile.

The accident occurred when Lallas stepped in front of the automobile, owned by Officer W. H. Dutton, who was driving. Officer Dutton swerved his car suddenly to the left in an effort to avoid striking the man, but Lallas leaped directly into the path of the automobile and was knocked to the pavement.

The automobile turned over and Police Sergeant Nicholson, who with Officers Dutton and J. W. Trainor, were answering a call to No. 804 Maple avenue, all received severe body bruises and lacerations. The automobile was wrecked.

San Diego's Mayor is Host as New President.

A committee will be appointed at the Pacific Coast Association of Port Authorities to recommend a uniform system of port charges to the various thorities of the Coast, it was decided yesterday at the closing of the association's convention held at the Chamber of Commerce.

A further resolution urges the government to the following policy in executing its war aims with regard to ships and an oath taken to support the United States Shipping Board, the Emergency and Harbor Commission in the establishment of new office of establishing uniform rates to care for the merchant marine.

Yesterday marked the closing day of the convention, and last evening a large number of the delegates left on their way home. Officers elected for the coming year were announced as follows: President, Lewis Gunnell, Mayor of San Diego; first vice-president, J. H. McCarthy, Mayor of San Francisco Harbor Commission; second vice-president, A. Ramsberg, Commissioner of Port of Seattle; third vice-president, W. P. La Roche; fourth vice-president, C. L. Hall, president of the Los Angeles Harbor Commission; fifth vice-president, H. Misner of Richmond; secretary, Mugler, harbor master of Los Angeles.

It was voted that the next convention will be held in San Diego.

MAY SOON LIFT CLOSING ORDER.

Severe Embargo on Schools, Theaters, Churches and All Public Gatherings, Effective Tonight, Temporary Only—Loan and Fair May Suffer.

At 10:30 o'clock last night Bernal Dyas, grand marshal of the Liberty Day parade Saturday, announced definitely that the parade is off. This is to prevent danger of spreading influenza by reason of crowds.

To prevent an epidemic of influenza in Los Angeles, rather than to combat one already existing, City Health Commissioner Powers, backed by a Health Advisory Committee of prominent citizens, the military authorities and the State Board of Health, yesterday ordered that all schools, churches, theaters, motion-picture houses and all other places of amusement shall close and remain closed after 6 o'clock p.m. today until further notice and that no public gatherings shall be held during the same period. Of this order Mayor Woodman, concurring its present necessity, said last evening:

"I hope and believe that it will not be necessary to keep the order in effect very long. Perhaps it will be rescinded within a week. At any rate, I will advise the health department to lift the ban at the earliest opportunity."

In accordance with the order, [illegible] Superintendent of Schools [illegible] Saturday issued an order [illegible] the public schools of the city at 2 p.m. today until further notice, the cancelling all meetings of supervisors, principals and teachers.

PROGRAMMES OFF?

In response to the direct question [illegible] Health Commissioner declared that his order [illegible] the Liberty Fair opened [illegible] for tomorrow, must be [illegible] adding that he had [illegible] Director-General R. W. [illegible] in view of the nearness [illegible] and the big preparations [illegible] effort is under way [illegible] a modification of the order [illegible] so far as concerns the fair.

The ban also extends to Liberty [illegible] indoor and out, Red [illegible] and street spectacles [illegible] crowds, Dr. Powers said. [illegible] Loan officials announced that they interpret this to [illegible] the tank, precinct and [illegible] meetings will have to be [illegible] discontinued and that [illegible] Day parade tomorrow [illegible] held. The airplanes from [illegible], however, will fly over the [illegible] announced, unless orders [illegible] Field prevent.

[illegible] proprietors of theaters and [illegible] houses prepared to [illegible] although it means a [illegible] loss to them to close [illegible] nights.

[illegible] department was notified [illegible] order to the letter [illegible] announced that he [illegible] thousand placards [illegible] order were printed [illegible] today.

[illegible] stores, industrial [illegible] houses are not [illegible] under, except that [illegible] meetings of their [illegible] on their prop-

Street, steam and interurban railways were notified by the Health Commissioner yesterday to immediately thoroughly fumigate all their coaches. Busses and other public conveyances must do the same. The public is advised against riding in crowded cars.

It is expected that all the principal cities in Los Angeles county, represented at yesterday's meeting, will follow the example of Los Angeles. Dr. Powers said that the health officers of Long Beach and Pasadena have already signified that they will order this done in their respectivve jurisdictions. No decision has been reached at Santa Monica and Venice, largely dependent upon beach crowds for their revenues.

Some question arose yesterday as to the health department's legal right to issue the closing order. After a conference with Assistant City Attorney Jess Stephens, the Mayor declared it a public emergency and ordered Dr. Powers to proceed accordingly.

This morning the Council will be called upon to appropriate sufficient money to employ at least twenty men to act as inspectors under the Health Commissioner and devise ways and means for the establishment of temporary headquarters for persons suddenly stricken with the disease and unable to get into hospitals.

WILL PROTEST ORDER.

At the meeting of the Council this morning the Liberty Fair matter will be considered, with other phases of the influenza situation. A number of speakers have signified their intention of being present to voice a protest against the closing order as being more drastic than the emergency demands. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher will be one of the principal speakers on behalf of the churches, the pastors of many of which feels that divine services on Sunday should not be prohibited.

The theaters and the film industry will also be largely represented. Henry S. McKee will make a strong plea on behalf of the Liberty Loan meetings, R. W. Pridham for the Liberty Fair and other speakers for the amusement industries.

FEW DEATHS HERE.

Health Commissioner Powers stated that the official record shows only ten deaths due to influenza, but he believes the total is considerably larger.

On Monday twenty-two cases were reported to the health office and one death; Tuesday, thirty-six cases and five deaths; Wednesday, sixty-four cases and three deaths, while yesterday 200 cases were reported with but one death up to 6 o'clock in the evening.

Police Chief Butler announced that he will see that the anti-spitting ordinance is enforced to the letter. Fines and jail sentences will be given all guilty of the practice.

HOPE FOR FAIR.

"No action looking towards not opening the Liberty Fair Saturday has been taken by the several directors who met last night to receive Dr. Powers's order," said E. W. Murphy, general supervisor of the fair.

Mr. Murphy said that the question will come before the City Council today and if that body upholds the action of Dr. Powers, there will be nothing to do but postpone the opening.

"Even that would not mean the fair will not be held," said Mr. Murphy. "We can hold our exhibits and open later."

MAYOR'S STATEMENT.

Mayor Woodman last night issued the following statement:

"Records of the Health Commissioner's office show that influenza is rapidly becoming epidemic in this community. This is sufficient to warrant the action of the health officials today. It is to be deplored that the order against public gatherings should come at this time when we are so far behind in the Liberty Loan drive, but similar action has been taken throughout the East where the disease is more widespread and we must see to it that it is stopped here at its incipiency.

"That we would be compelled sooner or later to place a ban upon public gatherings is certain. Therefore it is the best judgment to do it at once, if by so doing we may stamp out the disease in a few days. By the action of the health department we may be saved untold losses in life and endless discomfiture. Military officials have closed their

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC.

The following instructions were issued yesterday by Dr. Edward A. Ingham, local officer of the State Board of Health, and Dr L. M. Powers, City Health Commissioner:

TO AVOID INFLUENZA.

1. Avoid the person who coughs or sneezes without covering his mouth and nose with a handkerchief.
2. Avoid the person who spits where it will spread disease. He is dangerous as well as indecent.
3. Avoid crowds. They multiply your chances of catching influenza.
4. When you cannot avoid crowded places keep your mouth shut and breathe through your nose.
5. If you see a person with red, watery eyes who is sneezing or blowing his nose stay away from him.
6. If any of your friends have a cold or are sick with influenza, do not associate with them.
7. Stay out of doors as much as possible. As long as you avoid crowds it is far better to go for a walk in the evening than to call on a friend or go to the theater.
8. Keep all of your rooms well ventilated.
9. Avoid getting chilled when you are warm from work or other exercises.
10. Avoid dusty places. Dust irritates the nose and throat and makes it easy for you to catch influenza.
11. If smoking irritates your throat stop it for the same reason as above.
12. Drink plenty of water.
13. Eat enough, but not too much.
14. Keep your bowels open.
15. If you wish to use additional precautions ask your doctor.

IF YOU CATCH INFLUENZA.

1. If you feel feverish and have a headache, backache, or cold in your head, consult a doctor at once.
2. Stay in bed until you are absolutely well—at least three days.
3. If you have influenza or any cold, avoid giving it to your family, friends and others.
4. Never cough or sneeze without covering your nose and mouth with a handkerchief.
5. Do not spit on sidewalks, floors, street cars, or places where germs will spread.
6. Boil your handkerchiefs after they are washed.
7. Keep your rooms well ventilated.
8. Eat enough plain food, but not too much.
9. Drink plenty of water.
10. Keep your bowels open.

DOCTORS ARE MOBILIZED.

Call Physicians of Western States to Aid Fight on Influenza.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Mobilization of all the doctors in California, Nevada and Arizona to combat epidemics of Spanish influenza was ordered today by the United States public health service, it was announced here by Dr. W. C. Billings, sanitary officer of the service for California and Nevada. The public was warned by Dr. Billings to avoid picture shows, churches and all other places of assemblage until the epidemic has passed.

"The United States public health service earnestly requests every physician in the States of California, Nevada and Arizona who is willing, as a patriotic duty, to serve in any of these States during the present epidemic of influenza," Dr. Billings said. "Each surgeon should send his name to me, with his age and the school from which he graduated. The compensation will be $200 a month, traveling expenses and $4 a day for subsistence."

Dr. Billings referred to the epidemic as a "serious and imminent emergency," but urged the public "not to worry or be unduly alarmed." Ample measures have been taken to prevent any condition that might induce panic, he said.

Over 1000 cases were reported to Dr. Billings from California points today, but there were few deaths, and local health authorities were optimistic that the epidemic would be checked speedily. Some of the figures were:

Riverside, 160; Dunsmuir, 400; Needles, 150; Los Angeles, 86; Redwood City, 25; San Jose, 70; San Francisco, 236.

The influenza was not necessarily serious in itself, but adequate medical attention was necessary to prevent pneumonia, Dr. Billings said.

AT BAKERSFIELD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 10.—Preventive action taken early by Dr. C. A. Morris, Kern County Health Officer, is believed to have checked a widespread epidemic of Spanish influenza here despite the death of two women in widely-separated parts of the county. Several cases are reported at Wasco, and at Fellows the epidemic has reached its worst stage, it being necessary to close the schools.

In Bakersfield a number of cases have been reported in the lighter stages, but no deaths have occurred, and it is said by authorities that no stringent action similar to that taken in other cities will be needed to cope with the disease here.

NOT SERIOUS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 10.—Members of the City Council and Board of Education, in a joint session with county and city health authorities, today, decided that the epidemic of what is declared to be only a form of grip is not serious enough to warrant the closing of schools, theaters, churches and other public gathering places.

Dr. F. M. Gardner, City Health Officer, stated that there are no cases of Spanish influenza in San Bernardino. District Health Officer G. J. Telfer urged that schools should be kept open, because it makes it easier to locate cases, if they develop, and to prevent the spread. About 20 per cent. of the children in the local schools are absent from illness or fear that the epidemic may be influenza. The malady has made inroads upon the employees of the Santa Fe shops here, it is declared.

ACT AT SAN DIEGO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 10.—Dr. Charles Martin, City Health Officer, tonight issued a drastic order to close all places of amusement, such as theaters, moving-picture shows, dance halls and churches at midnight Saturday until further notice.

The order stated that it was to prevent the spread of influenza in and around the city as a measure of control for the further increase

THEATERS ALREADY SHUT.

In anticipation of the order to close their doors at 6 o'clock tonight six of the big stock and picture theaters closed down last night. Donald Bowles, manager of the Morosco, closed the show when the curtain went down at 10 o'clock last night, and as soon as their film entertainments were over last night the Alhambra, Tally's, the Kinema and Miller's theaters closed.

Among the big theaters which will close at the end of their matinees this afternoon are Clune's Broadway, Clune's Auditorium and the Orpheum. At 6 o'clock when the order from the Health Department becomes effective Pantages, Grauman's, Garrick, Superba, the Palace and all the others will close. Some of these theaters, especially the Orpheum and Pantages, which feature vaudeville, stand to lose large sums of money because of the necessity of cancelling high-salaried bookings.

PUT THE LOAN ACROSS ANYHOW!

Influenza Order Bars Big Parade and Tank and Industrial Meetings, but if Our Citizens will do Their Decent Duty We'll Succeed.

The burden of meeting Los Angeles Liberty Loan quota has been shifted from the shoulders of the committee to those of the individual citizen by reason of the order of the health authorities prohibiting public gatherings as a measure to prevent the spread of influenza.

Unless the ban is raised in favor of the out-of-door programmes to aid the sale of bonds the military parade and the special programme at the tank arranged for tomorrow will not take place. Chairman McKee said last night that it was all up to Dr. Powers, and Dr. Powers has ordained that the public must not group itself indoors or out of doors until further notice.

"Los Angeles should have pride enough," said Chairman McKee, "to rise to this opportunity and show the world that her citizens do not require the stimulus of the ballyhoo or the brass band to develop their patriotism. There is no excuse for any man, woman or child who can read words of one syllable failing to realize the crisis which confronts this city in its Liberty Loan activities. The figures are before you, and there is no order against your hunting up a bond salesman and writing your name against the very largest sum you can possibly loan the government, based on your future earning and profits."

The first official figures based upon subscriptions actually passing through the banks were given out last evening. They closely follow the estimates which have been published by The Times from day to day, and give no reason for exultation.

OUR SHOWING.

Out of a quota of $42,938,900 levied against Los Angeles, with 600,000 population, but $16,500,000 has been subscribed by 50,028 people. In the county $21,089,350 have been subscribed of a quota of $53,215,750. The nine Southern California counties are expected to produce $72,067,350, of which but $32,554,200 has been forthcoming. The Loan has eight working days left and with tank meetings, industrial plant meetings, and precinct meetings forbidden it is the bounden duty of the public to take the matter to heart and come through with increased subscriptions.

In this connection arrangements have been made for the establishment and publication of a Victory Honor Roll. This roll will be made up of subscribers who have already taken out bonds. The President has asked every American to buy more bonds. The original subscriptions will not put the loan over. Wherefor every 100 per cent. American is urged to present himself at Victory booth which has been set up at headquarters, No. 719 South Hill street. If you have subscribed $100 or $5000, or any other amount hustle down to Victory booth, take as many more bonds as you can possibly carry and your name will appear in public prints and honor lists; you will receive a special badge of honor, and will have again aided in making the loan a success. The roll will be ready this morning and by tomorrow night the committee hopes to have added $15,000,000 to the Los Angeles quota. "We must not let the news reach the boys in France," said Chairman McKee, "that this city has failed to do its part. Fifty-dollar bonds will not do it. The minimum subscriptions should be $100."

PITHLESS PUBLICITY.

The Investigating Committee through its many sources of information is investigating subscribers who hide behind small subscriptions when they are able to make adequate ones. The findings are to be made public and the subterfuge of "insufficient funds in the bank" will not be accepted as an excuse for the banks are ready to handle such subscriptions and be reimbursed in future earnings and profits.

STIRRING MESSAGE.

The following telegram was received last night by Leslie R. Henry, representative of the Federal Reserve Bank, from L. J. Franklin, national director of sales for the Fourth Liberty Loan:

"Despite suggestions of peace by Germany it is not at all likely that the war will be over in the near future. The American people must realize that irrespective of expenses incident to actual warfare, we have nearly 2,000,000 of our boys in France who must be transported home when finally the war is over, and until this enormous work is accomplished they must be paid, fed and clothed. Also the enormous merchant fleet now under construction must be completed irrespective of these expenditures.

"Any faltering by the American people now in this loan campaign would place a weapon of great potency in the hands of Germany. Now is the time to show that the American people are backing up our President in his determination to exact from our enemies terms which will insure against a repetition of the present crime of German autocracy."

The tank managers and committee are disconsolate over the closing order and are still hoping that it may be mitigated. They had arranged for a splendid line programme tonight, and tomorrow D. W. Griffith was to be in command and present an all-star programme topped off with a barbecue. "The tank has just struck its stride," said Manager Jessen, "and we would have raised a lot of money Friday and Saturday nights. I haven't seen a single influenza germ since the meetings started."

Subscriptions secured at the tank "Victory" in Central Park through the efforts of actors and actresses of the Roltn, Astra and Pathe film studios last night totaled $55,000. The largest individual subscription of $14,000 was made by Fannie Ward. The night's work put the tank's total $100 over its $1,000,000 quota.

The many interesting floats prepared for the parade which was to have been the big feature of Liberty Day will be retained so far as possible in the hope that the parade may yet be held before the close of the loan. The great aerial demonstration will occur as planned unless government orders intervene.

PLANES COMING.

One hundred and fifteen planes traveling at the rate of at least seventy-five miles an hour will leave March Field, Riverside, at about 10:30 tomorrow morning and traveling in bombing formation will fly over the city, the greatest armada of the air ever conceived exceeding by nearly fifty machines the largest number ever before assembled in this country in one flight.

The planes will be led by Maj. John C. P. Bartholf, commandant of March Field Aviation Camp, Riverside, Maj. Ernest Clark and Capt. William Alden Smith, will sweep over the city in massed bombing formation. There will be ten squadrons, each of ten machines. In the rear will be a group in formation of scout and stunt machines to act as the eyes of the bombing squadron. Previous to this time, the greatest number of machines ever seen in the air at any one time on the battle front or over any city in the world has been sixty-eight. This is a record flight and the first time ever attempted when so many machines were used. The squadron will cover an area of three-fourths of a mile wide by two and one-half miles long, and the engines will be heard for a distance of ten or fifteen miles. When it is understood that it cost Uncle Sam from $20,000 to $30,000 to train and equip an aviator for service, a slight idea can be arrived at of the stupendousness of a flight of this kind and of the task ahead of Uncle Sam when he proposes and is going to put thousands of these machines and aviators over the German lines in the drive to Berlin.

This squadron is from March Field Camp near Riverside, where several hundred aviators are in process

WHAT MUST BE DONE.

The following subscriptions for Southern California counties had been reported up to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon together with the quota and number of subscribers. These figures speak eloquently of the big task, which is to be accomplished during the remaining eight working days of the campaign unless the loan in this part of the State is to be a humiliating failure:

County—	Quota.	Reported.	Number subscribers.
Imperial	$ 1,367,400	$ 795,150	5,086
Inyo	240,000	106,250	440
Los Angeles	$53,215,750	21,089,350	84,928
Orange	2,607,150	1,906,300	9,056
Riverside	1,640,550	1,174,250	3,095
San Bernardino	2,739,050	1,400,550	7,151

To Be a Leader You Must Dress Like One

THE men who pay strict attention to their clothes are the ones who hit on all cylinders in the pursuit of success. They know the importance of not missing fire in a matter of moment so much as personal appearance.

To be sure of having that right, a man must wear styles that are right—and you will find them in every suit or overcoat that bears the label—

Society Brand Clothes

These styles for men are first of all authentic. That means they are always in good taste—sensible. That they are refined and not foppish. Never extreme and yet they have a distinctive way about them that makes the man who wears them look distinguished.

Society Brand styles are hand tailored into every garment, and when the style's tailored in to stay in there's no way the garments can lose shape. The cloth may get old but the style stays young.

There is nothing better in fabric, fit and workmanship.

If that sounds good to you, you'll like the clothes even better. Come in and look them over at your leisure.

camps throughout the south. They realize the danger of commingling in public places. It surely then is the duty of the civilian population to take steps just as drastic.

"I hope and believe that it will not be necessary to keep the order in effect very long. Perhaps it can be rescinded within a week. At any rate I will advise the health department to lift the ban at the earliest opportunity. We must not forget that the health of the people and our soldiers and sailors at this time should be uppermost in our minds. Dollars can not be considered.

"Every military medical officer advised immediate action."

AT SHIPYARDS.

The shipyards at the harbor appear to be almost entirely free from influenza, probably because the men exercise constantly and perspire freely. Secretary Dunckles of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company declared last night that only a few cases of influenza had been found among the men.

"There have been six cases of bad colds this week," said he, "and the patients have all been sent to their homes for medical attention until cured. We are now exercising strict vigilance, and the medical department has orders to send home any workmen who appear to be suffering from colds and the grippe. I don't believe we will be seriously bothered by influenza."

Ralph J. Chandler says that not a case of influenza has been found at his shipyards. Precautions against it are being taken, however.

Capt. Spaulding, a medical officer of the navy, stationed at San Pedro said that the Y.M.C.A. and Knights of Columbus headquarters have been closed and that liberty leaves have been so reduced that none are granted except in most urgent cases. He said there are fifty-six cases now and more are breaking every day. Of ninety-five men who arrived the other day from Memphis, forty are down with influenza. There are 180 cases at the hospital camp in Ascot Park.

The military department of the University of Southern California yesterday issued orders that there shall be no more leaves of absence and strict rules regarding prevention of a spread of the disease were laid down.

SCHOOL CLOSED.

Harvard Military School was closed yesterday morning for a period of at least one week, upon voluntary order from Headmaster Gooden, who said he considered it an advisable precaution because nearly forty pupils of the Harvard boarding school were confined to the institution's hospital as a result of influenza.

"The cases are all light—scarcely more than severe colds, but they are so numerous that I considered it unwise to keep the school open the remainder of the week. All of the boys are recovering. There are 290 pupils enrolled, but most of them are boys who reside at home. The sickness broke out among those who board at the school."

IN THE SCHOOLS.

Several cases of the disease have been reported in the schools, it was stated yesterday by Dr. Herbert F. True, acting director of health in the schools. The cases, he said, are scattered, and there is no need for alarm. From twelve to fifteen of the visiting school nurses have been pressed into service and are working with other medical authorities. He has heard of no deaths.

A number of pupils coming to school with head colds were excluded from classes yesterday. A few, suddenly attacked by the disease, were prostrated, it was stated, and had to be conveyed to their home.

Three teachers have contracted influenza from outside sources, it was learned. All are under treatment. Two are employed at San Pedro and one at the Trinity-street school here. One of the school nurses, recently employed, contracted the disease from outside sources, Dr. True said.

IN THE COUNTY.

Dr. J. L. Pomeroy yesterday closed the Hawthorne school, where about thirty-five cases had been reported. Eight or ten cases have developed in the Lawndale school, which may be ordered closed. Other cases are reported in the Hawthorne district.

The center of the epidemic, Dr. Pomeroy says, is south of Los Angeles, between this city and San Pedro. He says a good many cases have been reported in the harbor shipyards. Although the Mayor and the city health officers held a conference yesterday afternoon, Dr. Pomeroy said he was not notified, and consequently knows nothing of the spread of the influenza in the city.

Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, stated that not only the Hawthorne school, but other county schools will be closed if the necessity arises.

Mrs. A. Jansen, municipal nurse at Sierra Madre, yesterday sent home three grade school pupils, whom she suspected of being afflicted with influenza. She asserted that each of the cases was mild in its nature.

IN HOSPITALS.

At the County Hospital yesterday Medical Director J. M. Lacey stated that there were on the patient list eight cases of pneumonia which had developed from colds and influenza. In addition there were about twenty cases of severe colds and grip, which he said might be catalogued as ordinary influenza.

"Several cases of influenza or pneumonia from influenza are coming into the hospital each day," said Dr. Lacey. "The influenza appears to run from three to six days if patients go to bed and stay there from the beginning until they recover, but if they don't take good care of themselves pneumonia is likely to develop."

Dr. Lacey says he thinks the public would be greatly relieved if a good shower or two would happen along. He is of the impression that rain would stamp out a good deal of colds, grip and influenza.

Other hospitals in the city report that they have received numerous applications for the admission of influenza patients, but that their wards have been so well filled with surgery cases that they have had no room for epidemic patients.

The Methodist Hospital has had an opportunity to admit three or four influenza patients per day, but has declined to take them. The California Hospital, overcrowded, has refused several influenza patients daily. The Pacific Hospital had one case of influenza this week, but the patient was discharged in two days.

At the Receiving Hospital the physicians and nurses made preparations for giving whatever aid and advice may be needed.

JAIL QUARANTINED?

That the City Jail may be placed under quarantine today, was the announcement from the Chief's office. This action may be made necessary by the fact that a case of suspected influenza was turned into the jail, from there to the Receiving Hospital, and then sent to the County Hospital.

The case came to the attention of the authorities when J. W. Philbrook was taken out of the cell in the jail and led before his exemption board. There the physician declared him a victim of influenza and ordered the man back to the jail. He was taken to the hospital instead.

Unless the orders are changed today, no visitors will be allowed in the City Jail from today, it was stated at the Jailor's office. Another preventive measure is contemplated, to be adopted for the watch gatherings of the patrolmen in the assembly rooms.

Since October 1, the Receiving Hospital records show thirty-seven cases of Spanish influenza treated there, under the various subdivisions connected with the symptoms of the disease.

Among those attending yesterday's conference were Capt. Spalding, a medical officer of the United States Navy; Maj. B. B. Ray, of the U.S.C.; Health Commissioner Taylor of Long Beach, Health Commissioner Black of Pasadena, Health Commissioner Powers, Police Chief Butler, City Prosecutor Widney, Dr. LeMoyne Wills, of the State Board of Health; Edward A. Ingham, of the State Board of Health, and Drs. George L. Cole, J. R. French, S. D. Brooks, H. F. True and S. S. Salusbury.

Health Commissioner Powers said it was not considered profitable nor practicable to quarantine. He said it could not be done to advantage while there are many people coming in daily from outside points.

STUDENT CORPS QUARANTINED

The Student Army Training Corps at the several colleges and universities in Los Angeles and vicinity have been placed under military quarantine upon instructions from Washington.

Dr. George F. Bovard, president of the University of Southern California, states that ten young men at his institution, who appear to be suffering from severe colds, have been isolated in a large house near the grounds, which was rented for that purpose a few days ago. There are two nurses and a physician in attendance.

"We have received orders from Washington to discontinue assemblies indoors," says Dr. Bovard, "so we are now holding recitations out on the bleachers. Instead of having long study period in assembly-rooms the young men are permitted to do their studying at their rooms in the barracks."

The order from Washington applies to the Student Army Training Corps at U.S.C., Occidental College and Throop College in Pasadena.

REDONDO BEACH ACTS.

The City Trustees at Redondo Beach last night passed a resolution ordering the closing forthwith of all public gathering places, including schools, churches, dance halls and the beach bath-house. All persons now afflicted shall be immediately placed under quarantine and no one except duly authorized physicians and delegated nurses are permitted to enter any place occupied by patients afflicted without being subject to quarantine restrictions. As City Health Officer D. R. Hancock is ill with pneumonia, the Redondo Trustees appointed Dr. A. T. Hendrie, health officer pro tem, with full power to carry out the provisions of the resolution. Acting Mayor Cullen presided at the meeting of the Redondo Trustees.

LONG BEACH.

At Long Beach last night, the City Council of Defense held a meeting and passed a resolution, equally drastic, urging the City Commission to take action at its meeting today. A member of the Commission, who was present, stated that there was no doubt but what the city's legislative body would provide regulations to cope with the situation which would become effective at 6 o'clock this evening. It was said at the Long Beach meeting that there are 400 cases of la grippe, if not influenza, in the beach city.

AT WHITTIER.

At Whittier last night City Health Officer W. H. Stokes stated that undoubtedly the Whittier health department would take steps today to close all public gathering places. Fifty cases of the malady have been reported, which, however, Dr. Stokes is not ready to confirm as influenza. One death occurred there yesterday, the victim being Arthur Hicks.

AT WATTS.

At Watts last evening Health Officer J. L. Land urged citizens to remain away from theaters, dance halls and other gathering places. It is probable that the schools will be closed. Several deaths among the Mexican population at Watts have been reported.

It is expected that the health authorities at San Bernardino will meet today, to discuss the situation in that city.

MUSICIAN DIES.

Former Organist for Local Theaters Is Stricken by Fatal Attack of Spanish Influenza.

John D. Carlisle, a prominent Los Angeles musician, died of Spanish influenza at Philadelphia last week after a brief illness. He was visiting his parents in that city, and had just played an opening engagement at the new Empress Theater there.

He was to have been married in a month to Miss Cora Westphal, a young business woman of this city, and his death comes as a shock to her. He also has a sister, Mrs. Fritzi Remant, here.

Mr. Carlisle was organist at the Kinema Theater and at Quinn's Rialto, and for four years was first tenor and assistant organist at St. Vibiana's Cathedral.

COUNTERFEITER AGAIN SENTENCED TO PRISON.

SERVED TERM BEFORE FOR MAKING BOGUS AMERICAN COINS.

Norris Pyron, a Texan, who was arrested here a few weeks ago on a charge of counterfeiting, was yesterday sentenced to fifteen years in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island. He was found guilty by a jury in Judge Trippet's department of the United States District Court.

Although but 29 years old, Pyron has already served thirteen years on McNeil's Island for counterfeiting. He was picked up first for passing a bad $5 gold piece at the harbor. After serving that sentence he went back to the old game. His downfall came when a little boy who was looking for his bean-shooter in a stair-street lodging-house where Pyron stayed, turned up the edge of a carpet and found several unfinished counterfeit coins there.

When sentence was pronounced, Pyron said he had apparently made a failure of life, and declared he would end it all whenever the opportunity presented itself.

HELMS ESTATE.

In a suit to determine inheritance tax, State Controller Chambers yesterday asked the probate court to appoint appraisers to ascertain the value of the property left by Emma Helms. It is alleged in the complaint that the Helm property in Los Angeles and in the Rancho La Ballona was transferred by Emma Helm in contemplation of death, and that the property is subject to an inheritance tax.

The War at Home

On Sedition Charge.

Roscoe Clancy, a former Camp Kearny soldier, was taken into custody yesterday, by Deputy United States Marshal O'Leary, on the charge of uttering seditious remarks. The prisoner is said to be a fugitive from justice in the northern district of California.

It is charged that Clancy said: "I am the man who dared cut down the American flag. To hades with the flag—what did it ever do for me?" Clancy is a former member of the California National Guard, and was picked up at Ventura.

Women Suffer at Home

ROSEBURG (Or.)—"I suffered something terrible, had displacement so bad that I could scarcely stand on my feet, also had inflammation. My head and back ached hard and I was weak and nervous. My legs and feet ached—would bloat, and I was troubled with constipation. I had a severe pain in my side. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets and they made me well and strong. Then, during middle life I again took these medicines and got through so well—was strong and well."—MRS. W. D. MOORE, 1246 N. Jackson st.

of the epidemic. Camp Kearny, the Naval Training Station at Balboa and all of the military stations near here are quarantined.

The closing order does not yet apply to schools, though the board of Health and the Board of Education meet Monday to take up the question.

There are said to be a few cases of influenza among civilians, though the greater number are at Camp Kearny and at the Naval Training Camp, where the epidemic started. None of the cases are of a serious type as yet.

APPEARS IN PASADENA.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, Oct. 10.—Chairman A. L. Hamilton of the City Commission, ex-official commissioner of the City Health Department, today issued a statement asking people with colds or who find themselves coughing or sneezing, to stay away from theaters, churches and all public gatherings, as a precaution against possible spread of influenza here.

A number of additional cases of influenza are reported here, but all of them are in mild form. Eight mild cases have developed at Throop College, and all the afflicted have been isolated. Moreover, by orders received today from the Adjutant-General, all furloughs and leaves of absence from the Throop College grounds have been suspended for the time being.

CALL TO DOCTORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—An urgent call for all physicians in the Central West to enroll immediately for the struggle against the present influenza epidemic was issued tonight by the United States Public Health Service.

Physicians, especially in Illinois, were urged to send their names at once to Senior Surgeon J. O. Cobb at the United States Marine Hospital, Chicago. A salary of $200 a month with traveling expenses and $4 a day hotel and subsistence allowance will be given those physicians selected for the work.

JUBILEE OFF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10.—On account of the epidemic of influenza, Cardinal Gibbons has decided not to hold a religious celebration of his golden jubilee of the Episcopate, which was announced for Sunday, October 20. The Cardinal considered it was stated at his residence today, that the "joyful character of such an occasion would hardly harmonize with the suffering and sorrow that so generally prevails."

He takes occasion to express "his heartfelt thanks to the members of the hierarchy of the United States, France, England, Canada and Mexico who had expressed their intention to be present."

TEN DEAD AT EL PASO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 10.—Ten deaths from influenza occurred here today, five at Fort Bliss and five within the city. Since yesterday at noon there have been twenty-two deaths at Fort Bliss and twelve in the city. Among those who died were Capt. J. D. Mess of the medical department, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and Rev. R. A. Waltrip, a Y.M.C.A. worker, who became ill while nursing influenza patients. There are 947 influenza and 248 pneumonia cases at Fort Bliss.

In the city there are 1500 cases. Since September 23 there have been forty-four deaths from influenza. The health officers believe that outside of the Mexican district the epidemic has been checked.

CRISIS PASSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—Reports received by the State Department of Health up to this evening indicated that the peak of the influenza epidemic in Massachusetts had been passed. Health officers in all but three or four sections reported a decrease, both in the number of cases and in the number of deaths.

WARNS THEATERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Warning that "short shrift" will be given any place of amusement neglecting the strictest attention to every sanitary and health-protecting regulation, as part of the campaign against Spanish influenza in this city was sounded tonight by Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner of Health. He also warns landlords that failure to provide sufficient heat for their tenants will lead to prosecution.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Anna Kidd, who is alleged to have secured a valuable wardrobe by charging articles of wearing apparel to the account of Mrs. F. C. Schilling, society woman of South Alvarado street, in a downtown department store, was arraigned before Superior Judge Craig yesterday. Entering a plea of not guilty Judge Craig set the trial for October 14.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE.

Vincente Espinoza, was yesterday placed in the County Jail on complaint of his wife that he has failed to provide for either herself or her seven children. Espinoza, is alleged to be making good wages working in the Imperial Valley, but the county has been supporting his family for the last two months. This is the third time Espinoza has been under arrest on the same charge.

Our Talk to Our Customers on The LIBERTY LOAN

TO MOST PEOPLE we do not feel that it is necessary to enlarge on the sound value of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds. Every man who has clipped his interest coupons on his other bonds has felt a little pang of regret that he did not take more bonds while he was buying.

Also, any person who reads the papers knows pretty well by this time why it is necessary to buy these bonds.

The children in the school know. The very felons in their cells have pieced together their slender moneys and bought bonds—wearing a new garment of patriotic decency from the torn rags of their lost citizenship.

There are few so ignorant—or so poor as to plead why they should not buy when these have bought.

But you may meet some few who are inclined to advance reasons why it is inconsistent to buy as many bonds as they obviously should.

Do not lend your ear in encouraging attention to the excuses of the bond slacker.

Tell him to write out his poor, meagre defense on a piece of paper and read it to his children after the war.

Tell him to put his excuses in his will, as explanation to his heirs why Liberty Bonds were not a greater part of his estate.

As for the rare individual who buys no bonds at all, tell him to go and offend the ears of someone else with his absurd and insincere arguments.

It is a fact that the bond slacker cannot keep his secret. It gnaws at his conscience and his only relief is to prate his excuses to his friends in the hope that someone will agree with him that he should not buy to his limit. So he talks and talks.

You will do a double duty—first by buying and second by discouraging the pitiful mouthings of the non-buyer who seeks from you some word of endorsement for his sorry failure to carry his share of the load.

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in a way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve.

PRIOR WILL FILED

Well-Known Venice Amusement Man Leaves Bulk of Estate to Widow.

The will of the late Col. [illegible] W. Prior, well-known amusement man who died at his home in Venice on September 22, was filed for probate yesterday. According to the will, which was made four years ago, all the property of the deceased is given to the widow, Annie L. Prior, with the exception of personal belongings and $5, which is bequeathed to a son, Frank R. Prior. It is believed that Col. Prior transferred most of his properties to relatives and others before his death.

ARRAIGN SOLDIER ON AUTO THEFT CHARGE

George Reves, private in the Twenty-second Infantry, Camp Kearney, was yesterday arraigned before Justice Hinshaw yesterday afternoon on charges of grand larceny. He is said to have stolen an automobile belonging to D. Kahrs of Pasadena. He was arrested last Tuesday at San Diego by Officer Irvin. Reves deserted at his hearing that he secured the machine as security for a loan of $400. He asked that several of his companions at Camp Kearney be subpoenaed as witnesses from the cantonment. He was committed to the County Jail in default of bonds of $1000.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Mrs. Denis.

Mrs. Henry Jensen (Echo Allen) was the motif for an elaborate luncheon at the Hotel Alexandria, at which Mrs. George J. Denis was hostess. Covers marked places for Mrs. Jensen, Mrs. Allan Balch, Mrs. Charles H. Harlow, Mrs. Mary Longstreet, Mrs. Michael Connell, Mrs. Harold Wren, Mrs. Samuel Dockweiler, Miss Louise Denis and Mrs. Z. Wells Reynolds, all of Washington, and Mrs. Denis.

Baron and Baroness de Ropp.

Baron and Baroness Alfred de Ropp are entertaining at dinner today, having as guests Misses May and Ida Webb of New York, Mrs. Ethel Earl, Mrs. C. H. Dudley, Mrs. Ida Morton, Mr. Fred Poisson and Mr. Burke.

Luncheon and Tea.

Mrs. Baylis F. Shepherd of No. 2400 South Hoover street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a tea which was in the nature of a reunion of members of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, residing in Los Angeles, and of which Mrs. Cameron Erskine Thom is regent. The guest of honor was Mrs. Burke Holliday of San Francisco, who is State historian of the California Colonial Dames.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Eagal of No. 2100 South avenue are making preparations for golden wedding anniversary when they will celebrate their golden wedding. Mr. Fagal is a Civil War veteran and a member of the Loyal Legion.

Distinguished Visitor.

In the person of Miss Brenda Francklynn, daughter of Gen. Francklynn of the British army, Los Angeles is entertaining a distinguished young woman, who comes here to speak in the interest of the Fatherless Children of France. Miss Francklynn, who is an intimate friend of the family of the late President Garfield, is a portrait and miniature painter, and last year at the invitation of the French government crossed the ocean to paint a portrait of Gen. Joffre. She is a grand-daughter of Admiral Hotham of the British navy. She is domiciled at the Trinity Hotel. On Monday she will speak at the Ebell Club, and on Friday, October 25, will be honor guest at the Friday Morning Club luncheon, where she will also speak. She will be the principal speaker at the meeting which opens the season of the Woman's Club at San Bernardino on October 16, and under the auspices of the D.A.R. will speak at Riverside the following day. At Redlands on October 18 she will speak under the auspices of the Fatherless Children of France Society, and on Monday, November 4, she will be honor guest at the noonday luncheon of the Woman's City Club, when she will speak.

By Miss Gage.

The home of former Gov. and Mrs. Henry T. Gage at Downey was the scene of a jolly all-day party, at which their daughter, Miss Fanita, was hostess. The party went down in the morning in time for luncheon and for a plunge in the swimming pool in the afternoon before dinner. Following the evening meal, the guests passed the time dancing. In the party were Misses Catherine Donovan, Leona Dukeman, Mary Louise Scharbarum and Lieut. Russell Van Barren, Cadet Lee Smith, Lieut. Sam Trenton and Jack Donovan. On the evening previous, Miss Schabarum entertained at dinner at the Athletic Club for Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gibbs, Catherine Donovan, Lieut. Russell Van Barren and Cadet Lee Smith.

Luncheon and Recital.

As a courtesy to Mrs. Harry R. Dunham of No. 3661 South Grand avenue, Mrs. Robert V. Kurrie of No. 1032 Hobart boulevard, Hollywood, entertained a group of friends at luncheon. Her table was a mass of pink La France roses, and corsage bouquets of Cecile Brunner roses were at each place marked for Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. William J. Cahill of New Brunswick, N. J.; Mrs. S. W. Sansula of Lake Forest, Ill.; Mmes. James C. Lester, William Kennard and Misses Margaret Hayes and Sarah Dunham. Following luncheon, Mrs. Lester entertained the guests with an impromptu recital. Mrs. Kurrie has only recently come here from New York.

Luncheon.

Mrs. J. N. Wilson yesterday entertained at luncheon half a dozen Los Angeles friends at her country home near Covina.

For Washington Visitor.

Mrs. Fenton Bradford of Washington and her mother, Mrs. M. J. Golden of West Twenty-eighth street were honor guests at a pretty luncheon at which Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lindley of Covina assembled a group of Los Angeles friends of the honorees.

By Miss St. Denis.

Miss Ruth St. Dennis (Mrs. Ted Shawn) was hostess at a charming tea, at which there were a number of officers from the French mission, including Capt. (Le Baron) Ghislain, Lieut. D'Assignies, Lieut. Albert Cadot, Lieut. Alfred Sorriano and Lieut. Butterfield of the British army; Lieut. Ted Shawn of Camp Kearny, Mr. L. Hyde of New York and Dr. Mott-Smith of Washington and Misses Edna Niles, C. Brendle, McRae, Mabel Poillon, Rosal Hill, Mrs. Edwins Hamilton, Mrs. June Hamilton Rhoden and Mrs. May Mott-Smith Small.

After Year's Absence.

After an absence of a year, traveling all through Canada, the East and the South, Mr. Sydney Francis Hoben of Los Angeles and Pasadena returned yesterday afternoon. In Quebec, Mr. Hoben and Mr. and Mrs. King Gillette met and in New York and Washington and Philadelphia he was entertained by members of the diplomatic and army set. He visited in various cities in Virginia, in Nashville, New Orleans, San Antonio and El Paso, as well as in other parts of the South. He will remain in Pasadena two months and then go East again on a concert tour.

Personals.

Mrs. William H. Anderson is home from a visit in San Diego with the family of her brother-in-law, T. O. Anderson.

Mrs. Daniel Innis, mother of Mrs. Willard J. Doran, left yesterday for Wichita, Kan. for a visit of several weeks.

Mlle. Georgette Corte leaves Saturday for Washington, where she is to accept an army commission as interperter and translator for the Aeronatic Service. Her young sister, Mlle. Elsie, is now in Philadelphia, awaiting orders to sail for France as an interperter for the American army. She has been commissioned a second lieutenant and looks quite natty in her military uniform. The girls are daughters of Mme. Adele Corte, and their father was Italian Ambassador to the United States and the girls were brought up in diplomatic circles here, in France and in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierpont Davis left yesterday for La Jolla, where they will pass the week-end with their two kiddies at their cottage Fern-cliff.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

A musical programme, in the hands of the Zoellner Quartette, will occupy the Friday Morning Club's time this morning. It will be the last musical programme for a long time, as the club programmes will be devoted to many war and peace subjects for many weeks to come.

Big Sister League.

The Big Sister League met at Normal Hill Center yesterday afternoon. The attendance was very meager, because of the prior claim of the Liberty Loan campaign. Mrs. M. E. Johnson resigned the presidency and Mrs. E. B. Welrick was appointed unanimously in her stead. Mrs. Johnson was not present, and Mrs. R. D. Richardson, vice-president, presided for the first part of the meeting. A series of by-laws were adopted, setting the league on a more efficient footing. It will be governed by a board of directors of six elected members, with Mrs. Minnie Barton, permanent superintendent of the Training Home, by terms of the lease on that building, as a perpetual member, in addition to two further members appointed by the board itself.

An important question arising was that of turning over the Training Home and the vocational building, recently donated by the Woman's City Club, to the City Council. Mrs. E. E. Leighton, the Mayor's sister, has made this question possible of discussion, and there seems good promise of the city subsequently accepting responsibility for the important work of the Woman's Training Home, which cares for destitute and delinquent women, and encourages the system of probation for them, with eminently happy results. It was voted to call a general meeting of the league forthwith to discuss ways and means.

In which connection it is interesting to observe that the Woman's Legislative Council, in session at San Francisco, will today deal with a similar question, and plans for financing and constructing a home near Los Angeles for women who have become "social outcasts" will form the chief item on the programme. The council opened its conferences yesterday, when organizing matters were dealt with.

THIRTY TAKE OATH

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 10.—Thirty alien soldiers from March Field have taken the oath of allegiance and become citizens of the United States, the men appearing before Judge Hugh H. Craig in a body. Most of the soldiers were subjects of the British Empire; two were from Sweden, two from Russia, one from Italy and one from Germany, the latter being closely questioned by the judge. The German expressed his complete willingness to fight with the United States forces against the forces of the Kaiser.

FLASHES.

ACTOR FINDS FATHER.

HAL COOLEY, INCE LEADING MAN, DISCOVERS DAD.

By Grace Kingsley.

She's just exactly like one of the heroines she plays, is that cute Constance Talmadge! Just to think of going around sleuth-footing until you dig up a perfectly good papa and a family tree for a friend of yours. That's what Miss Talmadge did for Hal Cooley, the debonair young leading man, now supporting Enid Bennett in a Thomas H. Ince photoplay, now in course of production. She did it the last time she was in New York, that is, she started the investigation, and sister Natalie Talmadge, also a picture actress, finished it.

And he turned out to be a most respectable, not to say distinguished, papa, at that—no other than Mr. George Burr, a descendant of Aaron Burr, and a well-known business man of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Burr, it seems, had also been searching for his son for the last twenty years or so, and so Miss Talmadge was the means of restoring father and son—touchingly if figuratively—to each other's arms, with the literal part to happen later, when Mr. Cooley goes to New York, which he expects to do soon, and in the meantime is signing all his checks and other important papers "Hal Burr."

The way it happens was that the actor's mother left his father when Hal was a baby, took him away from New York, and never let him know his real name, or who his father was. Later she married one of the wealthy manufacturers of the country, but nursing her old grudge, whatever it was, always remained obdurate as to letting the boy know concerning his father. Somehow, a few months ago, looking through some old papers which came into his possession through the death of a relative, Mr. Cooley found out his father's name, but not his address. Talking to the Talmadge girls, his friends, one day, he told them all about it, and besought Constance to try to find one George Burr when she went to New York. She did so, got him on the phone, and found that evidently Mr. Burr, Sr., isn't much of a picture fan, for she discovered that George Burr has been looking for his long-lost son, very pink and very squally when he saw him last, but loved as the offspring of the Burr family tree. Now the popular young actor and his father are in constant correspondence, and Mr. Burr promises to come West if son Hal doesn't soon show up in New York.

May Allison Come-back.

Any time you think you are going to outwit the blonde May Allison you've got another guess coming. The other night when she was speaking for the Liberty Loan drive at Central Park the chairman of the occasion, J. R. Jessen, thinking to compliment her, following her success, made her a bow as he said: "Well, of course, I know you were born in Georgia, but you looked so angelic up there, you might easily have announced yourself as coming from heaven."

Miss Allison came right back. "But do you think, Mr. Jessen," she asked demurely, "that it's good taste when in another place to be always advertising one's home town?"

Good Business for Cupid.

It's a poor day for Cupid when he doesn't bring down an army man despite the little fellow's old-fashioned weapon. Yesterday word reached this department that two actresses fairly well known in this city have wed, respectively, two officers in the army. Amanda Gray, vaudeville star, has just married in Chicago Capt. R. C. Fryman of the British Royal Air Force, holder of three English and two French war crosses, the two having been engaged since 1914. The other martial benedict is Col. Henry D. Thomason, commanding officer at Fort Ontario, who a few days ago wed Adeline O'Connor, who will be remembered as playing the lead here last season at the Mason in "The House of Glass." Col. Thomason is 59 years old, and this is the third time he has been married. Col. Thomason first met Miss O'Connor in the studio of her brother, Andrew O'Connor, Jr., a well-known sculptor, in Malden, Mass., seventeen years ago.

Jazzes 'em Up.

Jean Havez is of the opinion the Liberty Loan speeches need brightening up a bit, and he is writing some speeches with humorous bits interspersed, for the use of loan workers who speak at the theaters.

Fell for Vaudeville.

We shall shortly have with us at the Orpheum no less a person than George H. Perkins, formerly of the team of Martin and Perkins, but lately of the aviation service. Mr. Perkins was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and met with a fall a few weeks ago, when he took a tumble of 1000 feet with his airplane. Fully recovered from his injuries, and honorably discharged, he is back on the vaudeville stage.

Al Garcia at Work.

That good samaritan, Al Garcia, the well-known leading man, has just returned to the Fox studio after several weeks spent in the hospital as the result of a broken artery. The accident occurred at Seventh and Figueroa streets, when Mr. Garcia aided in lifting an automobile from the body of a man who had been run over by the machine. Mr. Garcia is playing a leading role in support of Madlaine Traverse, the new Fox star, in her first picture made in the West, entitled "The Danger Zone."

Halo for Goldfish.

A perfect halo of pure patriotism these days surrounds the head of Samuel Goldfish, president of the Goldwyn picture organization. It's all because of the fact the Goldwyn companies are to aid the government in conserving coal by coming to California.

"Dr. Garfield decided that by conserving the coal required for the heating and lighting of the studios in the East we could render a signal service," said Mr. Goldfish, in making the announcement concerning the leasing of space at the Triangle Culver City studios by Goldwyn, "so we decided that it was our plain duty to give up our plant at Fort Lee."

Mr. Goldfish's personal announcement leaves it plain that in future all the productions of Geraldine Farrar, Pauline Fredericks, Mabel Normand, Madge Kennedy, Mae Marsh and Tom Moore, as well as those written by Rex Beach, will be photographed on the Coast.

GUILD REPORTS WORK.

Activities for War Relief and Help Given Poor at Home are Described.

The annual meeting of the Needlework Guild was held Wednesday morning at the Ebell Club House. Mrs. Boyle Workman presided. Mrs. O. P. Clark reported that for the war relief work done by the guild $10,130.77 had been received and disbursed for materials and relief work from April, 1917, to April, 1918. Mrs. Charles Dick's report showed that 22,570 garments had been made by the guild and sent out for war relief.

The report of the local charitable work of the guild showed that 12,597 new garments had been gathered in and these distributed to sixty-two different local charitable institutions. Mrs. Aletha Gilbert gave a talk, mentioning the definite assistance the Needlework Guild had been in her city work. Mr. McLaughlin of the outdoor county relief work told of present conditions and needs of the poor of the city, stating that he knows now of 1746 families having children who are in great need of clothing, and the authorities are looking to the guild to relieve this situation.

PROBATION DENIED DRUG STORE ROBBER.

Denying his application for a parole, Superior Judge Craig yesterday sentenced Charles Wallace to an indeterminate sentence of one to fourteen years in San Quentin, following his conviction of burglary in the first degree.

Wallace was accused of having burglarized the drug store of Smith & Leggett on January 13, last. The application for probation was denied after Deputy District-Attorney Fricke showed the court that Wallace had previously served two terms in San Quentin on similar charges, and that he had a reputation of being a narcotic peddler.

DON'T GET RATTLED.

It is well to keep soberly in mind at this time the fact that fear kills almost as many people every year as disease. Because a few cases of Spanish influenza have been reported it does not follow that every swollen tonsil or weeping nostril is caused by this new form of grip. Now is the time to sit tight and not rock the boat.

GENERAL UPRISING.

This war is one of opportunities as well as a leveler of ranks. Godfrey Jones, who was merely an average Welsh coal miner when the war broke out, enlisted as a private and was early in the service in France. Through a conscientious and earnest attention to business—said business consisting in swatting the Hun—he was promoted from time to time and he is even now wearing the shoulder straps and insignia of a general. It was a general war for him.

CHANGED ATTITUDE.

It was but six months ago that a Prussian member of the Reichstag observed that "America's participation in the peace conference will probably be limited to an agreement to pay the score of the losses of the other nations in the war." That was when the Germans crossed the Aisne, going south. The German Chancellor is now asking for a peace based on the terms fixed by President Wilson. This comes when the German legions have crossed the Aisne, going north. Before the present offensive reaches the Rhine Germany will be begging for peace at any price. Like all braggarts, the Hun is a quitter.

A LA WOLFF AGENCY.

Gen. Haig's communique telling that the British and American troops are already twelve miles past the Hindenburg line and are going farther as fast as their legs can carry them is great reading. It may even cause a few of us to become boisterous. But wait until Ludendorff explains. He is pretty certain to report to the Reichstag on Saturday that the German troops were simply withdrawing in accordance with President Wilson's demand that all foreign territory be released before peace negotiations begin. That some 15,000 soldiers remained behind and were captured was of course due to a misreading of the order for retirement.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Misunderstanding has been created regarding the United States government's request that no nonessential buildings shall be constructed during the war period. A perusal of the government circular reveals that there is no inhibition against making repairs or extensions to existing buildings, provided the gross cost in each instance is not more than $2500. The object of the government order is, of course, to prevent the expenditure of material and labor in nonessentials at this time. But this does not mean that necessary repairs shall not be made or that building construction wholly cease. It only requires that special permits shall be secured where the cost of construction, alteration or repairs is more than $2500.

RESTORE THE MONEY!

Atty.-Gen. Webb has written an opinion approving the action of the State Treasurer in refusing to pay the warrants of the political propagandists hired by the Social Insurance Commission. The validity of the warrants was contested on the ground that the services performed had not been in the line of investigations contemplated in the act creating that commission. The commission was created by the late unlamented Legislature for the purpose of conferring a peacock feather on Chester Rowell, its great Mogul, and to aid in an effort to write into the Constitution a compulsory health insurance act. Instead of conducting investigations to determine whether compulsory health insurance is a public necessity the commission established publicity bureaus in the large cities of the State and started a propaganda in favor of the compulsory health amendment.

Six months ago The Times protested editorially that the appropriation made by the Legislature to investigate compulsory health assurance was being misapplied. As the campaign has progressed the misuse of State funds became so glaring that the State Treasurer made a protest. The action of the Attorney-General will prevent the misapplication of further State funds by the Social Insurance Commission. But how about the thousands already misspent? A restitution by Mr. Rowell and his associates of money wrongfully collected is in order.

GAINING OUR OBJECTIVES.

Eloquent speakers, loyal, whole-hearted patriots, have iterated and reiterated the cry that America must fight on if necessary to the last dollar and the last drop of blood, until every objective for which this nation entered the war has been absolutely and permanently gained.

Yes, without reckoning the cost either in dollars and cents or in human lives, till our objectives have been gained, we must carry on, fight on, apply force without stint and accept sacrifice without murmuring.

Having acknowledged this duty, braced in this unbreakable determination, our people must go on to consider the transcendent question, whose answer uncovers the basis of the horror and the tragedy which we, as a Christian nation, were unable to avoid. For what purpose and to what end did America draw the sword and so accept the fearful responsibility of acting as arbiter in the future rearrangements of international rights and wrongs, penalties and rewards?

From his first utterance, when he asked the American people eighteen months ago for the right to intervene in the most decisive war in the world's history, our President made it abundantly clear what were the objects for which we were compelled to take up arms—till which were attained we would never lay them down again. In every war speech, in every address and message to our own people, to our allies, to our enemies President Wilson has never swerved from those original objects and with the possibility of peace at last almost in sight he will not swerve from them now.

On April 3, 1917, while the world was threatened by an arrogant and unscrupulous despotism and the rights of the United States were contemptuously defied, the President defined the attitude of this nation toward the general destroyer:

"Our objective is to vindicate the principle of peace and justice in the life of the world as against selfish and autocratic power, and to set up among the really free and self-governed people of the world such a concert of purpose and of action as will henceforth insure the observation of these principles."

To a humbled and baffled Germany, at last brought to the realization of its iniquitous folly, President Wilson speaks in almost identical terms:

"These are the issues and they must be settled . . . with a full and unequivocal acceptance of the principle that the interest of the weakest is as sacred as the interest of the strongest."

In the name of God and humanity America must and shall gain these objectives, for which our wives and mothers have sent forth their husbands and sons to suffering and death, our citizens have abrogated rights and privileges willingly and thankfully, our manhood and our womanhood have given everything they have long held dear and precious.

This great objective of impartial justice we will gain at any sacrifice—and we will administer it as our President has declared it should be administered in perhaps the noblest language ever used to express the splendor of altruism:

"The impartial justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be a justice that plays no favorites and knows no standard but the equal rights of the several people concerned."

These are our objectives in the war. For them we will sacrifice every needful dollar, every needful comfort and privilege, every needful life—if so God wills, on the battlefield—everything that honor and decency and justice demand.

But it would be a crime unspeakable to unnecessarily lead to slaughter one more brave American fighter or to desolate one more American home than our real, our true objectives require. American patriotism and devotion are unstinted, but American heartstrings are not deadened, American love is not cold. We have given prodigally of our sons, but we cannot be ruthless; we shall not spend one more life than we must.

Beyond what is necessary for the attainment of our objectives, for the fulfillment of our pledged word, our army in the field and our people in the home will not go. In the rage for victory, in the fury of vengeance, in the passion of hate, the resentment for hideous and foul injuries inflicted, no American blood shall be unnecessarily shed, no wanton destruction tolerated. Our fighters will exchange blow for blow with the Huns, but never outrage for outrage. Our armies do not kill for the sake of killing, nor destroy for the sake of destruction.

Our President has clearly defined the objects for which alone the United States is fighting, on the attainment of which we are ready again to sheathe the sword. Yet there are hot-headed and passion-blinded enthusiasts who cry: "Let the fighting go on till our men have crossed the Rhine and inflicted on the Boche the same terrors and infamies that he has inflicted on the victims of his rage and his fury."

What! Shall women and girls be raped again; shall villages be wantonly desecrated; shall the early Hun horrors be repeated by the Christian crusaders in the provinces across the Rhine and on the road to Berlin that the blood of German innocents may atone for the children and women massacred and ravaged by the Beast of Berlin?

Shall we beat the Beast by imitating the Beast? Shall we justify Christ in the name of Attila?

Can you, who know our boys and their training and their home influences, before they were called to arms to defend the weak against the wicked, can you imagine the American soldier savagely and in cold blood burning the homes of helpless peasants and uprooting their orchards and leveling their houses of worship in the dust?

Can you picture the brave, chivalrous American fighter "paying back the Hun in his own coin?"—as some extremists are urging him to do under the cry of "On to Berlin and no peace!"

What is the coin of the Hun with which clean Americanism is thus asked to soil its hands?

The figures on these Hun coins are those of ravished virgins, emasculated men, crucified prisoners, mutilated children, murdered civilians on the darker side—and on the side exposed of families torn asunder, of children sold into virtual slavery, of plunder and loot and confiscation, or ruthlessly-wrecked homes and needlessly-pulverized cities.

Do we want to inscribe these figures on our sterling American coins?

Is there an officer in the American army who could give such orders as the Prussian officers have given to their underlings? Is there an American soldier who would obey such an order if it could be given? Is there a true American citizen who wishes to see blood shed unnecessarily to give a spectacular finish to the fearful world tragedy?

America is not engaged in war of reprisal and passion and hate—but of justice to all, even to those "to whom we do not wish to be just."

"Vengeance is Mine; I will repay, saith the Lord."

THE ERA OF LIBERTY.

In 1492 the discovery of the continent of America opened a new era in the world's history. Consequences undreamed of by the wisest heads of Europe followed the bold expedition of Columbus into unsailed seas.

Today an expedition far greater, and fraught with even more far-reaching possibilities than that of the "Brave Admiral," lies ahead. It is not a new world to be discovered that awaits us now—but an old world to be remade. It is not an open ocean upon which we may sail to victory, but a cluttered path through the labyrinth of human affairs created by centuries of despotism on the part of rulers and ignorance on the part of the ruled. The torn and distorted map of Europe is to be reconstructed; oppression and injustice are to be righted.

If the clear and definite purposes stated by our President as the goal of our own army and of our allies are to be carried out we are on the verge of a new epoch in world history—an era when the people of many nations shall learn for the first time the meaning of the word "Liberty." If these words, which have been the inspiration of our fighting men and of our nation in the tremendous efforts of the past eighteen months and which have been accepted without dissent, indeed with enthusiasm, by our allies, are to be made good, the cessation of warfare is but the beginning of a period of even greater moment than that we have experienced in the past four years of slaughter.

People who have never before voiced their own will are to be given an opportunity to speak; governments which shall represent the people they rule are to be established; boundary lines are to be relaid according to the rights of the nations concerned, instead of the greed and cunning of autocrats and diplomats. Russia, Germany and the smaller nations which have been so long the buffers in the game of grab must be placed under stable governments which shall recognize and insure the rights of the people—all of this must be done before the ideal of peace—the League of Nations—can become a reality.

The Central Powers may collapse; battles may cease—but the great task on which the United States has set out and which she is promising herself and the world at large to see through to the finish—is far from completion—men, money, the undaunted spirit of self-sacrifice will be needed tomorrow, as well as today—next year as well as this year.

It is truly an uncharted sea that lies ahead of us. We know the end for which we have given our life's blood and our dollars—but the road which must be traveled to reach that end, to see peace—a victorious, lasting peace, firmly based upon liberty, for nations which have never had any conception of liberty—as we Americans know it—is going to be a long and difficult route to travel. After all we have given and sacrificed we cannot afford to hold back our hands before reaching the goal which means so much to the suffering, oppressed peoples of Europe and to the unborn generations to come—before the noble vision put into words by President Wilson is triumphantly achieved.

And the immediate and practical duty of every American citizen is to support our army and navy, our proclamations and our President by supporting the Fourth Liberty Loan—until every last dollar asked for by our government is paid into the treasury of the United States. To buy more bonds may mean a self-denial to which we are not used—it may mean giving up cherished plans or pet indulgences—but are not the time and the need great enough to justify giving up everything that we have to offer? What can we, who stay at home, give that counts beside the lives which our soldiers have offered—have laid down—are still sacrificing freely? Give dollars if you have to go out and get them to give. Give dollars if you have to cut down your income. Give dollars if you have to go without "things"—the everlasting "things" with which we burden existence. And, after all, you are not giving your dollars—you can't match them with the lives that have been dedicated to the cause of liberty—you are only loaning them at a fair rate of interest. There can be no comparison between money, even six billions of dollars, and human lives—between gold in any amount, and the agony of tears and suffering.

MOUNTAINEER TONGUE INTERPRETED

Fall residents of an Eastern Pennsylvania mountain section are much impressed with the evidences of patriotism in the region.

Many a small, unpainted little house has its service star and our glorious flag draped in front of the little porch.

It's a fine picture to see a gray-haired mother in her rocking chair between the flags, knitting away on socks or sweater.

From one of these plain homes a bent and shaking old man stepped out for a walk on the State road.

A Philadelphia visitor asked a native standing by, "What's the matter with that poor old man?"

"He's got railroad tax yo!" was the answer, in all seriousness.

As long as the inquirer knew he meant locomotar ataxia the language sufficed.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

"GLORIOUS OPPORTUNITY."

The melting down of many bronze statues in Germany for the manufacture of munitions almost raises the hope in one's bosom that many American statues may go the same way. It may be a glorious opportunity to get rid of the worst atrocities in art extant in this country. Why wait until the statues are needed as bullets? The good work of melting down might well begin in Washington itself.—[Springfield Republican.

MORE TO COME.

Streets in France and in South American cities have been named for President Wilson and babies all over creation are to be called Woodrow and Wilson, and now a historic bridge at Tours, France, is to be known as Wilson Bridge. Next, a bridge over the Rhine, a highway to Potsdam and an avenue in Berlin!—[Savannah News.

OPPORTUNITY.

The President, take it from the press, whistles when he is happy, and Hindenburg, according to the Saturday Evening Post, whistles when he is worried. The next number, ladies and gentlemen, will be a duet.—New York Tribune.

THE LETTERS OF LEMUEL BEAN.

How New Yorkers View the Dollar Dinner.

BY ROY K. MOULTON.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW YORK.

Dear Folks:

There was a very good reason why I was sent out to take the food situation apart and see what makes it tick. You see the people who prefer food with their meals had become somewhat exercised over the report that dollar dinners only would be served on all the railroads controlled by Uncle Sam after October 1. My instructions were (1) to find out what the food situation was, if any; (2) to find out if ultimate consumers considered it possible for Uncle Sam to furnish good dinners at a dollar a throw.

For the benefit of those who may have to leave before the show is over, to catch the suburban trains, I will give the results of my investigations now, as follows:

(1.) If one can get along without eating or sleeping, he can live just as cheaply in New York as elsewhere.

(2.) Uncle Sam may take a man's measure for a good meal-o-vittles for one dollar, but he won't be able to throw in any extra pair of pants.

The trouble with food investigations in the past has been that they have been conducted by scientists. Now my experience with scientists has been that, while they understand calories and can tell how many heat units there are in a mile of spaghetti, or a bushel of seaweed, they really don't understand food. So I conducted my investigation among cliff dwellers, the three-room-kitchenette microbes who look upon the first of every month as a more important date than the date upon which Columbus discovered America, but failed to discover how to live in it.

I have lived among these people a long time, and to them I turned instinctively. Many of them were highly skeptical of Uncle Sam's ability to furnish good meals at one dollar. "Uncle Sam may be an economical cook," said Aloysius W. Pettigill of 1654 West One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street, "and it may be that he has some food hoarded away that we know nothing about, but it is my opinion, after years of prowling among the jazzarimba joints of this city, that if he furnishes a meal for one buck he will have to omit all the items between the soup and the nuts."

"I don't believe Uncle Sam realizes just what he is up against," said Zebulun J. Goldfish of 3175 Riverside Drive, "or perhaps he has the right slant on prices and is just going into the food business to show up the cafe owners here in town. It is the first time in two years that I have heard it was possible to obtain a meal for less than $3.65."

"I regard the dollar dinner as more Democratic propaganda," said Salathiel H. Hudnutt, a prominent Republican office-seeker who held the office of notary public from 1888 to 1901 in the face of an overwhelming Democratic plurality in his district, when I interviewed him in his palatial home on the nineteenth floor of the Rhinestone apartments, 3765 West One Hundred and Sixty-seventh street. "With the President taking the railroads and giving them to his son-in-law," he continued, "selling dinners for a dollar is an easy matter. The present prices charged in New York cafes tend to make the dollar dinner impossible from a money-making standpoint. The average dinner which sells for $3 on Broadway or Fifth avenue costs the restaurant proprietor $7.81. Any restaurant man will admit it. The dollar dinner is a vote-catcher exclusively. As a solid business proposition it is out of the question."

"It can't be done," said Mr. Ichabod W. Tubbs of 4378 Amsterdam avenue. Mr. Tubbs was one of the prominent citizens who first predicted that Uncle Sam couldn't land a hundred thousand men in France in nine years. His opinion, therefore, must not be taken lightly. Besides, Mr. Tubbs is a considerable stockholder in several high-toned eateries of New York, and when he says a dinner cannot be served for one dollar he knows what he is talking about.

Nearly all the people I interviewed told me that food prices were high in New York. I had little difficulty in proving this. I set about it immediately. The first intimation I had that those people had told me the exact truth came when I entered a prominent cafe, which has a Herzegovinian field marshal out in front opening the carriage doors. I felt as much at home as somebody's pet goldfish in the Central Park lagoon.

The waiter who drew my number was of the sunburned brotherhood now so numerously represented in the gilded nose-baggeries. I mumbled something about a porterhouse steak with mushrooms and he said: "Excuse me, colonel, but was yo' all tryin' to order something or was you just reminiscin' old times?"

After showing my birth certificate and strawberry mark of identification and my draft registration card I was permitted to pay 40 cents for a one-half of a 5-cent cantaloupe, 90 cents for a dish of string beans and 45 cents for a pot of coffee. I came to the conclusion that prices were not only steep, but in fact perpendicular.

The more I lingered there, the more firmly impressed I became with the idea that the dollar dinner is never going to keep a strong man from eating the leather cover of his pocket notebook. Judging by what I had there for $9.85, it must cost $1 for a glass of water and $1.75 if there is a piece of ice in it. After I got through dining I went to a one-armed caravansary where you juggle your own, and got something to eat.

Hoping you are the same, I remain,

Yours,

LEM.

THE WAR MACHINE.

The mighty German war machine
Is busted in the road; the greatest engine ever seen broke down beneath its load. The wise mechanics flock around and try to make repairs; old Hindenburg, he paws the ground, and Chuffer Wilhelm swears.
Says Ludendorff, "This blamed old boat will never run again; it's lost its everlasting goat and we are hoodooed men." The kronprins, smeared with mud and grease, crawls from beneath the car and says, "Perhaps a plea for peace, just now, would travel far. While this old ark could hit the plain at fifty miles an hour, all talk of peace gave me a pain—
I gloried in its power. But while we pushed it we forgot, methinks, to knock on wood; our Jonah's got us now, I wot, and peace looks pretty good." And then exclaims his haughty sire, "The blame must go your way; you would put on that worn-out tire that blew out every day. If me und Gott had run this boat, with none to interfere, I would not mourn my royal goat which you made disappear." Says Hindenburg,
"The motor's works kick up an awful din; we'll have to telephone the Turks to come and haul us in." The war machine is in the ditch, a sad and ghastly wreck, and Wilhelm mourns, in doleful pitch, the windshield round his neck.

WALT MASON.

AUTOCRAT, ANARCHIST.

By Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr.

There is little difference, in principle or methods, between the super-autocrat on the one hand and the super-anarchist on the other. The Kaiser denounced his solemn treaties as "scraps of paper" and entered on warfare without precedent for barbarity. The I.W.W.'s declare that "No terms made with an employer are final," and they put spikes in saw logs to bring death to innocent men, put poison in wells to kill innocent women and children, and take any other "direct action" that seems likely to serve their temporary selfish ends. Neither the Kaiser on the one hand nor the I.W.W. on the other can see that temporary advantages thus gained will be more than overcome by permanent losses in the end. Between these two extremes of autocracy and anarchy the great mass of the people of all nations must work out the destiny of the human race—establishing the reign of law. The autocrat and the anarchist have one principle in common—they believe in government by men, not government by law. If Haywood and the Kaiser were to change places each would pursue the policies practiced by the other. The real test of the fitness of a man to participate in the social organization is whether he believes in and consistently upholds government by law. To the extent that he believes in or consents to government by men independent of law, he is either an autocrat or an anarchist. It makes little difference which.

AGE AND WAR.

Abraham Lincoln was 39 years old and a member of Congress when he wrote:

"My old withered, dry eyes are full of tears yet." In the same year he wrote: "I suppose I am now one of the old men; and I declare, on my veracity which I think is good with you, that nothing could afford me more satisfaction than to learn that you and others of my young friends at home are doing battle in the contest, and endearing themselves to the people, and taking a stand far above any I have been able to take in their admiration."

We are now in a time more critical than Lincoln's. Why is it that old men are conducting the nations in this emergency? Would not one have said that after four years of unexampled strain, when every country is seeking efficiency as never before, men of 35 to 45 would have risen to the highest places? What do we find? Hindenburg is 71. The Prime Minister of France is 77. Gen. Foch is 67. As this war goes, Ludendorff is young. He is 53. Young also is Lloyd George; he is 55. The greatest worker associated with him, Lord Milner, is 64. Kitchener was 66. You can't explain it away by any theory of young men not having their chance, for these days the search everywhere is for force. For some reason or other a man in his forties has now come to be looked upon as young.

"It is," said Dr. Johnson, "a hopeless endeavor to unite the contrarities of spring and winter." Apparently it is not hopeless, yet it is indeed surprising that no Nelson, Pitt or Napoleon, in point of youth, has been thrown up by the war, except Kerensky, who lasted but a little. While youth and early middle life are on the whole the most efficient eras, the rule evidently needs reserve in its application. Perhaps frequently the most efficient are those who combine long experience with a vitality unusual at their age. Lincoln knew how to express himself. He said: "A fellow once advertised that he had made a discovery by which he could make a new man out of an old one, and have enough left over to make a little yellow dog."

Obviously the fellow was no quack.—[Norman Hapgood in Leslie's.

There should be no optimistic belief in this country that the Allies will soon capture Metz. It is regarded as one of the strongest fortresses in the world. It was first encircled with fortifications by the Roman legions and the work has been going on at intervals ever since. It might be isolated as it was by the Germans in 1870, when its surrender was compelled. But at the present it is foolish to claim that it can be easily taken by assault.

SCHOOL BEAN CROP GOES TO RED CROSS.

[Local Correspondence.]

LEONARD, Oct. 10.—Children of Leonard school, near Somis, realized $3.78 for the Red Cross from season's crop of lima beans. The children plowed the school yard during spring. The seed beans were donated by parents of the pupils. Bert Clibert, a neighboring rancher, used his machinery for cultivating the crop, which was threshed by Frank Wadleigh, another ranchman, without charge, and the South-Pacific Milling Company at Ventura cleaned the beans free of charge for the pupils. The net yield of thirteen sacks, which were planted with the crop of W. E. Spear, a local rancher. This is said to be the largest contribution of any county school to Red Cross work. All the work of hoeing, harvesting, cutting, and piling was done by the pupils.

Another nonessential is fuel, and the rule not allowing its use is not as much of a hardship as it might seem to be. We can do without fudge.

The men in khaki are fighting for you and for me all along the line from Roulers to Verdun. What are you doing in the way of subscribing for the loan?

It is now claimed that the passion of the new tax law compels Federal officials to pay their own payments, just like other folks. It's constitutional. Of course.

A lady in a Grand-avenue apartment-house, being asked the other night what she thought of Kaiser, said she did not care much for him, that she had never taken any stock in those Mexicans.

There can be no better way to do our share of the great work now being carried on by our armies than by subscribing for the Fourth Liberty Loan. Don't let it be said that Los Angeles is a slacker.

The statement that a Polar bear skin has been sold for fifty dollars is one of the famous jokes of Dave Warfield when he was in vaudeville. He said a friend of his had just died, and one of the family wanted it to be a Polar bear.

Oscar A. Price, assistant to Postmaster-General McAdoo, tried to buy his newspaper, the Roanoke (Va.) Times, a Democratic sheet, but did not get a bidder. It requires a lot of crust to run a partisan Democratic paper these war times.

With Solicitor of the Treasury Davis out of the country and Ambassador to London, what is to become of the quarrel in the Democratic administration in Washington? Atty.-Gen. Gregory and the President on one side and Secretary Franklin K. Lane and Senator Phelan on the other on the California oil situation. Davis was inclined to side with Lane and Phelan and he was quietly shoved out of his job.

"GOT TO HAND IT TO THOSE GERMANS."

"Got to hand it to those Germans,"
Folks said, when the war began.
"Got to hand it to those Germans,"
So the earlier comment ran.
When, with battle-banners o'er 'em,
Sweeping everything before them,
Making conquests left and right,
"Got to hand it to those Germans,
They can fight!"

"Got to hand it to those Germans,"
Even when we knew them not.
And they'd sunk the Lusitania,
Still we passed the word about.
When the Deutschland crossed the ocean,
Wonder was our chief emotion.
Sportsmanlike we praised the feat.
"Got to hand it to those Germans, Can't be beat!"

"Got to hand it to those Germans,"
Often we were moved to say.
After we had joined the rumpus.
And were girding for the fray.
And when Pershing's men were ready,
Fresh and eager, strong and steady,
Then they yelled, "Go get 'em, Kid!"
"Got to hand it to those Germans,"
And they did!

"Got to hand it to those Germans,"
Hand 'em what? Yes hand 'em well!
Just a commutation ticket,
Without stop-off, one way—
It's the thing that's long before them,
And it's swiftly coming to them.
Hear the eagle screaming:
"Got to hand it to those Germans,
And we will!"

LOAN DRIVE STARTED AT BALLOON SCHOOL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ARMY BALLOON SCHOOL (Arcadia) Oct. 10.—The Balloon School has allotted itself $200,000 for the Fourth Liberty Bond issue. The campaign to reach that amount was begun today and it is expected that the total will be pledged before the end of the week. Committees have been appointed by each company where the men can subscribe, and in addition extra committees have been selected to take care of the detached service men. Several of the soldiers have already purchased bonds of the fourth issue. One soldier was the first to purchase in Monrovia, and the amounts attained by other near-by cities have been swelled by subscriptions of the soldiers.

The Balloon School is making preparations to entertain a royal Prince from Denmark. Prince Axel of the Danish royal family is at present touring the United States, and the post has been advised from Washington that the nation's guest will visit here about next October 20. The visitor will be shown what the United States troops have learned about aerial work within the past few months. All the fine art of balloon observation is to be displayed for the Prince's inspection.

The post remains free from infection from Spanish influenza, but no efforts are being spared to keep the epidemic at a distance. All men are required to take precautions and all cases of minor ailment are treated as if the regular disease until proved something else. While the rigorous quarantine has been lifted, enlisted men are not allowed to visit the large cities without reporting to the medical authorities upon their return.

WALNUTS MOVING.

Five Hundred Tons in Saticoy Warehouses—One Carload Brings $16,800.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, Oct. 10.—Receipts so far at the Saticoy walnut warehouse are 500 tons, while the shipments have been about half that amount. The banner car contained 600 bags of number ones, value about $16,800. Shippers tried the experiment of lining cars with building paper and some fear was expressed that the nuts might be damaged by sweating while in transit through warm regions. This has been allayed, however, by reports just received here, the walnuts giving the same cracking test as when they left, it was reported.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HELP PICK COTTON.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 10.—School children will be used to pick the cotton crop in the Arvin district near Bakersfield, according to Superintendent of Schools L. E. Chenoweth. Because of a shortage of labor the cotton crop is liable to failure unless pickers can be secured and the trustees of the school district are planning on declaring a vacation for several weeks while the crop is picked.

TWO FATALLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, Oct. 10.—As a result of reckless driving, Louis Jenkins, age 23, and Al Domingues of Filmore, were fatally injured in an automobile accident on the Santa Paula to Fillmore road late last night. Both were brought to the County Hospital here, where they died shortly before midnight. Jenkins owned a garage at Fillmore.

SELLS LA VERNE RANCH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LA VERNE, Oct. 10.—J. F. Cumberland, one of the pioneers of this community, has sold his fine ranch and hill land to L. A. Broadway of Pasadena. Mr. Cumberland acquired this property in 1885, and has converted it into one of the finest orchard properties in the vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Cumberland will move to Highland Park, where they have residence property.

ESTABLISH BUS LINE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HERMOSA BEACH, Oct. 10.—A bus line, operating between this city and San Pedro, has been established and will commence operating next Monday morning. Frank Grannis of Hermosa Beach will have charge of the line. Only shipyard employees, residing in Hermosa Beach will be able to secure transportation. Additional busses will be added to the line as the occasion demands.

WILL DO RED CROSS WORK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 10.—Kern county members of the California Cattlemen's Association will meet here on October 14 at the call of A. S. Goode, local representative, for the purpose of discussing important topics concerning the welfare of the organization. The hide and brand inspection measure which will soon be enforced by the Federal government will be one of the principal topics discussed while recent new regulations made by the United States Food Administration will also be taken up.

RANCHERS MAKE SORGHUM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 10.—What promises to become a thriving industry in this section is receiving its start here at present. It is the growth of sorghum and the manufacture of the syrup. With the shortage of sugar and the greater demand for syrups of all kinds several of the ranchers south of the city conceived the idea of going into the business. They set out a quantity of the sorghum cane and its success has been beyond expectations. A mill is now being installed here for the manufacture of the syrup.

NAVY HOSPITAL.

Government Accepts Proffer of La Vina Sanatorium for Tubercular Patients.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 11.—Pasadena now has a navy hospital for men of the navy who contract tuberculosis, part of the La Vina Sanatorium, in the foothills just outside the city, having been taken over by the Navy Department.

This was in acceptance of a proffer made to the government some time ago by the board of directors of La Vina, which is a quasi-public institution of a philanthropic nature, in which a large number of wealthy and influential Pasadenans are interested, and have given liberally of their time and means.

Ten navy men, all tubercular sufferers, have already arrived at the sanatorium. A few are from the Coast navy hospitals, but most of them are from the navy's own sanatorium for tuberculars in Colorado, of which La Vina Sanatorium will be used as an auxiliary for the duration of the war at least.

MAKE OPIUM RAID.

A sequel to the conviction in Judge Strang's justice court yesterday of an aged Chinese for having opium in his possession was a raid made by the Pasadena police at an early hour this morning of the premises at No. 624 South Fair Oaks avenue, in Pasadena's oriental quarter. A quantity of opium was confiscated and eight Chinese and five Japanese arrested. Jung Shu Poo, proprietor of the place, was fined $300 by Judge Strang this afternoon. The raid was instigated by agents of the State Board of Pharmacy, who aver that the South Fair Oaks oriental quarter has been a veritable clearing-house for opium traffic.

PASTOR'S SON DISAPPEARS.

Blakeley McLeod, the eighteen-year-old son of Rev. Malcolm McLeod, former pastor of the big Pasadena Presbyterian Church and now pastor of a large church on Fifth avenue, New York, has mysteriously disappeared, and all efforts of both the government agents and private detectives to find the young man have failed. He was a soldier and the last heard of him was when he telephoned his father in New York that his company was not to sail overseas from Camp Merritt, as he expected, but was transferred to Camp Upton, Long Island. He never reached Camp Upton. Family and friends believe that he met with foul play. Word of the strange disappearance was brought here today by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kayser, well-known residents of Pasadena, who saw the McLeods in New York.

TO CONDUCT HOSPITAL.

Miss Alma E. Wrigley, first secretary of the Pasadena chapter of the Red Cross, and one of the organizers of the chapter student work, now an army nurse, will return to Pasadena tomorrow from the Letterman Hospital, San Francisco, where she has been stationed, to take charge of the new hospital at the army balloon camp at Arcadia. She will bring a staff of nurses with her from San Francisco.

DR. SMITH RETURNING.

Dr. Merle Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church, the largest of that denomination in the city, will arrive home tomorrow from abroad, where for half a year he has been engaged in Y.M.C.A. war work in France and Italy. Methodists of the city will give him a home-coming reception at his church tomorrow night.

CLAREMONT HONOR CITY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 10.—The sale of Liberty Bonds here still continues daily, despite the fact that Claremont is well over the top, the $6000 pledged during the visit of the tank Democracy having exceeded the local quota of $76,000. On the opening day of the drive $56,000 was subscribed.

SHAW AT BAKERSFIELD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 10.—Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury and Philip D. Wilson, member of the State Board of Equalization, will speak here Monday night in opposition to the single tax and will explain how the passage of the bill will demoralise land values all over the State.

WILD DO RED CROSS WORK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 10.—James Traill, prominent Bakersfield man, who has one son in France and another who died in the trenches fighting for the United States, has received his passports and will leave within a few days for France where he will engage in Red Cross work.

GETS HIS COMMISSION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 10.—Claron W. Meldrum, grandson of Col. and Mrs. W. H. Wagar of this city, has received a lieutenant's commission. The young man graduated from a military academy in Alton, Ill. He went to an officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan. Later he was an instructor and now is commissioned. He has been assigned to the University of St. Louis as military instructor. He attended the local High School, and was only 19 in June last.

DOCTOR ENTERS SERVICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Oct. 10.—Another Whittier doctor is about to leave to take up medical work in Uncle Sam's army. Dr. W. E. Smith of this city has received word to report for duty at Camp Kearny soon. Dr. Smith came here some five years ago from Missouri, and has been engaged in the practice of his profession since. He is above the draft age, but goes as a volunteer, and will receive his commission as captain.

DINUBA MAN FINED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 10.—W. A. Kroehn of Dinuba, who was taken into custody last night for failing to doff his hat when the band played a national anthem, this afternoon paid a fine of $10 in the City Recorder's court and likewise as a part of his sentence bought $10 worth of Thrift Stamps.

HONOR LIEUT. ARGABRITE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, Oct. 10.—At the Armory Hall this evening, a public reception was held in honor of Lieut. Walter Argabrite, who is Ventura county's first fighter from France to return home. He was sent with other of Pershing's veterans to train recruits.

EMBARGO CUTS OUTPUT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Oct. 10.—The embargo placed on shipments of sardines to England will probably cut down the possible output of Southern California about two-thirds over last year, according to the estimate of Frank Van Camp of the Van Camp Sea Food Company. Canners were advised by the Food Administration today that the embargo will probably not be raised.

"Last year the bulk of our pack went to Europe," said Mr. Van Camp. "We were able to sell all the fish we could can even after the Monterey pack had been taken at lower prices. This year the conditions are reversed. On account of shortage of cargo space the Monterey canners, who get fish several months earlier in the season than we do here, have been supplying the domestic markets, leaving a poor prospect for the Southern California packers.

"There is still hope, however, of a stronger domestic demand than ever before, due to the fact that the government has taken 75 per cent. of the salmon pack for the army and navy. Unable to get salmon, the consumers turn to sardines, the only canned fish available to take its place.

"Tuna is practicaly off the market. The pack this year is not more than 30 per cent. of what it was last year. Last season 600,000 cases were packed. Of the pack this year about 40,000 cases of blue fin tuna caught in purse seines were packed. This is more bluefin than has ever been caught before, but it is only a small percentage of the pack."

ORDER MEN TO CAMP.

Local draft boards yesterday received a call for seventy-five general service men of Class 1 to entrain for Fort Rosecrans, San Diego, during the five days beginning October 21. The men to be called for this service, which will be heavy artillery, will be taken from among the men who registered June 5 and August 24, 1918. Seven mechanics will entrain soon for Spokane, Wash., to enter the Modern Auto School.

Local board members are waiting for the final numbers of the master list, which are supposed to reach here by today. The list will be used to check up on numbers already obtained. Physical examinations have gone ahead in the city and it is expected that by the time the filling in of the order numbers for registrants is completed, the men will be practically ready to obey the first call to service.

At present four branches of the service are accepting applications for induction. Applications for admission to officers training school of field artillery are being sent direct to Camp Taylor, near Louisville, Ky., where the central camp for that branch is located. Infantry applicants will be sent to Camp MacArthur, Waco, Tex., if accepted as student officers. Candidates for officers in the machine-gun section will go to Camp Hancock, near Atlanta, Ga., if accepted.

Applications for admission to the merchant marine are still being accepted though there are many applications ahead to be considered. In this service, appreatice seamen, coal passers, who have a chance to become engineers and cooks are more desired. In all these branches, though, there are more applicants than openings. The local office is at the Owl Drug Company store at Fifth and Broadway.

ALHAMBRA READY TO GO "OVER THE TOP."

SUBURBAN CITY PLANS MONSTER TANK DEMONSTRATION SATURDAY NIGHT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 10.—Alhambra will go "over the top" in the Liberty Loan campaign on Saturday evening, October 12.

The tank "Democracy," with Mr. Roy Stewart as pilot, will be greeted at he east city limits at 7:30 o'clock by the City Council, after which it will be escorted to the High School grounds by the largest procession ever staged in Alhambra.

The order of this procession will be as follows: Marshal E. A. Neiger, Arcadia Balloon School Band, 300 men from Balloon School; Alhambra Company Home Guards, together with two Los Angeles companies, tank "Democracy," Alhambra High School Cadets, Boy Scouts, Alhambra High School Auxiliary American Red Cross, Alhambra band, Elks' Club, Dos Robles Tennis Club, employees of Standard Felt Company.

The exercises at the tank will begin primptly at 8 o'clock. The master of ceremonies for the evening will be W. P. Graef, local manager of the Southern California Edison Company, who, with the co-operation of the Los Angeles Liberty Loan Committee, has succeded in securing Capt. W. S. Tayler, pilot of the British tank "Brittania" at the battle of Loos, who has thus far, by his own efforts sold a half-million dollars of the Fourth Liberty Loan in and about Los Angeles.

Clara Kimball Young, who has been enormously successful in the present campaign, will lend her efforts to the occasion.

There will also be on hand two men who have seen active service on the western front, and who will recite their experiences. The services of three prominent four-minute men have been secured to exhort the crowd of 10,000 which is expected to attend the affair, while half a dozen leather-lunged ballyhoo men will assist the committee in bringing up the hesitating ones to the counter.

BARMAIDS BARRED BY SAN DIEGO'S CHIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 10.—Barmaids will not be tolerated in San Diego even for the exigencies of war. When Chief of Police S. P. McMullen looked in the U. and I. Bar yesterday and saw Mrs. Tex Wilson, wife of the proprietor selling drinks, he investigated and found that she was holding down the job in the absence of her husband.

The Chief ordered the place closed at once and gave instructions to keep it closed until it could be run without the aid of women.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR POMONA COLLEGE MAN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 10.—The Pomona College chapel service yesterday took the form of a memorial for Edmund Sheldon Gerry, the first gift of the alumni of the college to the cause of democracy. Gerry, who was a private in Co. D, One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Infantry, was killed in action August 16, in France. He left Camp Kearny for overseas about four months ago, and was in France but a few weeks before making the supreme sacrifice on the battle front. He was a 1917 Pomona graduate, and the first from the college to fall in battle.

DAVIS OBSEQUIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Oct. 10.—The funeral of A. L. Davis, temporarily engaged at the Whittier State School, was held from White's undertaking parlors this afternoon, conducted by Rev. George B. Cliff. For the past twenty years he has been engaged in institutional work, twelve years of that time being engaged in Michigan. For the past three years he was assistant superintendent of the Preston school at Ione. He was in Whittier for a short time to take the place of a friend who was on a vacation. He leaves a wife. Following the services of Rev. Cliff today, the members of the Whittier Commandery and Blue Lodge, Masons, took charge of the further services. Interment was in Whittier Heights Mausoleum.

AFTER THE WAR, TAXATION

BY CHAPIN HALL.

As the war goes on and as our obligations pile up the question and the principles of taxation are more and more occupying the attention of economists, bankers and business men, and in the distribution of the burden will be found some of the gravest problems that have ever confronted the people of this country.

It may be accepted as self-evident that so soon as a tax becomes so burdensome as to jeopardise the source from whence it comes, it loses its ability as a revenue producer and becomes confiscatory, and effectually slows down that part of the commercial or industrial field which gave it birth.

A wide diffusion of taxation is desirable. The more individuals who are called upon to aid in bearing the Federal burden the closer the individual will watch governmental affairs and the sooner will he curb governmental extravagance.

The cumulative result of individual saving derives its momentum, very largely, not from the excessively rich, but the citizen in what we call "ordinary circumstances," with moderate income.

It has been estimated that of our national income of, say, $40,000,000,000 annually, not more than $2,000,000,000 goes to those whose incomes are $15,000 per year or more, yet the levy against the $2,000,000,000 is likely to be far greater in proportion than that against the $38,000,000,000.

Of course, the present condition is an emergency, and all bow to the necessity of the moment and pay what is required to make certain the achievement of the end for which we fight; but afterwards there must be some system of taxation evolved which will not too seriously curb business expansion and which will give everyone an opportunity to bear his share of the load.

This theme was given a good deal of attention before the bankers' convention in session recently in Chicago. The danger was recognized and the need for careful guidance through the shoals and the rocks discussed. Otto H. Kuhn of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, reflected the sentiments of many of those in attendance when he said to the delegates:

"We must stand together, counsel with each other and work together. We must give voice to our convictions. We must become a militant phalanx in the cause of that which we profoundly believe to be right and wise and just, and making for the greatness of America and the happiness and welfare of her people.

"The problems of the immediate future loom large before us. That nation which will best know how to combine the dictates of social justice with incentive and protection to individual effort will secure the prize of world leadership no less than of opportunity, well-being and contentment for the masses of its own people."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Peace and war shares again pursued widely-divergent courses in today's stock market, gains in the first-named division far outstripping irregular losses elsewhere.

Trading assumed wider and larger proportions, although the greater part of the day's transactions concentrated in equipments, shippings, oils, utilities and allied issues.

Next to United States Steel, which resisted pressure better than other shares of the same class, closing at a gain of 1 1-8 points, the stocks most in demand were Marine pfd. at a 5-point advance, Texas Company, which rose 6½ points, and Mexican Petroleum, in which the extreme gain was slightly in excess of 10 points.

Striking features in the utility group included People's Gas, American Telephone and Western Union, the "wire" companies deriving further strength from their guaranteed status under Federal control.

Rails were an uncertain quantity most of the day by reason of Canadian Pacific's irregularity, but Union Pacific and Reading strengthened on the better demand for the last hour. Atchison common and preferred also contributing.

Pools resumed bullish operations in the motors and tobaccos at moderate advances for the most part, and such inactive specialties as United States Realty, Sears-Roebuck, National Biscuit and General Electric registered extreme gains of 2 to 6 points. Sales amounted to 625,000 shares.

Exchange on Paris yielded slightly, rates to Holland also reacting. The Bank of England report showed another large accession to its gold holdings and a strengthening of liability reserves.

Bonds of all descriptions, including Liberty issues and internationals, were appreciably higher on more extensive trading. Total sales, par value, aggregated $10,650,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

On the "curb" Russian 5½'s and 6½'s advanced 5 to 7 points, respectively, on heavy buying in the last half-hour.

Liberty Bond closing prices: 3½'s, 99.98; first convertible 4's, 97.90; second 4's, 97.00; first convertible 4¼'s, 98.50; second convertible 4¼'s, 96.98; third 4¼'s, 97.20.

LIVERPOOL SELLING ON CALL WEAKENS COTTON

THE BREAK EXTENDS TO THIRTY-EIGHT OR FORTY POINTS, THEN STEADIES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—After a steady start, the cotton market weakened today on increased selling to Liverpool and the South. Weather and crop news showed no change of importance. The break extended during the middle of the morning to about 38@40 points from last night's closing figures, at this level, however, the market rallied steadily on trade buying, and prices rallied later on covering for over the supposedly two-day government holiday. Trading was comparatively quiet around mid-day. The volume of business was smaller during the early afternoon, but the tone was steady on covering.

LIBERTY LOAN NOTES.

Among the many events that will not happen if the quarantine order is insisted upon will be the mass meeting of workers, called for the Shrine Auditorium Sunday afternoon. Ten thousand committeemen and women were expected.

Precinct sales are increasing and several committees are about ready to join the honor roll, which is made up of those which have raised $25,000 or more.

The Czecho-Slovak Committee has sold $2100 worth of bonds and the Croatian-American Committee announce additional subscriptions of $6000 from Jerry Matetich and $5000 from George Arnerich and employees of the Gustafson Grain.

Honor flags have been claimed by East San Bernardino county and by thirty-eight cities and towns in Southern California.

A woman living in Boyle Heights received her allotment from the government yesterday, $50 for each son in the service and, although her income is only $10 a month, she invested the whole $150 in Liberty Bonds.

Trunk "Liberty" opens a three-day engagement at San Diego Saturday evening. The three tanks, Victory, Liberty and Democracy had sold, up to yesterday, $2,405,000 worth of Fourth Liberty Bonds.

The Foreign Nationalities organization, through Chairman A. E. Peat, announced for yesterday a total of $113,500 subscribed through the Japanese Committee, with a total of 1419 subscriptions. The Spanish-American Committee, under the leadership of Chairman Mayo, announced subscriptions aggregating $20,000.

FRAUD IS CHARGED.

Edward S. Newton, who is said to operate a garage in Pomona, appeared before Justice Palmer yesterday morning on charges of obtaining goods under false pretenses. Newton is alleged to have secured a complete motor generator from the Western Rubber Sales Company valued at $200, representing a credit account which the State claims to be fictitious. Owing to the fact that Newton has recently become a father, Justice Palmer bound him over to the Superior Court, but released him on his own recognizance.

TRAGEDY BAFFLES POLICE.

Man Shot in Auto During Quarrel with His Wife Over Gun.

The Coroner's inquest today over the body of D. H. Marony, retired Wilshire district capitalist, who was killed during a brief struggle with Mrs. Marony for the possession of a gun, as they were speeding in an automobile toward their home early yesterday morning, will probably mark the turning point in the case against the man's young wife, now held by the police on the charge of suspicion of murder.

That her story of the death grapple for the weapon, which she claims her husband drew in an attempt to kill her, as it is expected to be related by the young woman before Coroner Hartwell and the jury, and that the verdict of the inquest may be the first steps toward her liberation within the next forty-eight hours, was the confident expectation of W. Joseph Ford, Mrs. Marony's attorney, yesterday.

While the detectives on the case refused to give out what new evidence they have been able to discover for or against the prisoner, it was learned yesterday that a number of witnesses have been found who will be able to testify hearing and seeing numerous threats against Mrs. Marony's life made by her husband. Another link of evidence tending to bear out Mrs. Marony's story of how the middle-aged capitalist attempted to kill her and was himself fatally wounded when she succeeded in turning the muzzle of the gun away from her, was found in the statement of O. A. Brison of No. 285 South Gramercy place, a neighbor of the Maronys, made to Detectives Houston and Phillips, in which the man told the officers he saw Marony the day before the tragedy, chasing Mrs. Marony around the house, with the automatic gun in his hands.

Mrs. Marony has been removed from the City Jail to the County Jail.

When arrested by Detectives Houston and Phillips early yesterday morning Mrs. Marony sobbed out the story of the tragedy.

"For several weeks my husband had been drinking and staying away at night, in spite of my pleadings for him to 'brace up,'" she said from her cell at the City Jail yesterday. "The night before the shooting he again made preparations to go out and I begged him not to go. Early in the day, in the hope of preventing him from getting too intoxicated, or wrecking something on the way in or out, I drove the car for him to Vernon, where he obtained a drink.

"As he went out last night I tried to stop him, but he threw me aside, and said no woman could ever tell him what to do. Then I decided to try to put a stop to his nightly trips."

Mrs. Marony again related how she took the automobile and drove up to the Delta Building, on Spring between Fourth and Fifth, and there waited for her husband. She induced him to enter the car, and started for home, she said. "All the way down he quarreled, and finally, while driving at about fifty miles an hour, near West Sixth and Rampart, he drew the gun from his right-hand pocket and cried, 'Now I'll kill you.' I threw my hand out, and the gun exploded. The bullet struck him and he sank, without a word, in his seat."

It was then that Mrs. Marony's quick action probably prevented the tragedy from claiming two instead of one life. As the man, mortally wounded, crumpled up in his seat, the car swerved and headed for the curb. Reaching over her husband's body, Mrs. Marony took hold of the steering wheel and threw her feet toward the pedals. Then, a dying man alongside of her, she drove the car to the house, a distance of nearly two miles, she told the police.

Before the marriage, Mrs. Marony was Miss Kathryn Marie Fox of Butte, Mont. She is 28 and the dead man was 48 years old. They had been living in Los Angeles for more than a year, having met and married in Butte. Following the wedding the couple went to Honolulu, where they were well known.

MARIE EDWARDS TO WED.

Marie Edwards, sensational figure in slaying of the late State Senator Henry Lyon, yesterday made what she promises to be her last appearance in the police courts. She was called in Police Judge Chesebro's court on a familiar charge and convicted.

Attorney Guy Eddie, who represented her, then asked the court for a suspended sentence, and announced that if turned free the young woman would at once get married to a young man who was ready to take her for his wife.

"I'll ask Your Honor to perform the ceremony," the attorney declared while a ripple of excitement passed through the crowded courtroom.

The young woman, who up to this time had shown a lively interest in the proceedings, looked straight ahead. The small group of friends who accompanied her to the courtroom leaned forward eagerly.

"Case continued until 3 o'clock tomorrow for sentence," Judge Chesebro called out.

The man who is willing to marry Marie, and whose name was not disclosed, will be in the courtroom today to carry out his side of the promise, the court was told.

COMMANDEER OLD BALLOTS

More than twenty tons of ballots, mostly the remnants of the 1914 Presidential election, were commandeered by the government here yesterday. Ballots are required under the law to be destroyed one year after each election, but because paper is scarce Registrar of Voters Lyons believed use could be found for the paper, so held them.

Yesterday the Board of Supervisors received a communication from F. J. Carlisle of the War Industries Board, pulp and paper section, which settled the fate of the ballots. He wrote:

"It has come to my attention that the Registrar of Voters for Los Angeles county has in his possession twenty tons of waste paper in the form of old ballots, which, under the law, he expects to burn.

"In a telegram received from the War Industries Board they state that the paper shortage is growing more serious each day, and it is necessary to save every kind of waste that possibly can be reclaimed. The burning of this waste paper, which is so much needed as a war necessity at this time, would be almost a crime.

"Therefore, as the representative of the War Industries Board, I hereby commandeer all such waste paper and command you to turn all such paper in your possession over to me."

The Supervisors will consider the communication today, probably referring it to the County Counsel for an opinion.

TO MEET OBLIGATIONS.

Sierra Madre Club Raises Funds; Threat by Hearst Man Told.

Members of the Sierra Madre Club, at a meeting last night, subscribed over $5000 to meet the current obligations of the club, and gave enough in cash and checks to pay off the claim of $849.99 of the California Provision Company, which levied an attachment on the club.

Wilbert Morgrage, a member of the board of directors, said, in outlining to the members the circumstances of the attachment:

"All the creditors of the club were willing to help us in every way with the exception of the California Provision Company, of which Benjamin W. Huisman is president." After telling of the barring of the Hearst publications by the club on June 6, 1918, Mr. Morgrage told of the club's entertaining on September 25, last, Dr. James A. B. Scherer, president of Throop College. Mr. Morgrage continued:

"A member of the club, who is also an employee of the Examiner, in a conversation with the president of the club, objected to the entertainment of Dr. Scherer by the club, and particularly to the remarks of Dr. Scherer relative to Mr. Hearst and his publications, calling attention to the fact that some creditor of the club might close its doors by suit or an attachment, and adding: 'How easy it would be for the Examiner to buy a bill against the club, sue and attach the club and put a padlock on its doors.' This conversation was on or about September 27, and on October 3 this attachment suit was brought.

"The Sierra Madre Club has eighty-nine men in service and six men who are giving their services to the government for $1 a year. I am sure the club is not going to be driven out of business, and when these men come home find their club closed."

The club has outstanding bills and notes of $30,000 and bills due of $29,000. A representative of the creditors present said that they were willing to assist the club in every way. The plan worked out by the members last night, it was stated, will place the organization on a firm financial foundation and handle the financial exigency caused by war conditions.

SAYS CONSTANTINOPLE IS WAR'S CHIEF GAGE.

IF GERMANY KEEPS CITY IT WILL HAVE WON FIGHT, SAYS MONTAVILLE FLOWERS.

"If the war ends with Constantinople in possession of Germany or of one of her allies, Germany may restore all of Belgium and France, fling her colonies to Great Britain, and still be winner of the war."

This was the keynote of a stirring address delivered by Montaville Flowers, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, before 100 members of the Optimists' Club at No. 741 South Broadway at noon yesterday. Mr. Flowers declared that Constantinople is the most strategic spot on earth; that it has been so for 3000 years and will be so until the end of time.

The speaker traced the development of the importance of the sea and sea questions as causes of the present conflict.

"The sea," he said, "is the great bone of contention and will increasingly become so as commerce increases in extent and speed. The United States entered the war to protect the rights of all nations to the free use of the seas. Every nation has a right to access to the sea and every nation will fight to get to the sea. It is just as easy to keep a man in his 4-year-old pants as to prevent a growing nation from bursting out into the sea. Constantinople is the outlet to more territory, commerce, wealth and people than any other city in the world. That wonderful port drains more square miles of fertile land than is comprised in all the United States. If all of the commerce of these States flowed through New York City, it would not equal the commerce that will flow past Constantinople when the areas of the Black and Caspian seas are developed to the extent that this country is now developed."

Following Mr. Flowers, an address was made by Lieut. E. F. Reeves, who was wounded while with the British army on the west front. Lieut. Reeves predicted that the war would last four years longer, declaring that it would take that long to go the 400 miles yet to be traversed before reaching Berlin. "And I appeal to you, as American citizens," he said, "to cut your casualty list down to the minimum by sending your boys the stuff to fight with—food, ammunition, aircraft and guns."

The last speaker on the programme was Father C. Norton Raley, chaplain of the Submarine Base at the harbor, who told many things of interest concerning the divers.

Held Following Auto Slaying.

Mrs. Daniel H. Morony,
Whose husband was shot and killed during a quarrel with her in a speeding machine.

DRUG STORE IS HELD UP.

A pair of highwaymen last night held up the Angeles Mesa drug store, at No. 2800 West Fifty-fourth street.

J. F. Zika, owner of the store, Elmer Wadewitz, Verne Carmichael and William Potts were surprised by the sudden entrance of the two highwaymen, who wore masks over part of their faces.

Mr. Zika was working on his books and paid little attention, thinking the order of "hands up," part of a joke, until the gun was pressed against his side.

The intruders got $37 from the cash register and $4.50 from Mr. Wadewitz. They jumped into an auto and made their escape.

JUDGE SCORES MAN'S SUIT AGAINST MOTHER.

ACTION TO RECOVER FURNITURE MEETS WITH COURT'S DISPLEASURE.

"This case has no standing in law, equity or morals; it should never have been brought in any court of justice," Judge Valentine declared at the conclusion yesterday of the trial of the suit brought by Henry W. Brechtel and his wife, L. Pearl Brechtel, against Mrs. Pauline Brechtel, the former's mother, for the recovery of furniture he claimed, or $968, the value thereof.

The evidence disclosed that Mr. Brechtel bought some furniture and put it in his mother's house.

Mrs. Brechtel then gave her son money to take his wife East, and while he was in the East she sent him $348 at his request, it is said. She claimed she sent it as payment on the furniture. He declared she simply helped him out. Then the mother sent her son money to return, the testimony showed, and on their return they demanded the furniture and hauled part of it away.

The mother told the court while she paid for the furniture, she told her son and daughter-in-law to take it, as she wanted to get rid of them and their insistent demand. The court held it was her furniture, and sharply criticised the unfilial conduct of the son.

FOUR YEARS THIS TIME.

Henry R. Moore, charged with offenses against minors at Long Beach, and who has already served one year in San Quentin, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary by Judge McCormick yesterday under the new law. Moore was returned to the courts here because of the indeterminate sentence and received four years additional.

GERMAN LODGE CHANGES NAME.

"Germania," Local Body of Masons, Now to be Known as "Acacia."

Germania Lodge of Masons of Los Angeles has voted to change its name to Acacia Lodge and to completely abandon the German language for English in conducting its ritual and general meetings. Announcement of the change was made yesterday at the meeting of the California Grand Lodge, and confirmed here last night by members of the lodge.

Germania Lodge, which is one of the city's twenty-seven Masonic lodges, was established in 1913. The present membership is more than 150 and the officers now are R. G. Kiesling, Master, and Oscar A. Stark, secretary. Mr. Kiesling is now in San Francisco where it is expected that he will secure the approval of the Grand Lodge to the change of name and the dropping of the German language.

FRENCH CAFE MAN DIES.

Pioneer in Local Colony Succumbs Following Surgical Operation for Appendicitis.

George Lacour, for twenty-six years in business on Aliso street, where he was proprietor of the Hotel de Leon d'Or, now the Hotel de Paris, died Saturday night at the French hospital following an operation for appendicitis.

Funeral services, in charge of Godeau-Martinoni, will be held at the Plaza Church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery. He leaves a son, Fred Lacour, secretary of the California French Baking Company, who lives at No. 1165 West Thirty-sixth street, and a stepson, Frank Puisseguar, No. 1251 West First street.

Mr. Lacour came here from France in 1873. He was 64 years old. Ten years ago he retired from business, and recently had been living on his ranch at La Crescenta. He was a Mason, an Elk, a member of the Druids, the Foresters of America and the Legion of Francais.

SAYS HUSBAND LAZY.

Wife of Baseball Player Tells Court of Her Efforts to Make Spouse Go to Work.

"I would rather die than work like that," John B. (Honolulu Johnnie) Williams, baseball pitcher, is alleged to have told his wife, Mrs. Aldonza Williams, after she had secured him employment out of baseball season. In divorce proceedings yesterday, she told Judge Valentine that she found positions for him three times. He worked three days at one job, four days at the second and three days at the third, refusing to go after his pay.

It was testified that he joined his sister in San Francisco and wrote Mrs. Williams that he did not intend to return to her. Mr. Williams did not contest the divorce suit. The decree was granted Mrs. Williams, who is the daughter of Bert E. Rico, Deputy Sheriff.

FOX IN JAIL AGAIN.

Trip East Contemplated by Man Accused of Theft Fails to Please Bondsman.

George A. Fox, club man and rancher, was committed to the County Jail yesterday morning following a controversy between Fox and his bondsman, Webster Brain. It is said that Fox was contemplating a trip to eastern cities.

The Fox case has been in and out of the local courts for the last ten months. He is charged with having embezzled approximately $70,000 from Anna G. Walters, when he was her financial manager. It is also charged by Mrs. Walters that Fox made love to her, and used this as a means of securing her property.

HELD TO ANSWER.

Woman Accused of Complicity in Theft of Narcotics is Bound to Superior Court.

Charged with having been an accessory to Juber Baida, when he entered the drug store of William Underwood, No. 5076 Sunset boulevard, on October 4, when over $100 in narcotics was taken, Mrs. Frances Martin, 23 years old, was bound over to the Superior Court yesterday, at her preliminary hearing by Justice Hinshaw. Bonds were set at $1500. During the hearing it was shown that Mrs. Martin was an habitual drug-user and that at the time of the burglary she was under the influence of morphine. Baida is also a drug-user, it is said. He is charged with Ralph Martin of having burglarized the store of Reed & Hammond, No. 1053 South Main street, when several valuable rugs were taken. It is alleged by the prosecution that these rugs were sold to secure drugs, as Martin, the husband of the accused woman, is also a drug addict. His hearing will be held this morning before Justice Hinshaw.

HOLD TWO AS BANDITS.

Youths Arrested After Battle with Officers Near El Monte Must Face Trial.

Arthur and Frank Hora, alleged auto bandits, who are credited with over a dozen robberies in this and Riverside counties, were given a preliminary hearing before Justice Palmer yesterday afternoon. They were arraigned on the charge of holding up Harden Hart and Robert Simmons on the Inglewood and Venice road, September 1, when but a small amount of money was secured. Justice Palmer held the youths to answer in the Superior Court under bonds of $3000 in default of which they were committed to the County Jail.

The Hora brothers were arrested two miles east of El Monte, September 22, by Deputy Sheriffs Cleveland and Modis, after a gun battle during which Frank Hora, father of the boys, was killed, and Deputy Sheriff Cleveland was also wounded.
